WIND-DRIVEN RAIN DRENCHES MARIN

Southern Sonoma Also Feels Storm's Bite; San Rafael Gets Over Two Inches Of Rain

Rain driven by high winds drenched Marin and Southern Sonoma today as a blustery winter storm spread south through the state

Continued heavy rain was predicted through tonight with intermittent showers tomorrow.

Small craft warnings were flown along the coast, and wind gusts up to 100 miles per hour were recorded on Mount Tamalpais.

As usual, Marin County received the heaviest soaking in the Bay Area. At noon today 2.03 inch of rain had been recorded for the previous 24 hours in San Rafael.

Despite the heavy winds and rain, however, only minor damage was reported in the county.

About 100 homes in the Bothin Road area of Fairfax were without electricity between 10 and 11 a.m. today, according to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. but no other areas were reported affected. A number of individual homes reported electrical lines down, however.

In San Rafael, Public Works Director Norris Rawls said that minor flooding occurred last night on Villa Avenue because construction work on Highway 101 had plugged up a storm drain.

Early morning winds also caused trees and branches to fall throughout the county.

Rainfall recorded in varivus areas of Marin and Southern Sonoma for the 24-hour period to 8 a.m. today included: Bolinas .46 of an inch, Tamalpais Valley .66, Mill Valley .70, Tiburon .69, Sausalito 1.10, Woodacre 2.04, San Anselmo 2.12, Ross 2.24, Terra Linda .9, Novato .85 and Petaluma .37.

Nixon Seeks Demo For U.N. Position

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon apparently is determined to appoint a big-name Democrat as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations and a source in the Nixon camp indicated today the job would go to Sargent Shriver.

Shriver, currently ambassador to France, flew here hurriedly and conferred with Nixon for more than two hours Sunday. Yesterday Shriver then went to Washington where he met with his brother-in-law, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Then he returned to New York where he boarded an Air France plane back to Paris. At Kennedy Airport, he delayed the flight for several minutes while he made telephone calls to other members of the Kennedy family. Back in Paris, he declined any comment, saying any news must come from Nixon.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced last week that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had declined a firm offer from Nixon for the U.N. post.

Recent tradition has been for envoys to the United Nations to represent the same political faith as the president. However, former President Harry S. Truman, a Democrat, chose a prominant Vermont Republican, Sen. Warren Austin, to be U.N. ambassador.

Nixon, meanwhile, joked last night that he may be getting the Hong Kong flu but was described as only "sneezing a little" and fit for a national television-radio appearance at 7 p.m. PST tomorrow on most networks, in Washington to announce his cabinet.

Nixon said that his decision to announce all 12 cabinet choices at once was "something that's unprecedented, or at least unprecedented in recent times."

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, after conferring with Nixon, agreed to remain on the job in the next administration and told reporters he thinks the President-elect will curb inflation.

Yesterday afternoon, the President-elect announced word of two additional appointments to

Talks Further Stalled By Cong Accusations

PARIS (UPI)—The Viet Cong today accused the United States of committing worse crimes than Nazi Germany. Diplomats said the charge helped kill chances for an immediate start to delayed Vietnam War talks.

Duong Dinh Thao, deputy leader of the Viet Cong delegation to the Paris negotiations, told a news conference American forces in Vietnam are committing "worse crimes than the Hitlerite fascists." He also demanded the United States ignore its Saigon ally and settle the war directly with the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

Diplomats said North Vietnam and the United States are expected to reach a compromise on Viet Cong-Saigon difficulties and get the negotiations under way next week. They said any lingering hopes for opening the talks this week, already a month overdue in starting, died in the Thao blast.

"The Americans must solve the South Vietnamese problem with the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong's political arm) in order to find a correct political solution in accordance with the interest of the

Clifford Sees Paris As Viet Troop Key

Defense Boss Does Not See Any Withdrawals Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today he hopes that enough progress can be made in the Paris peace talks during the next 40 days that the United States and North Vietnam could agree to a mutual withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam.

The defense chief said he believes the opportunity exists in Paris for such an agreement and "I would like to see in the next 40 days the start of the return of American troops from South Vietnam."

NEWS CONFERENCE

Clifford said in response to close questioning at a news conference, however, he did not mean to imply that troops are indeed about to be withdrawn.

He said this will depend on how the Paris negotiations proceed.

At the White House, Press Secretary George Christian said he had not seen what Clifford had said and was unprepared to comment on it.

POSSIBLE PLAN

A reporter had asked Christian whether it was President Johnson's goal to achieve in Paris an agreement for a mutual withdrawal of troops before he leaves office Jan. 20.

At the same time, Clifford said it is possible the North Vietnamese plan to proceed with a winter military offensive in South Vietnam, although "it is too early to tell."

Clifford said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is preparing for such an offensive in case the North Vietnamese "choose to go this route."

Clifford also said it is also likely the Pentagon will have to request supplemental funds for its fiscal 1969 budget of $72 billion.

His disclosure of possible need for additional defense money came as he reported that the Pentagon has now met congressionally required spending cuts of $3 billion for this budget year.

Clifford said the cuts were shared this way by the services: Army $900 million, Navy $992 million, Air Force $928 million, and the various Defense agencies $180 million.

Clifford would not say how these spending cuts leave the 1969 spending total but he spoke of budget pressures which have arisen.

The defense chief also said:

He hopes the United States and the Soviet Union can get started soon on talks at any level toward the possible limitation and ultimate reduction of strategic weapons.

NO OBJECTION

He did not feel the incoming administration of President-elect Richard M. Nixon would object if President Johnson went ahead with broad policy talks on strategic arms reductions with Russia.

The North Vietnamese use Cambodia as a route of infiltrating troops into South Vietnam but there are no plans to take any military action against Cambodia.

NO MERIT

There is "no merit" to a Soviet charge that the movement of U.S. ships into the Black Sea is provocative. Clifford said U.S. ships have operated in that area before and that the cruise this week by two American destroyers this week was a routine voyage.

Clifford made it plain that the Paris peace negotiations hold the key to the resolution of sev-

Familiar Pattern Continues At State

SONOMA STATE

Rain Hits Boycott Picketing

Heavy rains today drove away pickets who yesterday urged Sonoma State College students to boycott classes in support of strike efforts at San rancisco State College.

A dozen students picketed yesterday at Stevenson Hall and the main classroom building, charging "police state tactics" and "racism" were being practiced at San Francisco State. Attendance was reported normal at Sonoma State.

A day-long convocation is still scheduled tomorrow to discuss campus disruptions in San Francisco and how they apply to Sonoma State. President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. has made class attendance optional tomorrow.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. with a keynote speaker, who has yet to be selected. Workshops on the black studies program, the image of the college and campus relations will then be held.

A joint statement urging nonviolence at the meeting was issued yesterday by Dr. Nichols; Terry Brennan, Associated Students' president; Joseph H. Brumbaugh, Academic Senate chairman, and James R. Schoenthal, staff council chairman.

"We urge that each student, faculty member and staff member think through his own position and his own options. Each of us must avoid actions and words which will discredit the position he wishes to support. Only in this way can we help Sonoma State College to continue to be a place where people can respect one another, care about one another and learn from one another," the statement said.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rainswept San Francisco State College had two minor wastebasket fires today after yesterday's disorder in which a crowd of 1,000 smashed windows with rocks and was dispersed by mounted police.

The demonstration followed a pattern that has become familiar during the five-week student strike. (See picture, page 6.)

It began with a noon rally. After a series of speeches, the demonstrators began chanting "On Strike! Shut it Down!" as they marched—in a steady drizzle—on the Business and Social Science and the Administration buildings. Most business students have continued their classes.

POLICE ON FOOT

About 200 policemen on foot forced the demonstrators off the 18,000-student campus. As the crowd reached 19th and Holloway avenues, just off campus, 18 policemen on horses led other officers in clearing the streets for three blocks. This was the first time the department's mounted unit was used.

Officers were showered with rocks.

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president, later told a news conference: "I think I'm on the right track. I'm confident that what I'm doing is right."

Yesterday was the seventh day since classes resumed under an emergency decree by Hayakawa, a noted semanticist with no previous administrative experience.

STUDENT DEMANDS

Strikers, led by the Black Students Union, the Third World Liberation Front and the Students for a Democratic Society, have rejected concessions made by Hayakawa, who succeeded Robert R. Smith Nov. 26.

Hayakawa announced formation of a black studies department with 11 Negro professors, but the strikers want an ethnic studies school with 50 profes-

Campus Convocation To Explore Crisis

An all-day "campuswide convocation" at the College of Marin was called for Thursday today by the college's values committee.

No classes will be canceled, according to flyers distributed on campus today by the committee, which includes representatives of the student body, faculty and administration.

Its purpose is to seek a "nonviolent alternative to the actions we have witnessed elsewhere," the flyers stated in reference to the strike at San Francisco State College.

The location on campus of the convocation, to run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., will be announced.

The flyers said subjects to be discussed at the convocation include the Black Students Union's push for autonomous black studies, faculty evaluation by students, reform of the curriculum and the future of both College of Marin campuses.

A spokesman for the college administration said that it has urged the values committee to take the time to plan the convocation carefully for early spring, but that the committee felt it had to be held "right now."

Campus Consultant Post For Sterling

STANFORD (AP) — Retired Stanford University President Wallace Sterling will become a special consultant to the management consulting firm of Cresap, McCormick and Paget on Jan. 1.

The San Francisco firm said yesterday Sterling would be an advisor on "long-range program planning studies for colleges and universities, as well as public and private schools and school systems."

Dismissal Aids Powell's Seating

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With the House's case against him dismissed by a federal grand jury, Adam Clayton Powell stands a good chance of taking his seat in the next Congress with only minor opposition.

A three sentence Justice Department announcement late yesterday said the grand jury investigation of Powell's alleged mishandling of $42,000 in congressional funds had ended without an indictment when it was "concluded that available evidence did not warrant prosecution."

"The Department of Justice did not recommend an indictment," the statement said, "and none was returned."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal warrant was issued today charging Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver with unlawful flight from California.

An FBI affidavit asking the warrant said Cleaver's wife Kathleen flew to New York Sunday.

ARRIVES TOMORROW

Lonely Female Swan To Get A Companion

"If you want to ship a swan into the United States, don't do it."

John H. Shiner of 120 Fernwood Drive, Peacock Gap, gave this advice while discussing his efforts, started last summer, to bring a wild male mute swan from England to San Lagoon in Peacock Gap.

The swan, hopefully to arrive tomorrow, will provide needed companionship to a female mute living in the lagoon, according to Shiner, president of the Peacock Gap Homeowners Association.

Originally a native of Northern Europe, the mute swan is white and has a prominent black knob on its beek. The average adult male weighs about 25 pounds (five more than the average female), Shiner said. Adults average 28-32 inches in height, he added.

Shiner said the U.S. Customs Department and its regulations pose the biggest hurdles to importing swans.

"The customs people said all wild fowl shipped here must undergo a quarantine confinement (three weeks) because the birds might bring pests or diseases into the country. Yet, wild fowl cross the Canadian and Mexican borders, for instance, without a customs check or quarantine," Shiner commented.

Shiner said the swan is now being quarantined in New York and is expected to be released tomorrow for shipment to San Francisco International Airport if a government veterinarian declares it healthy. So far, he continued, a friend in New York reports that the fowl has been healthy.

Moreover, Shiner must pay at least a dollar a day for food.

The Peacock Gap homeowners will pay about $500 to get the swan to San Lagoon, Shiner said.

This estimate includes shipping, feeding, telephone calls, telegrams and letters arranging the bird's entry into the U.S.

Shiner said the problems with government officials began when a U.S. Department of Agriculture shipping permit was granted Sept. 16 for a proposed arrival Oct. 1-15 at San Francisco.

The permit had to be extended, he said, because of a shipping "mixup" in London, the fact that there was only one nonstop air freight flight a week between London and San Francisco and the failure of government officials to inform him that the swan had to be quaran-

Senators Told Of Ruined Credit; Official Calls It 'Isolated' Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A television newsman told the opening session of a Senate investigation today his credit rating was ruined after a mistaken report that his car had been repossessed.

He said Ford Motor Credit Co., blamed for initiating the report, even notified credit rating bureaus the 1964 report was false, "but the credit bureaus failed to comply with the firm's instructions."

"As the result of a long feud with credit bureaus, it is presently impossible for me to obtain a credit report at all," said Leon B. Sanders of Shreveport, La., in testimony prepared for a subcommittee investigating credit reporting firms.

But John L. Spafford of Houston, Tex., representing a national association of credit bureaus, asked the subcommittee "to keep the few, isolated complaints against credit bureaus in proper focus."

"It is extremely important to consider such complaints in relation to the overwhelming number of consumers whose credit is consistently approved," said Spafford in prepared testimony.

Subcommittee investigators said Sanders was selected from hundreds who had complained to Sen. Philip A. Hart about credit bureaus, whose reports play a major role in determining who receives charge accounts and loans.

Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, said earlier the panel, which ends its hearing tomorrow, "will be concerned with what competitive safeguards are operating on an industry that has such an impact on the consumer's ability to buy."

Sanders, news editor for a television station, said the bureaus should be subject to federal controls reflecting "their power over people's lives."

Nadar Fears Crash Peril Of Minicars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Auto safety critic Ralph Nader says the government must take immediate action to include minicars in federal safety regulations or face the threat of cars with the "collapse capability" of a Japanese lantern.

Nader said yesterday that Japanese mandfacturers plan to flood the American market with minicars weighing under 1,000 pounds.

The National Highway Safety Bureau originally exempted cars under 1,000 pounds from the government safety regulations. But later it issued a notice of proposed rule-making to apply the standards to minicars.

In a letter to safety bureau chief William Haddon, Nader claimed there was no indication the government would issue the final standards in time to stop a flood of minicars on the American market.

The leader of the minicar import surge is Japan's Fuji heavy industries, makers of the Sabaru 360, Nader said. So far, 5,500 Subarus have been sold in the United States, and the company expects to sell 3,000 a month, Nader said.

He said Honda, Suzuke and several other Japanese companies would also export large numbers of their minicars.

"These minicars have the collapse capability that is reminiscent of a Japanese lantern in a crash," said Nader.

U.S. War Toll In Vietnam Climbs Past 30,000 Mark

SAIGON (UPI)—The number of Americans killed in Vietnam has passed 30,000, U.S. military sources said today. Nearly half of them have died this year.

Official reports showed Vietnam fighting since Jan. 1, 1961, had killed 29,865 Americans through Nov. 30. But the U.S. headquarters sources said the number has now passed the 30,000 mark.

The disclosure came as the U.S. command reported Communist shellings against nine military camps and villages on three sides of Saigon and Cambodian border fighting which killed 14 American soldiers.

The Vietnam death toll mounted steadily toward the 33,629 U.S. soldiers killed in the Korean War, America's fourth costliest war in lives lost.

Official statistics showed nearly half of the American Vietnam losses—some 14,200 died this year. For the war, more than 190,000 U.S. servicemen have been wounded and another 1,200 are listed as missing in action or captured.

Over North Vietnam yesterday, Communist gunners tried but failed with surface-to-air missiles to bring down a Navy RASC reconnaissance plane taking pictures of troop and supply movements, spokesmen said.

It followed yesterday's announcement of the fourth U.S. warplane shot down over the Communist nation since the Nov. 1 bombing halt. Today headquarters identified one of the two pilots rescued yesterday as Air Force Maj. Robert L. McCann of Dedham, Mass.

The series of shellings against outposts near Saigon was the second in five days, headquarters said.

In nine salvos, the Communists sent 392 rocket, mortar and recoilless rifle rounds into three provincial capitals, a district capital and five U.S. and South Vietnamese military camps yesterday and today.

Karl Barth, Famed Church Writer, Dies

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Karl Barth, the world's leading Protestant theologian, died early today at his home in Basel. He was 82.

A native of Basel, Barth was praised as the most creative Protestant theologian since John Calvin. He also was variously damned as a heretic, a narrow-minded biblicist and an atheist in disguise—but even some of his critics called him "the most monumental appearance in our period."

BUSY AUTHOR

He gave the world of religious thought 10 fat tomes, elaborating a formidable and intricate Protestantism that stressed the spiritual nature of true religion —faith in Christ, the church of Christ and the Bible as His witness.

As a young minister in World War I, Barth published his first bombshell in 1918. His "Epistle to the Romans" was a scathing attack on the dominant "liberal" theology of the day.

As a scholar and later a teacher, Barth had little time for politics—"fundamentally uninteresting"—until 1933 after Hitler established the Third Reich. Then a professor at the University of Bonn, he repeatedly attacked Nazism until he was arrested, tried, found guilty of "seducing the minds of German students" and expelled from Germany in 1935.

IN SWISS ARMY

In World War II, Barth volunteered for duty in the Swiss army at the age of 54 and spent much of the duration guarding a bridge on the German frontier. After the war he returned briefly to lecture in the bombed-out ruins of his old university in Bonn, then came back to Basel to carry on with the intellectual job he started in 1932: the writing of Church Dogmatics.

Thought by many to be too eye-wearying and garrulous, Dogmatics was nonetheless hailed as the century's only equivalent to the summa of medieval scholastics, wreathed with a knowledge of 1,900 years of Christian writing.

Along with other controversial traits, Barth won a reputation for anti-Americanism by denouncing "the fleshpots" of a country he never visited until 1962.

His son Markus, a professor of the New Testament at Pittsburgh's Theological Seminary, reported that Barth found only two things he disliked—the plight of Negroes in slums and the influence of commercial sponsors on television programming.

Russ Plan Record Military Spending

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today raised its defense budget for next year by 1 billion rubles to an all-time high military expenditure of 17.7 billion rubles.

The defense figure was given by Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov in outlining a 133.8 billion ruble national budget for next year. The official rate of the ruble is $1.11.

The increase in defense spending was a lower rate than a year ago when the Soviet Union announced an increase of 2.2 billion rubles to a total of 16.7 billion. The costs of helping the North Vietnamese in the Vietnam war and the Arab-Israeli dispute were believed to be a main factor in that increase.

The budget defense figure is a portion of Soviet military spending. Western observers figure about half the items normally carried on the military budget are concealed under other headings in the Soviet budget.

The defense budget figure was given without elaboration but apparently it was a Soviet answer to increased military spending in the West. The Soviet press has recently been highly critical of plans for a step-up in activities in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and has cautioned against the danger of an arms race.

Some holdover expenses from the invasion of Czechoslovakia were also believed to be a factor in the increase.

Six Get Nobel Prizes In Pageant At Palace

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Five American scientists and a Japanese author, Yasunari Kawabata, today were awarded 1968 Nobel Prizes for their contribution to the "benefits to mankind."

The prestige-laden awards, each worth a record 350,000 crowns, (about $70,000), were handed out by Sweden's scholarly 86-year-old King Gustaf VI Adolf at a pageant mixed with royal pomp, academic rites and solemn music.

The all-American team of scientific laureates were:

Prof. Luis Alvarez, 57, of the University of California at Berkeley, winner of the prize for physics.

Norwegian-born Prof. Lars Onsager, 65, of Yale University, the chemistry prize winner.

Three biochemists, Drs. Marshall W. Nirenberg, 41, of the National Heart Institute at Bethesda, Md., Indian-born Har Gobind Khorana, 46, of the University of Wisconsin, and Robert Holley, 46, of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. They shared the prize for physiology and medicine.

Earlier today, in Oslo, this years Nobel Peace Prize was presented by the Norwegian Nobel Committee to French jurist, Prof. Rene Cassin for his human rights work. He said he would use most of the prize money—$70,000—to found an institute for human rights in Strasbourg.

Leaking Valve Interrupts Apollo Launch Rehearsal

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A leaking valve halted the 102-hour practice countdown yesterday for the Apollo 8 mission just two hours before it was scheduled to be completed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the trouble would not affect the scheduled Dec. 21 blastoff of Apollo 8 with its three-man crew to circle the moon.

The countdown started last Thursday with five extra days for the launch crew to correct any trouble. Officials pointed out that four extra days remain in case additional trouble pops up.

The leak was discovered in a heat exchanger valve on the launch pad service tower. The exchanger cools helium which feeds into the third stage of the Saturn 5 rocket to pressurize fuel lines.

Although the count was stopped just two hours from completion, it had to be recycled today back to nine hours because that is the point at which fuel loading starts.

Once a simulated liftoff is reached, the fuel will be drained again. The next day the three astronauts, Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders, will enter the Apollo 8 ship atop the rocket to rehearse the final 150 minutes of the count.

Youth Fatally Stabbed On Fraternity Errand

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fraternity pledge at the University of Southern California, running an errand for a member, was stabbed to death last night, police said.

Bryan Clay, 18, a freshman from Honolulu, died of a deep knife wound in the chest which severed a main artery to the heart. He died 35 minutes after arriving at Central Receiving Hospital, authorities said.

An elderly man and woman, not immediately identifed, told police they saw Clay, holding the jacket, back out of the car when three men surrounded him.

After speaking to Clay for a moment, they closed in on him and one seemed to lurch forward. The three unidentified men then fled, said the couple.

Blood flowing from his chest wound, Clay staggered toward the fraternity door, calling weakly for help, and Frank Brown, 21, another member, opened the door.

"Get me an ambulance," Clay cried—then collapsed, his hand pressed on the wound. While other members summoned the ambulance, Brown and the couple wrapped the dying student in blankets and made a futile attempt to stem the flow of blood.

Another pledge, 18-year-old Jeff Klein of Fresno, later recalled: "He kept asking, 'Am I all right? Am I all right?' I told him he was but he kept getting paler and paler," Klein said. "And then he stopped talking."

Brown, who had been the first one at Clay's side after the attack, said later: "We don't know what to think. All we did was ask a pledge to get something from a car, right in front of the house.

"I sure the people who stabbed him didn't know him," Brown said, "and he had nothing to steal."

The members told police Clay was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clay. The father is a United Airlines who had recently transferred to Honolulu from Chicago where his son had attended school.

Novato Planners Deny Lot Split On Olive Avenue

The Novato Planning Commission last night denied Embarcadero Properties Inc. a lot split on the south side of Olive Avenue between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, according to secretary Juanita Gibson.

The city's department of public works wants street improvements along that side of Olive Avenue before the lot split could be made, she said.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

TAXI STAND — Granted Novato Investment Co. a permit to operate a taxi dispatching company and Western Union telegraph station on the northwest corner of Industrial Way and Second Street.

PARKING — Changed the parking requirements for single family dwellings from one off street parking spot to one covered and one open, or two per residence.

MOBILE HOMES — Continued until Monday consideration of an amendment to the zoning ordinance for the establishment of mobile home parks by use permit and setting up standards for mobile home parks.

CONTINUED — Continued all other items to its Jan. 13 meeting.

Jury trial was scheduled for the week of March 31. Cassidy, of no known address, gave a hitchhiker, Robert Grant, 19, of 90 Greenhill Road, Mill Valley, and others a ride in Corte Madera on Oct. 24.

His vehicle struck a power pole and Grant suffered a broken pelvis, police said.

Swiss Arms Plan

Rohnert Park Panel Views Park Policy

The need for a master plan for park development was discussed last night at the Rohnert Park Recreation Commission meeting.

Chairman Ronald Rasmussen said serious thought to a master plan will be given after the first of the year. He said George Kovatch, Sonoma County planning director, will have more time to aid the commission in January. It is hoped a list of priorities will be developed in time for consideration of the city budget in July.

The commission said it would begin in January to work with boards of schools located adjacent to city parks to develop a mutual pian for increased recreational facilities for youngsters.

Rohnert Park Recreation Commission also:

TROPHIES — Awarded trophies to the winning teams in softball competition. Satori's Hauling Co. took first place with the team sponsored by Lucca Liquors as runners-up.

POOL — Decided to keep the municipal pool open for the month of December. If use continues at a high rate, the commission may consider keeping it open on a year-round basis.

MEETING — Canceled the remaining meeting in December. The next meeting will be Jan. 13.

Finals Plans Set On Fire Station

The Bolinas Fire Protection District board last night approved final plans for a new $30,000 fire station on Mesa Road, chairman Manuel A. Peters reported today.

Peters said bids will be taken within the next month or two and the building is to be completed by July 1.

The present station in downtown Bolinas is being replaced because it is sometimes blocked by traffic. The new station was designed by Don P. Offham and Associates of Novato.

Food Stamp Plan Voted For Marin

A food stamp program for Marin County, to begin March 1, won the approval of the board of supervisors by a 4 to 1 vote today during a workshop session with a welfare study task force.

On a motion by Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen, the supervisors voted $8,494 to administer the food stamp plan from March through June of next year.

John F. McInnis, the lone dissenter, said he favored the program but could not approve the money because the county's reserves were dangerously low.

Betty Presley, director of public social services, estimated that 480 families on public aid and 60 other low income families will participate in the program.

Under the program, families may purchase coupons at banks at a discount to be used to buy food worth considerably more.

Supervisors also agreed that a new child center for low income welfare mothers was needed at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael. But they postponed appropriating funds because the county's depleted reserves. The cost of the center, from January through June, would be $16,176.

McInnis moved to refer the child center proposal to the new board of supervisors next month. The only dissenter was Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who urged immediate provision for funds because "unless we vote before the new board takes over, the center will be in jeopardy."

The supervisors met with members of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children task force which was organized last summer to seek means for welfare mothers to become more self-sufficient.

Among recommendations made by the group and accepted by the supervisors were: that the task force should continue in existence; take legal means to assure that no license be granted to foster day care families which discriminate against children of minority race, and continue the AFDC newsletter.

The supervisors declined to commit the county to continue supplementation to state welfare aid indefinitely, but said the county's present policy of giving supplementation had not changed.

On the suggestion of supervisor Peter H. Behr, the board decided to ask Marin County judges for a study of family courts to help in reconciliation of welfare families.

Youth Admitted To Napa Hospital

A 20-year-old man was committed to Napa State Hospital for psychiatric observation early today after Sausalito police found him on the beach after an apparent swim at 2 a.m. in the stormy waters of San Francisco Bay.

Police said Kenneth John McDonald, 20, of Stanford, told them he had taken LSD, then jumped into the Bay from the roof of a Sausalito apartment building in an attempt to take his life.

On hitting the icy waters, McDonald apparaently changed his mind and swam to shore. Police found him collapsed on a small beach south of Main Street after a report someone was calling for help.

Association Seeks Members

The Peacock Gay Homeowners Association last night opened its 1969 membership drive and named Robert Hunt as chairman.

The association elected Philip C. Shivell to the board of directors to succeed John J. Zimmer, who resigned due to pressure of business, according to Charles W. Dechent, treasurer.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Jan. 13 at the home of Edward E. Kadel, 55 McNear Drive.

Santa Rosan Arrested In Attack Probe

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A 37-year-old Santa Rosa man, accused of attempting to rape a Vacaville woman near Sonoma Nov. 30, has been arrested in a Novato motel, according to Sonoma County sheriff's deputies.

John R. Aitkens was arrested Sunday by Sonoma County Sheriff's Inspector Timothy Brown and Novato Police Officer R Ronald Schanakes. He was accompanied by a woman, they said.

Aitkens has been held in the Sonoma County Jail on $11,300 bail on charges of attempted rape and attempted sex perversion involving a 29-year-old woman and on charges of issuing checks with insufficient funds.

He has pleaded innocent to the charges and will face a preliminary hearing Thursday in Sonoma County Municipal Court on the charge of issuing a $150 check July 13 to Sis' Market, Rohnert Park, with insufficient funds.

At that time, the court also will set a trial date on the charge that Aitkens issued a $65 check with insufficient funds, Aug. 18 to Don's Bar, Sebastapol.

Aitkens will face a preliminary hearing Dec. 18 on the attempted rape and attempted sex perversion charges in Sonoma County Municipal Court, Southern Judicial District, in Petaluma.

Egyptian, Israeli Jets In Dogfights

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egyptian and Israeli jet fighters battled in the skies over Sharm El Sheikh today, Israeli officials reported in Tel Aviv. Jordan reported Israeli air attacks were driven off Jordanian territory.

Sharm El Sheikh is the one-time Egyptian fortress guarding the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba. Israel captured it from Egypt in the 1967 June war and reopened the gulf to Israeli shipping.

The Tel Aviv spokesman said one Egyptian jet was shot down in a dogfight and that a second one was crippled. It identified the Egyptian planes as Russian-built MIG17s.

The dogfights were only the second reported between Egyptian and Israeli air force planes since the end of the 1967 war although there have been hundreds of incidents along the Suez Canal including artillery duels and isolated firefights.

Sharm El Sheikh separates the Gulf of Aqaba from the Red Sea. Egypt's decision to close the strait to Israeli shipping in the spring of 1967 was cited by Israel as a major provocation which led to the Arab-Israeli war.

Israeli officials said they saw one of the Egyptian planes plunge into the Red Sea during today's air battle while the other was trailing smoke as it headed in a southerly direction.

Shortly before Israel reported the air battle a Jordanian military spokesman in Amman said Israeli jet fighters invaded Jordanian air space in an attempted raid on Iraqi-manned artillery positions in Jordan but were driven off by Jordanian antiaircraft fire.

A military spokesman in Amman said the fighters swooped over the Jordanian city of Mafraq, about 50 miles northeast of Amman and 60 miles east of the Jordan River.

There was no immediate confirmation from Israel.

Old 'Hawks, Doves' Volume Given LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson got a rare book on birds—and a chuckle—today when Rep. Wright Patman of Texas gave him a copy of an 1893 volume of "Hawks and Doves of the United States."

Patman told the President the book was put out by the Secretary of Agriculture and the congressman said he knew of Johnson's interest in rare books. The ornithological volume came out, of course, long before hawks and doves became descriptive words for views on war.

The congressman brought along another book he wrote himself—"A Thousand and One Questions and Answers on the American Government," a revised version of a paperback that first came out in 1946 and has been updated almost every year since.

"I'm going to need a lot of answers to questions in the months ahead," Johnson said with a grin.

"You have better answers to questions, I am sure, Mr. President," Patman said.

Johnson recalled that only three House members are in Congress who were there when he became a House member in 1937. Patman is one, he said, and the others are Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts and Emanuel Celler of New York.

Mansion Buyer In County Offer

HILLSBOROUGH (UPI) — A tentative agreement has been reached for purchase of the 250-acre Tobin Clark estate and its 46-room Tudor-style mansion.

The buyer, Hal Anderson of Andtex & Co., said today he intends to give the mansion, built in 1931 at a cost of $1 million, and its surrounding gardens and terraces to San Mateo County as a cultural center.

Anderson planned to develop the bulk of the land into a luxury residential area, with homes in the $150,000 ot $750,000 class.

The price of the estate was not disclosed, but in 1966 it was offered for $3 million.

eral U.S. defense problems.

He said he hoped the parley would not be delayed by technical matters, presumably such as the question of how the U.S., North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Communist National Liberation Front are to be seated.

Clifford said he hopes the two major sides can move quickly toward a formal understanding on making the demilitarized zone in Vietnam truly demilitarized, and on the Communist shelling of South Vietnamese cities and U.S. reconnaissance of North Vietnamese territory.

"Then we can move on to lowering the level of combat," he said.

A lessening of hostilities could, in turn, pave the way for an agreement on a mutual withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam.

Clifford would not comment on who he thinks may take over as head of the Pentagon in the Nixon administration. Reports have circulated it will be Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis.

Clifford said the military branches have come up with thousands of "creative ideas" on how the Pentagon can improve American society "without impairing its primary mission of defending our nation."

He mentioned several possibilities:

The Pentagon can share a "spin-off" of information acquired in defense with the civilian community.

Defense installations not used full time might be provided for summer youth programs, on-the-job training or upgrading unskilled workers.

The overhaul of certain types of equipment brought back from Vietnam could be contracted to firms that hire and train hard core unemployed.

his White House staff. To serve as special assistant he named Robert J. Brown, 33, of High Point, N.C., and William Safire, a 38-year-old author and New York public relations man who served as a writer in Nixon's 1968 campaign.

Brown, a Negro, was said to be getting an assignment of general scope but, as he put it to newsmen, will concentrate particularly on Nixon's plans to promote "black capitalism."

Nixon announced two more appointments to his personal staff today:

James Keogh, 52, of Greenwich, Conn., who has been on leave of absence as executive editor of Time magazine, will be special assistant and "managing editor" in the preparation of speeches, messages to Congress and the like.

Dr. Martin Anderson ,32, an associate professor at Columbia University's Graduate School of Business, will be special assistant—one of several—concentrating on "program and policy development."

Both men were closely associated with the Nixon campaign.

SWAN

tined for three weeks in New York.

Shiner contended that the quarantine should have taken place in San Francisco since it was the designated point of arrival on the shipping permit.

Some years ago, he said, a male mute swan and a female companion from Denmark were put into San Lagoon. In 1965, two dogs killed the male.

Last summer, the female built a nest on the shoreline property of Charles W. Dechent of 15 Lagoon Road, a retired Bank of America executive.

Dechent fed the swan, which laid nine nonfertile eggs. He then broke up the nest to discourage the swan from laying any more eggs, but the fowl made a new nest nearby and laid four more nonfertile eggs.

Peacock Gap residents, Shiner said, decided the swan needed a male companion.

Shiner went to the British Isles in August, and friends there referred him to the Wildfowl Trust.

S. T. Johnstone, trust curator, told Shiner that a male mute swan had been found and Shiner subsequently decided it should be the one for San Lagoon.

State Hearing Friday On Plan For Angel Island

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A public hearing on a $2.5 million development plan for Angel Island will be held by the state Parks and Recreation Commission here on Friday in room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Commission staff said the hearing probably would be shortly after 11 a.m., but noted it could come anytime during the all-morning meeting, scheduled to begin at 9 a.m.

Also on the agenda are an offer by David W. Allen of Belvedere to give two 19th Century arks to the state for possible use as a gift shop and restaurant at the San Francisco Maritime State Historic Park, and payment of $13,500 to Geneva Reinhart for title of a piece of tidelands adjacent to Stinson Beach State Park.

Hayakawa offered further concessions yesterday. He said students arrested or suspended for violating his "state of emergency" regulations may go back to classes pending a hearing by a disciplinary board.

The strikers want amnesty for all arrested as well as admission of all nonwhite applicants, promotion of some teachers and firing of others and reinstatement of twice-suspended Black Panther George Murray, a part-time instructor who urged Negroes to carry guns.

Meanwhile, Judge Albert A. Axelrod ordered Murray to show cause in Municipal Court Jan. 8 why he should not be jailed for six months.

Murray, 23, was given a six-months suspended sentence and placed on probation for a year last March after being convicted of battery in an attack on staff members of the Gater, the campus student newspaper.

Axelrod said he had been informed Hayakawa signed a complaint charging Murray last week with unlawful assembly, failure to disperse, disturbing the peace and inciting to riot. He noted that a condition of Murray's probation was that he not participate in any illegal activity.

In another off-campus development, the city's AFL-CIO Central Labor Council called together union leaders, state legislators and representatives of Mayor Joseph L. Alioto's office who agreed to organize a committee which would try to mediate the dispute.

The action came after the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers asked a strike sanction at the college.

In yesterday's disturbance, several policement invaded the Protestant - run Ecumenical House but made no arrests. The house is a staging area for demonstrators.

Police radios, communicating with a helicopter over the campus quadrangle, blared the report that people coming from the Ecumenical House were carrying sacks filled with rocks.

The raid on the business Building came after a member of the Black Students Union, Tom Williams, told a rally held during a letup in the rain, "Classes are going on in the BSS. Let's move over there and close it down."

American and Vietnamese peoples," Thao said.

He denounced South Vietnam's vice president and delegation leader as an "ardent admirer of Hitler" and said only the Viet Cong could represent the South Vietnamese people in talks.

Thao's position countered South Vietnamese delegation statements yesterday. The Saigon delegation, led by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, said it considers the Viet Cong a Hanoi puppet and said the guerrillas will take part in talks only as part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

The Viet Cong's clandestine jungle radio, heard in Saigon, today did nothing to make compromise easier.

It claimed Ky came to Paris Sunday to "destroy the conference."

The Viet Cong radio also repeated an appeal for guerrillas to stage "offensives and uprisings" this month to mark the underground organization's eighth anniversary.

Car In Collision Listed As Stolen

A car abandoned after a hit and run accident in Corte Madera yesterday turned out to have been stolen in San Francisco on Sunday, according to police.

The driver of the stolen car, who ran from the scene of the accident at 624 Corte Madera Grade, was described as a white man between 23 and 25 years old and wearing a light blue windbreaker and tan pants.

Police said he sideswiped a car driven by Thomas E. Machill, 39, of San Francisco at about 10:30 a.m.

The owner of the abandoned car, which has been turned over to San Francisco police, was not known to Corte Madera officers.

Prison Inmate Stabbed In Back

A San Quentin inmate was stabbed in the back with a wide-blade weapon yesterday afternoon while bending over his loom in the prison textile mill weaving room, prison officials reported.

Thomas J. Roberts, 33, was reported in good condition today in the prison hospital, where he is being treated for two stab wounds between his shoulder blades.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said the assailant is unknown. The weapon has not been found, either, he said.

Roberts, a convicted burglar, has been in San Quentin since April when he escaped from Tehachapi Prison.

Judge Halts College Order

A Marin Superior Court order that San Francisco State College be opened was dismissed yesterday because the school is operating.

The dismissal by Judge Thomas F. Keating was at the request of Gary T. Giacomini, attorney for John Frederick Craemer, 20, of Greenbrae. Craemer, a student at the college, won the order Nov. 27 on behalf of himself and other students at the troubled college.

The order directed acting college president Dr. S. I. Hayakawa to keep the school open or appear in court to explain why it should be closed.

Narcotics Count Heard In Court

A San Rafael man was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on misdemeanor charges of being under the influence of narcotics and possessing a hypodermic needle.

Milton James Fletcher, 29, of 14 Sentinal Court, was arrested by police who found him sitting in a car yesterday in front of his home, the scene of six arrests in a dope raid last Tuesday.

Police said they found a balloon containing what appeared to be heroin or methamphetimine (speed), several empty balloons, syringes, needles, an eyedropper, needle holders, rubber bands and cotton.

No other charges have been filed. Fletcher is scheduled for plea entry at 2 p.m. Monday.

Woman Suffers Bullet Mishap

A 31-year-old Santa Venetia housewife suffered a left hand injury in an accidental shooting in her home early Sunday, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Claire McClintock, 53 La Brea Way, told officers she had turned off the lights and gone to bed about 12:15 a.m. when she remembered leaving a small gun on a bed nightstand.

She said she was moving it in the dark when it discharged, wounding her in the left index finger. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Unreturned Book Problem Studied

The Sausalito Library board last night discussed the problem of unreturned books, then told temporary librarian Jan Gartner to consult with state library officials to see what steps other libraries take to curb book losses.

The board discussed several methods to cut losses, but took no action.

The board also ordered a letter sent to the city council asking what progress has been made in choosing a new library site.

Jury Trial Waived In Marijuana Case

Terry David Haggerty, 21, yesterday waived a jury trial in Marin Superior Court on a charge of marijuana possession. His trial before a judge was scheduled for the week of Feb. 17.

Haggerty and a co-defendant, Sara Diane Hatch, 21, both of Forest Knolls, are accused of having the marijuana Feb. 13 in San Geronimo. Their attorney, Brian Rohan of San Francisco, told the court Miss Hatch will waive the jury trial at a later date.

Mill Valley Boy To Juvenile Hall

A 16-year-old Mill Valley youth, declared beyond parental control by his father, was booked into Juvenile Hall yesterday for investigation of marijuana possession.

Mill Valley police said officers found two bags of marijuana and some hashish on the youth when they searched him before taking him to Juvenile Hall after the youth's father had called asking police to take custody of the boy.

ENOCH JOHNSON

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Enoch L. Johnson, once the flamboyant, luxury-loving political overlord of Atlantic City, is dead at 85. Johnson lived in relative obscurity since his release in 1964 from a four-year federal prison term for income tax evasion, supposedly linked to gambling payoffs.

He died yesterday in the Atlantic County Convalescent Home, where he had been confined since undergoing usrgery in July. "Time just took him away," said his physician, Dr. Arthur Lee.

Johnson's only surviving relative is his widow, former showgirl Florence Osbeck, whom he married the day before he went to jail.

"Nucky," as everybody knew him, was straight from Damon Runyon and the Roaring Twenties. He was an impeccable dresser and always wore a fresh red carnation in his lapel as his personal trademark.

In his salad days of the 1920s, he rode around town in a $14,000 powder blue, chauffeur-driven limousine and strolled the boardwalk in a $1,200 raccoon coat. Once he was photographed on the 'walk with the notorious "Scarface" Al Capone.

JAPANESE DRAGNET — Tokyo traffic grinds to a halt as police question vehicle drivers in looking for a bandit who escaped with $833,000 while disguised as a traffic officer. (UPI Telephoto)

Bogus Japanese Policeman Escapes With $833,000

TOKYO (UPI)—A young man disguised as a traffic policeman today tricked four bank employes out of $833,000 in Christmas bonus money and used their automobile to get away with what police called the greatest highway robbery in Japanese history.

Not a shot was fired nor a threat made in the robbery on a narrow road behind Tokyo's Fuchu prison.

The bandit, wearing the white helmet and black leather jacket of a traffic officer, rode a stolen white motorbike up to a bank car carrying the bonus money for employes of the Toshiba Electric Co. He told the bank men he had information dynamite was planted in the car.

When the four got out, the bandit got in and drove away with the car and three metal boxes full of banknotes with unrecorded serial numbers.

"He looked just like a policeman," said Eiji Nakada, the driver of the auto. "When we got to the road near the prison, the robber told us to stop. He said he had instructions from Koganei police station."

"We were really surprised when he said some explosive was planted in the car. Carrying a flashlight, he told us to get out of the automobile," Nakada said.

The bandit bent for a moment over the car floorboard. The bank men said they figured he was looking for dynamite. The bandit suddenly hopped behind the wheel and roared away.

"We thought he was trying to put distance between our car and other cars to minimize the danger of the explosion," one of the victims said. "Seconds later the car picked up speed and soon disappeared from out sight."

The four bank employes were left standing in a rain as the bandit sped away.

Nobuyoshi Miura, executive director of the bank sending the money to the company, told newsmen he had not kept record of the serial numbers of the stolen bills.

"Our bank is small so we usually assign two men to transport money. But in the case of Toshiba, the amount was too big so we assigned two additional employes. We were at fault for not employing guards or using an armored car," Miura said.

Dedication Date Set For School

The Lagunitas School District board last night adopted a resolution to dedicate the San Geronimo Valley Elementary School at 2 p.m. March 1.

The school was opened Nov. 18 for about 200 first through third grade pupils.

The board also voted to have a student contest to name the two buildings at the new school.

The board delayed action on two bids for insurance coverage for next year, because the bids were considerably higher than the premium for present coverage, according to Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff.

The Insurance Co. of North America bid a $3,862 contract and the Great American Co. a $3,912 contract.

Insurance Co. of North America has a $2,200 contract with the district this year, but it doesn't cover the new San Geronimo Valley buildings and equipment, McCuniff said.

The superintendent reported the district's enrollment is now 517 students.

The Lagunitas School District board also:

SPECIAL MEETING — Set a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday to review the district's building program.

SYSTEMS — Authorized the superintendent to survey various firms and make a study of costs for communication systems in school buildings.

Jury Trial Set On Theft Of Car

Cameron is accused of stealing a car from C D Motor Sales, San Rafael, by paying for it with a bad check.

$35,000 Mill Valley Park Jobs Proposed

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night agreed that approximately $35,000 in capital improvement projects should be included in the 1969-70 city budget.

Commissioners listed four projects which they said should be included in next year's budget and dropped one project, long designated as top priority, from the list, according to Parks and Recreation Director Don Dimitratos.

The installation of two new tennis courts with night lighting at Boyle Park and resurfacing of present courts, estimated to cost $31,000, replaced construction of children's playground for Boyle Park as the top priority item.

Other capital improvement projects included allocation of $3,000 to supplement a $4,000 donation by the Mill Valley Teen Club for construction of a recreation shelter at Boyle Park; construction of a curb and gutter on Cascade Drive from Throckmorton Avenue to Cascade Creek to prevent erosion of the walkway into Old Mill Park, $600; and interior painting, repair of a porch wall and replacement of damaged outside shingles at the golf clubhouse, no cost estimate.

The budget request will be submitted to the city council in the spring, Dimitratos said.

The Park And Recreation Commission Also:

SPONSORSHIP — Agreed to sponsor permanently the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts.

MEETING — Agreed to meet on Jan. 27 with the city's art commission to discuss problems of mutual interest.

LANDSCAPING — Approved street tree planting plans for Lomita Drive south of East Blithedale Avenue. Enchanted Knolls residents will finance the planting program, Dimitratos explained.

NOMINATION — Nominated the Mill Valley Lions Club for the annual California Parks and Recreation Society Northern District award for outstanding contribution because of the club's work in constructing restroom facilities and a bridge in Boyle Park.

THANKS — Thanked George P. Leonard for donating a section of the Dipsea Trail to the county thus placing the entire trail in county ownership.

BOAT STORAGE — Directed a subcommittee to prepare cost estimates and to make a recommendation on moving the small boat facilities from the end of Sycamore Avenue to Enchanted Knolls and to report back on Jan. 13.

ADJOURNMENT — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m .Jan. 13, not Dec. 23 as regularly scheduled, because of the Christmas holiday.

Superintendent Hunt To Begin

Dixie School District trustees will take preliminary steps tomorrow night for selection of a new superintendent to succeed Supt. Dennie B. Willis, who will retire next June.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the school administration office at 35 Trellis Drive, Terra Linda.

Trustees plan to form a committee to set up criteria for the selection of Willis' successor.

Other items on the agenda include: setting a policy on how supplementary material and texts will be selected, applications for federal funds for school libraries, preliminary discussions on the 1969-70 budget, and playground and parking improvements at Bernard Hoffman and Mary Silveira schools.

$1,500 Theft

Burglars took $1,500 in cameras, jewelry, a transistor radio, a tape recorder and guitars from the residence of Donald L. Wilson, 233 Elinor Avenue, between 10:40 a.m. and 12:50 p.m. Friday, Mill Valley police reported today.

Sloop Sinks; Navy Saves Dunked Pair

Two tired, wet and scared weekend sailors were rescued off the Golden Gate Sunday night by a Navy destroyer while their borrowed sloop quickly sank.

Terry Weinberg and Gerd Thompson, both 20-year-old San Franciscans, said they first thought "it was going to hit us" when the destroyer John A. Boyle came upon them near dusk.

Crew members on the big ship, however, heard the cries for help of the two young men, who had been swept out to sea after they had rudder trouble on the bay near Sausalito.

Men on the destroyer threw them a line but the 24-foot sloop capsized and sank in two minutes after being caught in the larger ship's wake.

Weinberg and Thompson swam a quarter -mile to the destroyer and were hauled aboard and given dry clothes.

Weingerg said he and his friend had borrowed the sloop from a friend for a "little sail" on the bay about 10 a.m. Sunday. On the way home, however, the boat developed rudder trouble and drifted on strong tides out the Golden Gate.

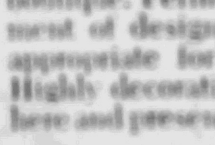
ORDER HOLIDAY PIES SOON!

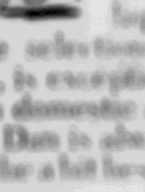
On the chance of sounding like a broken record, I'll remind you again about ordering your homemade holiday pie early from The HICK'RY PIT. Now, when this popular priced family restaurant says "homemade" that is exactly what they mean. HICK'RY PIT chefs start from scratch and use only the finest ingredients. And speaking of ingredients the old English style Mince Meat Pie at The HICK'RY PIT contains close to 15 choice ingredients to faithfully reproduce this delectable pastry. While shopping in The Village, you'll find The HICK'RY PIT the perfect spot for a full dinner or a "revive you" snack of coffee with a hunk of homemade pie. (Always feel free to bring the children to The HICK'RY PIT . . . service is fast and the menu features the youngster's most favorite dishes.)

If you've ever tried to clothe a growing teen-age male, you too will say a hearty "thank you" to CARLTON'S VILLAGE SPORTSWEAR for their timely sale on all boys' wear, sizes 14-20. Priced at 20% off. I found such looked-for labels as Rob Roy, Robert Bruce and many, many others. This is a great opportunity for gift buying, also to "tuck away" for other occasions (such as a very normal rate of growth that seems to warrant a new size every few months!).



For a memorable gift that certainly shows your discriminating taste, see the shadow-box framed Limoge plaques on velvet at THE GOLDEN CHERUB. Many other gift ideas at this little jewel of a bath boutique. Ferinstance, pomanders in a wide assortment of designs and fragrances, including those appropriate for the gentlemen in our audience. Highly decorative color coordination is a specialty here and presents all sorts of gift possibilities.

Pretty, pretty party dresses at PATTON'S CHILDREN'S SHOP. Any little girl's eyes will light up at the sight of these lovely frocks by Alyssa and Jabberwocki (to name but a few major labels carried here) and the young gentlemen, in their Merry Mites outfits from PATTON'S, will extend most appreciative glances (even if they'd never admit that they like the way a girl looks!). Excellent toy collection at this shop including all nationally advertised "fun and games."



I was impressed by the really lovely gift packages at VILLAGE LIQUORS. For business or hostess gifts, they offer gayly packaged wines and liquors, also favorite whiskies. The wine selection at VILLAGE LIQUORS, by the way, is exceptional. Many hard-to-find vintages in both domestic and imported wines are found here and Dan is always ready with expert advice should you be a bit hesitant about your choice.

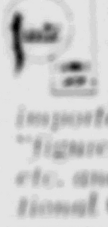
All Village shops are open weekday evenings through Christmas Eve offering choice gift items in a relaxed shopping atmosphere. WINDOW SHOPPERS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME AT STRAWBERRY!

Noticed a really smashing new low heeled pump by Golo at THE SANDAL. In a rusty shade of antique patent, this pump is buckled to one side on the vamp and is very smart looking. Handsome, fine leather purses at this shop . . . the type any woman loves to own and will use with pride and pleasure for years to come.

Delightful gift item at THE VILLAGE SWEETE SHOPPE. These are very clever, original design bean bags that are equally pleasing to both tots and teens. Be sure to notice VILLAGE SWEET SHOPPE'S imported chocolate tree ornaments covered in brightly colored foil . . . so pretty on The Tree and an eye-popping little gift for small-fry holiday visitors. (Both Blum's and Hooper's fabulous gift boxes found here.)



The glow of Christmas at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP in the form of beautiful "jeweled" votive cups. These unusual cups are available in several sizes and are equally effective as a single accent or in groupings. Also at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP, petite, imported ceramic figures that hold one candle. The "figures" are delightful children, birds, angels, etc. and all would make unique gifts. All the traditional Christmas candles are found here in a wide range of sizes and prices.

Leave us not forget our furry friends when hanging up the family Christmas stocking! MUTTS OF MARIN is ready to play Santa with very special stockings for the family canine and or feline, also gift boxes of "Kaye Nyne Treats" that look for all the world like fancy bon bons but are really loaded with vitamins.

Ever accommodating to his many patrons, Stanley Toy, KUBLAI KHAN'S congenial owner will be open both Christmas and New Year's Day. This [illegible]-attractive restaurant is the perfect background for a gathering of friends and family and the superb Oriental and Continental cuisine is certain to please every member of your party.

Christmas shopping in The Village can really be fun . . . no shoving crowds and no pressure from the shops to make you feel you must make up your mind right that second! Boy, coming home to cook dinner can sure take the glow off a pleasant shopping day. This letdown need not happen if you make your last stop at L'ENTREE and bring home one of their marvelous casserole dinners. After an effortless half hour of oven time, said casserole will bring rave notices from the family and or guests and could very well "make" the day for Mother!

Bluenosed Attitude On Singles Housing

The Sausalito School District board, liberal in social and political matters, took a distinctly bluenosed view last night of a proposed 400-unit apartment for single swingers near Martin Luther King School.

The board agreed with David E. Freedheim, vice president, and ordered a letter sent to the Sausalito City Council listing four "reservations" about the apartment proposal, which Freedheim described as "400 units for single adults for a playland of ecstasy."

A Southern California syndicate has an option to buy the American Distillery Co. property on Bridgeway and reportedly plans to establish the singles-only apartment unit on the site. The Tijuana Brass is reportedly involved in the syndicate.

Freedheim listed four "concerns" the board should have over the development:

1. The developments would bring in an "enormous voting bloc" of singles not sympathetic to supporting school bonds and taxes.

2. It would produce a concentration of new residents with no children.

3. The apartment dwellers, self-contained, would produce little or no economic benefit to the community.

4. The development might influence sale value of the Martin Luther King School site, which the district may eventually sell to raise money for other district schools and improvements.

The board agreed unanimously to write the council of its reservations. The property is outside Sausalito city limits but the city is considering prezoning it for future annexation.

Hearing Slated To Move Trial

Hearing on a motion by a former deputy county probation officer to have his trial, on a statutory rape charge, moved from Marin County was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for 2 p.m. Dec. 23.

The suspect, Richard J. Paris, 28, filed the motion last week on grounds that pretrial newspaper and radio publicity would prevent a fair trial in Marin Superior Court.

Paris, of Kentfield, is accused of having sexual relations with a 17-year-old girl, and with sex perversions and furnishing marijuana to a minor.

Base Awards $51,821 Worth Of Contracts

Repair and construction contracts totaling $51,821 were awarded yesterday by the procurement office at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A $19.866 contract was given Edward W. Scott Electric Co. Inc. of San Francisco to repair underground distribution lines; a $11,707 contract was given to Shields Construction of Novato for alterations to certain buildings; a $8,488 contract was given Tresch Electrical Co., Inc., Novato to, to install conduit and extend electrical circuits, and a $4.788 contract was awarded Roto-Rooter Sewer Service, San Anselmo, to clean swer lines, all at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A $9.672 contract was given to Alameda Diversified Inc. of Alameda to erect relocatable buildings at the Mill Valley Air Force Station.

Sausalito Trustees Adopt Policy On Hiring Minorities

After brief discussion last night, the Sausalito School District board adopted a policy setting a goal of hiring minority group employees in all departments "consistent with the multiethnic proportions in the student body" and consistent with present district hiring criteria.

The policy, discussed a week ago, avoided setting a quota or ratio for ethnic hirings, which James E. Muldoon, trustee warned might violate laws against hiring on the basis of race.

The multiethnic hiring policy will apply to administrative, teaching and nonteaching (classified) employees.

Last week Supt. Phillip W. Schneider proposed a 33 per cent ratio for minority hirings, but no ratio was set last night.

"We don't want to hire Uncle Toms" to meet a racial quota, board president Bruce E. Woelfel said.

The remark came when he was questioned from the audience about a consultant's proposal last week to advertise job openings in the Berkeley Barb and the Black Panther newspaper.

Woelfel said that was only a recommendation. The best way to recruit is to "go to the colleges, not place ads in the paper," he said.

Muldoon said he had received "a lot of community reaction against these media" since last week.

The board followed up the new policy by agreeing to hire a "multiethnic coordinator" to select materials for a black studies program and other minority group studies, and to train and help classroom teachers to present new materials property.

Schneider said the coordinator's task is a huge one, with the first priority to set up a good black studies program, then Mexican-American studies, then programs for other minority groups such as orientals.

The board then approved Schneider's recommendation that the word "Negro" be eliminated from district use and "black" be used instead.

"Some people think it's nit-picking," said Robert Lea, principal at Central School, "but it's crucial . . . at Central we use 'black' . . . we make a point of it."

Guidance counselor James T. Toliver agreed. "I feel I'm part of a militant black minority," Toliver said, and "Negro is a term laid on by my slave master." He said black students at Central "come storming up and say they won't stand for teachers calling them Negro any more."

The change "gets our commitment down in black and white," said trustee Nathaniel Johnson in an inadvertent pun. "In writing, I mean."

The Sausalito School District board also:

BAYSIDE SCHOOL — Declared the bandoned Bayside School buildings surplus and directed county counsel to prepare a resolution to offer the property for lease to bidders. Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato told the board the bids would have to be advertised three weeks before offers could be taken for the property. An offer for the buildings, abandoned early this year for lack of earthquake safety, was made last week by the Sausalito Arts Association, which proposed to lease the building and share its use with the Sausalito Parents Club, using it for arts activities, a teen center, and community activities. The board will take up disposal of the buildings at its Jan. 13 meeting.

ETHNIC — Agreed to ask the county superintendent of schools to set up a division for multiethnic studies in the county superintendent's office, staffed with minority personnel. The recommendation will also be sent to other district boards in the county for possible support.

Timber Industry Homework All Cut

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The timber industry must work to "develop some counter-pressures" to the public's growing demand for preservation of untouched wilderness, it was announced the 59th Western Forestry Conference.

Ralph D. Hodges Jr., vice president for government affairs of the National Forest Products Association, said the industry must convince the general public that felling a tree is not, in itself, evil.

He said such a campaign is essential to the industry's goal of sustained production through multiple uses — timber-harvest and recreation, among others—on both public and private forest lands.

Hodges said last week recent congressional action creating Redwood National Park and the North Cascades complex indicate "the growing pressures exerted by an electorate which is increasingly identifying with the out-of-doors." He said timber interests may not agree with these views, but must "recognize and be sensitive" to them and their impact on government.

"The Sierra Club and other groups, largely committed to 'nature in the raw,' have done a splendid job of unleashing the wilderness spirit of even the most sedentary Americans," he warned.

"They have depicted a land bereft of its most glorius possession, unrestrained nature. They argue that the natural order should prevail in vast areas of our country without regard for prudent tending of forest resources by man."

Hodges said the timber industry "must recognize the realities of political life and move to sustain responsible Congressmen and create a more knowledgeable electorate."

The three-day conference concluded Friday.

Trial On Kidnap Charge Is Reset

Jury trial of rape and kidnap suspect Jerry Stanley Borst, 22, scheduled to start in Marin Superior Court this week, yesterday was continued until the week of Dec. 13.

The continuance by Judge Joseph G. Wilson was at the request of Jerome Durham, public defender representing Borst. Borst, of Novato, is accused of kidnaping a 28-year-old Novato housewife and her two small sons July 9 with intent to rob the woman. He also is charged with raping her.

Judge Wilson scheduled jury trial of Carl Vestal Hayes, 19, charged with striking his half-sister, Carmen Ferrari, 6, on the head with a bottle Sept. 25 in San Anselmo, for 10 a.m. tomorrow in Judge Wilson's court. Hayes resides in San Anselmo.

100,000 Pounds Of Milk Produced

Milk production exceeding 100,000 pounds by two cows owned by Marvin L. Nunes of Point Reyes Station was reported by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

One of the cows, Midland Heilo Burke Charmer, gave 118,370 pounds of milk and 3,603 pounds of butterfat in 2,716 days. The other, Ideograph Burkgov Steps, gave 111,530 pounds of milk and 4,257 pounds of butterfat in 2,442 days. There are 49,000 quarts of milk in 100,000 pounds.

Television Set Taken From Home

Theft of a small television set in a burglary of the home of Jerry Robertson, 119 Prince Royal Drive, was reported yesterday by Corte Madera police.

Officers said a neighbor discovered the break-in Saturday after someone forced a door.

Hall Of Justice Moving Delayed

The date of moving into the new Marin Hall of Justice has been pushed back at least a month, Michael A. Chrystal, county administrative analyst announced yesterday.

He said the contractor for the building has asked for a at least a month's delay because of rain.

This means that departments scheduled to move from the San Rafael courthouse in February will not begin moving until March.

Teen Recreation Due Panel Review

The problem of teen-age recreation will receive another public hearing before the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

Other items on the agenda include a discussion of the state's plan to develop Angel Island and a request by the Strawberry Recreation District for channel markers along Salt Works Canal on the east side of Strawberry Peninsula.

Major Nidever Gets Three Top Medals

Maj. David F. Nidever, 33, of 133 Greenwood Avenue, San Rafael, has been awarded the Army's Silver Star, Bronze Star and Commendation Medal with device for gallantry in combat in Vietnam.

The awards were presented to Nidever at a ceremony at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he is serving at Sixth Army headquarters.

Nidever was given the Silver Star for heroism in combat on Jan. 31 with the Ninth Infantry Division in Dinh Tuong Province. Nidever was commanding his waterborne battalion from atop a command vessel when the unit was attacked on the Roc Rung Canal.

Despite constant exposure to intense enemy fire, the major returned the fire with a grenade launcher, according to Army officials. "Thanks in large part to Major Nidever's accurate direction by radio of the fire from the front and rear elements, the battalion moved successfully through two ambush sites," Army spokesmen said.

The Bronze Star was for honorable and meritorious service as operations officer for the battalion from October 1967 to April 1968, during which time he established an effective system of fire support procedures.

Nidever was awarded the Army Commendation Medal with device for heroism during an action with the battalion along the Tien Giany River in December 1967.

He was caught in intense cross fire while reconnoitering and area near a riverside village, but immediately directed an infantry unit to the vicinity and the Viet Cong were routed.

The board will also continue its review of board policies.

Boy, 14, Cited In Four Thefts

A 14-year-old Mill Valley boy was cited Sunday for investigation of four burglaries in Mill Valley in early October, police reported.

The youth was cited to the Juvenile Probation Department and released to the custody of his parents.

Police said the youth was questioned about the Oct. 8 burglary of the garage of Daniel McKenna, 316 Eldridge Avenue, after McKenna reported seeing the youth riding a 10-speed bicycle taken during the burglary.

During questioning, the youth admitted to having committed three other burglaries in the same neighborhood at about the same time, police said.

Police said they are investigating the other three burglaries which were not reported.

Freedom Award To Yugoslavian

NEW YORK (AP) — Milovan Djilas, former vice president of Yugoslavia released from prison last January, received the 1969 Freedom Award yesterday for encouraging "the millions of fighters in eastern Europe who are proving that freedom cannot be extinguished."

Djilas, 57, received a sculptured bronze plaque at the 29th annual dinner of Freedom House. The presentation was made by Bill Moyers, former press secretary to President Johnson and now publisher of Newsday.

Djilas was jailed for publishing his international best-seller, "The New Class."

He has defied a five-year ban on publishing, a condition attached to his release, with a new book titled "The Unperfect Society—Beyond the New Class," secretly carried out of Yugoslavia.

Kentfield Home Is Looted Of Cash, Jewelry, Furs

Five burglaries, including the theft of furs and jewelry from two homes, were reported today by Marin County sheriff's officers.

Deputies said Howard Siegel, 12 Stetson Avenue, Kentfield, reported Sunday that he returned home that day with his family and discovered his home ransacked, a small safe opened and loot totaling $6,150 in jewelry, clothing and cash missing.

The items, he told officers, included a $2,600 diamong ring, a mink stole worth $1,000, and $300 cash. No forced entry was evident, officers said, and a rear door was found ajar where the intruders apparently departed.

Martin M. Corbett, 235 Oak Manor Drive, Oak Manor, Fairfax, told officers Sunday someone apparently used a key to enter the master bedroom of his home Saturday. Taken, he said, were a mink jacket worth $1,795, a $400 man's ring, $11 cash, and a man's watch.

Burglars apprently entered an unlocked rear window of a houseboat occupied by William L. Feldman at Kappas Yacht Harbor, Waldo Point, it was reported to officers Saturday. Loot included a camera, a 50-foot roll of plastic sheeting, and two boat oars.

Mary C. Thompson, 502 Tamalpais Drive, Mill Valley, told deputies Friday someone entered an open window of her home, stealing an Indian necklace worth $200 and a $50 blue stone.

Sheila Dempster, 419 Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, told deputies Saturday a tenant at her home awakened and discovered a burglar in an upstairs room.

The intruder, described as about 25 years old, six feet tall, having dark hair and wearing a dark suit, fled out the kitchen door and drove off in a sports car, according to the report. Missing was a gold watch, the victim told officers.

Legion Renews Teacher Attack

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The American Legion has renewed its attack against Herbert Marcuse, controversial philosophy professor at the University of California campus here.

Representatives of 32 Legion posts in Southern California approved sending a letter to Chancellor William McGill asking that Marcuse's contract not be renewed when it expires at the end of the spring semester.

Marcuse, 70, known as the "philosopher of the New Left," was forced to flee his home in nearby La Jolla last year when he received a death threat signed, "Ku Klux Klan."

The latest attack came after a New York speech by Marcuse in which he urged students to form "political guerrilla forces to advance libertarian socialism."

New Bahia Sewer Pact Is Approved

The Novato Sanitary District Board last night approved an agreement with the Union Bank of Los Angeles to maintain sewers and treatment plant at the Bahia subdivision off Bugeia Lane.

The agreement replaces one which the district had with Bahia Properties Inc., according to Engineer-Manager Charles Joseph. Union Bank has replaced Bahia Properties Inc. as owner of the 1,500-acre subdivision.

The Novato Sanitary District board also:

CONTRACT — Awarded a contract for liquid chlorine to Tops Chemical Co. of Oakland at $90 per ton, lowest of two bidders. The district uses approximately 70 tons of chlorine per year, Joseph said.

ANNEXATIONS — Approved the annexations of 80 acres of Los Robles Mobile Home Park off Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, of about 100 acres south of Trumbull Avenue and west of Wilson Avenue and one acre on Eucalyptus Avenue south of Center Road. These annexations have been approved by the Local Agency Formation Commission, Joseph said.

BILLS — Paid bills of $12,405 and salaries of $9,256.

51 Flood Deaths

Four Railroad Unions Reveal Merger Plan

CHICAGO (UPI)—The presidents of four railroad workers' unions today announced a merger which they said will create the nation's largest single transportation workers' union.

The merger will bring together the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and the Switchmen of North America.

The new union, to be known as the United Transportation Union, will have a combined membership of 280,000 in the United States and Canada, the announcement said.

In a joint statement the presidents of the combining unions said the purpose of the merger was "to end the battle of craft against craft—working men against working men."

The statement said the new union will lobby for a "broad mass transportation bill" covering urban and interurban rail traffic.

The merger is scheduled to become effective Jan. 1, when the four unions will combine under the leadership of Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The new union will be the 17th largest in the AFL-CIO, the statement said, and the nation's largest single transportation workers union.

Pre-Teeners Now Trying Drugs Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — Experimentation with marijuana and other drugs has begun among grade school students aged 8 to 12, says the new head of the National Institute for Mental Health narcotics program.

The experimentation is by only a small percentage of preteens, Dr. Sidney Cohen said yesterday, but "it could become epidemic (through) peer pressure" from schoolmates.

Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, NIMH director, said there is a fear such drug use could become a fad in grade schools.

The two men commented at a news conference called to introduce Cohen as head of the institute's new Division of Narcotics Addiction and Drug Use.

Cohen, a Los Angeles psychiatrist and author, said his evaluation is based on trends rather than a scientific study or absolute figures for youthful drug users.

He listed Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston and New York as cities where the problem has surfaced. He said the drug use is in schools for "rather intelligent, affluent youngsters."

Family Dog Loses Plea On Ballroom

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Family Dog Inc. was denied yesterday a rehearing of a police department order shutting down its Avalon Ballroom featuring rock music and strobe light shows.

The police issued the order after residents at the nearby Madison Hotel complained that the popular young people's night spot was too noisy.

$100,000 College Fire Stuns Student Leader

NORTHRIDGE (UPI) — "We feel kind of stunned," remarked San Fernondo Valley State College's student president, Glen Mahler.

An uneasy calm reigned on the 18,400 student campus yesterday. A grand jury was sifting evidence against 30 Negro students accused of seizing the administration building last Nov. 4 and holding 33 teachers and other employes prisoner. The school has about 250 black students.

At the same time, arson investigators said they haven't the slightest idea who set a $100,000 fire that ravaged the top floor of the administration building early Sunday. Among the places burned out was the office of acting President Paul Blomgren.

"We haven't the slightest idea who the arsonists are," said arson investigator Merle Pugh. "I haven't a single lead."

The grand jury is hearing testimony from about 50 witnesses on the takover of the administration building. The district attorney's office has refused to identify them on the grounds they might be subjected to reprisals. The inquiry is expected to continue through the week.

About 30 black students were arrested, and have been released on bail ranging from $1,000 to $2,500. Twenty were suspended from school temporarily, but Blomgren lifted the suspensions pending the outcome of criminal charges lodged against them.

So far no evidence has been found to link the fire to the Nov. 4 incident.

"There are all sorts of rumors as far as the damage is concerned," said Mahler, a 21-year-old business administration major. "There has been a frustrating lack of information about who set the fire."

Investigators said the blaze was fueled with gasoline brought into the building in a can from the college greenhouse. It was fueled with papers taken from files in administrative offices.

Judge Postpones Houseboat Ruling

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court yesterday continued until 2 p.m. Monday a ruling on whether Richardson Bay houseboats — as floating vessels — are within the court's jurisdiction.

Attorney Carl Shapiro, representing two houseboat dwellers who face criminal charges for failure to apply for occupancy permits, has contended the boats are under the sole jurisdiction of the federal government.

Defendants are Alexis Tellis and Joan Buys. The ruling originally was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but Judge Goldstein said he hasn't completed consideration of the matter.

Fairfax Bans Free-Running Dogs, Asks More County Enforcement

A dog control measure was approved 3 to 2 last night by the Fairfax City Council in an effort to "expert pressure" on the County of Marin to establish new, uniform dog controls before July 1969, as now proposed.

The new ordinance requires that dogs be kept on a leash or under direct control of the owner at all times, but does not include provisions for enforcement or issuing citations.

Mayor Robert R. Souza, who said he thinks the city should "exert pressure" on the county, noted there are about 900 dogs in Fairfax. "That's more dogs than people," he joked.

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell said, "We're stuck with December and the months between now and then (July). Is there anything we can work out with the Humane Society between now and then?" he asked Dean Southwell, the society's director of operations.

Southwell said it may be possible and recommended talking to the county administrator since the county contracts for the society's services.

"If the new ordinance is put into effect tonight, what added enforcement would we get?" asked Councilman Frank J. Egger, attempting to pin Southwell down. Southwell said "none" until July 1969.

Egger noted there is no provision in the ordinance for money for an extra man to serve Fairfax exclusively and commented, "They're just going to pass this ordinance and hope they (dogs) go away." He and Mrs. Adelaide Wilson voted against the ordinance.

Several residents of Fairfax appeared to support strong dog legislation and made impassioned pleas to the council to approve the new ordinance.

Learning that enforcement would not be increased, one woman commented, "If there's money for everything else, there is money for a strong dog control law."

A petition with pages of signatures was also presented in favor of strong dog control.

Southwell told the council almost 600 animals have been taken from the area in the past five months and the society spends about 80 hours a month in Fairfax, including 15 hours on patrol.

The county proposal, which would double the number of men and trucks of the society, would increase the Fairfax patrol time to 41 hours, Souza reported.

Mrs. Wilson asked that a citation provision be included in the ordinance, but her motion died for lack of a second after City Atty. Wallace Myers said it would delay the measure a month.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

CHRISTMAS — Accepted a live Christmas tree for permanent placement in the Parkade from Mrs. Elenor Jones, and gave $150 and the city's stored decorations to the Fairfax Merchants Association for a Christmas display.

WOMEN'S CLUB — Denied a request from the Fairfax Lions Club to use the Women's Club for meetings without paying the fee.

APPOINTMENTS — Named Joseph Martinez to the park and recreation commission to replace Edwin H. McGee, the third member to resign this year; reappointed Harold S. Lezzeni and Martin Zernicke to the planning commission and Clifford Cordes to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Dell Blodgett, administrative secretary, and set an adjourned meeting for 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Fairfax Women's Club to discuss specifications for the job and recruitment for a replacement.

Officer Fined On Disturbance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police Inspector Richard Castro has been fined $50 for disturbing the peace.

Castro was accused of slamming his pistol on the counter of a drive-in Nov. 1 when an attendant refused to serve him ahead of customers there before him.

Castro originally pleaded innocent to charges of disturbing the peace and displaying a gun in a threatening manner, but after the latter charge was dropped he changed his plea to guilty.

Municipal Judge Joseph Kennedy handed down the sentence yesterday.

Supervisors Fill Three Span Seats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Board of Supervisors yesterday selected three of its 11 members as its representatives on the board of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

William C. Blake was named to one of the two new city seats on the board, and Ronald Pelosi and Peter Tamaras were named to replace Dan London and William D. Hadeler, whose terms expire Dec. 24.

Hadeler has been on the bridge board since 1936, and London since 1952.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto is to appoint someone to the other new seat on the bridge board. Both seats, as well as one new one each for Marin and Sonoma counties, opened up Nov. 13. That was the effective date of a bill expanding the board, authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Napa County has challenged the constitutionality of the new law, and the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors is holding off appointment of its third representative until the suit is settled. The Marin County Board of Supervisors agreed to make its appointment in January, when three new supervisors will take office.

Winter's a pain.

You're cooped-up inside,
the birds stop singing,
the blossoms are gone,
you can't go to the beach,
it's wet and rainy,
it gets dark earlier,
and your PG&E bills go up.

But look at the brighter side. Think of all the delicious hot meals, cozy warmth, television watching and other indoor comforts you're now enjoying. You're buying a little more PG&E energy to make winter a lot less painful. But with six reductions in our gas and electricity rates in the past five years—it's still the biggest bargain in your family budget.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Price-Fixing Objectionable, No Matter Who Does It

"People who want to fix the price of anything can always produce arguments to support their case — except that, from the consumers' standpoint, the arguments are never very persuasive."

This was the lead paragraph last week on an editorial in the Wall Street Journal. The editorial dealt with a proposal for a state milk pricing law in New Jersey, designed to set prices high enough to guarantee dealers a return of about 12 per cent.

Pointed out the Wall Street Journal: "If the state guarantees them a 'healthy' rate of return on their investment whether they increase their efficiency or not, why in the world should they bother to lay out money on new machinery and other facilities? . . The price-control umbrella, as it always does, would discourage the sort of competitive industry effort to modernize that would actually help to keep retail prices down."

THE COMMENT is particularly interesting in California because we have had just such state milk price control for many years. Anyone who pays the milk bill is probably well aware that it has been of little help to the consumer. Whether it has been a help to the dairy industry is highly debatable. There are some former dairy farmers in Marin and Sonoma counties who claim it has been the opposite.

We have also, in California, state price control on one other commodity: liquor. In this case, the state permits the distillers to set their prices, but the law enforcement machinery acts as their private agent to prevent dealers from cutting below the fixed price.

Anyone who has purchased liquor outside of California is aware that this arrangement has scarcely been a money-saver for Golden State booze buyers. The distillers like it. There is division of opinion among the liquor dealers — as there is among the dairy farmers over state milk price controls.

ALL SUCH price control laws, of course, fly in the face of the doctrine of free competition that is written into federal anti-trust laws. They get around the prohibition on price-fixing in those laws by legal hocus-pocus.

There is another kind of price-fixing, however, that has no such legal license. This goes on all the time among the producers of many products, from gasoline to breakfast cereals.

One would have to be naive, indeed, to believe that it is mere coincidence that virtually all major brands of gasoline sell at the same price in the same area; or that MJB, Folger's and Maxwell House coffees — for instance — carry the same shelf prices in the grocery store, or that the similar cereals made by Post and Kellogg sell at the same price in the same size packages. There are dozens more such examples.

ALL OF THESE mock the premise, so often repeated and enshrined in federal statutes, that our is a free economy.

That the Justice Department does so little about blatant disregard of legal strictures on price-fixing is a scandal. But it is still worse when a state enshrines price fixing in its own statutes.

Fertilizer In The Sky?

We have all heard of pie in the sky, usually in reference to big promises by politicians. Now, however, serious proposals have been made to use fertilizers, such as ammonium nitrate, in place of silver iodide for seeding clouds to produce rain.

Producing rain is usually remote from the minds of Marinites this time of year, but it is a pleasant thought that in parts of the country that are in dire need of moisture, it can be vitaminized, so to speak, with fertilizer.

Highway Division's Man Shows His Agency's Devotion To Cars

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The popular notion is that the state Division of Highways is a tool of the highway interests — automobile manufacturers, the oil and gas industry, highway contractors and automobile clubs.

A fair-minded person naturally would doubt such an unkind generalization, unless he happened to see the tool in action. We had our first exposure recently, and it was a dilly.

THE DIVISION'S traffic engineer, Gerald L. Russell, was appearing before the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee, which is supposed to be coordinating development of improved bus service between Marin and San Francisco.

Russell argued that reserving a freeway lane for buses would mean that fewer vehicles could use the lane than if it were left open to private cars.

To the disbelief of federal, county and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District officials in the room, Russell based key figures of his calculations on comparisons of the amount of highway space taken by buses and cars.

LOST SOMEWHERE in his detailed figuring on a blackboard, however, were two important facts. First, he overlooked the fact that more people fit in a bus than in a car, and second, he failed to explain why he assumed that at least 60 per cent of all Marin commuters would have to use buses before a lane reserved for them would be "efficient."

Also, his figures did not take into account a proposal made at the meeting by a federal highway official that the reserved bus lane accommodate car pools.

What was most obvious in Russell's presentation, however, was that he did not seem to care that all but his own state colleagues disbelieved him. Smiles and shrugs were the best he could offer when challenged.

AFTER ALL, his bosses in the Division of Highways were the only ones who need be convinced that the private motor vehicle is the only way to move people — and his bosses don't need a lot of figures to prove to them what their own prejudices already tell them.

The proposal that a freeway lane be reserved for public transit seems doomed to almost eternal damnation by the Division of Highways.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE suicide statistics culled last week by Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring show that jumpers don't care much for fog or rain.

Only two of the some 400 have occurred on rainy days, he reported, and very few occurred on foggy days.

Other findings were that about half were pedestrians and about half used a vehicle to get out on the bridge; 77 per cent jumped from the east side; most jumped south of the north tower; most occurred during daylight, and nearly 75 per cent were males.

The bridge and highway district board is to act Friday on Luehring's proposal that a six-week test of a roving suicide patrol on the bridge be tried, and that bridge crews be taught how to detect and handle persons bent on suicide.

If Hayakawa Alone, America Is Dying

If I understand anything about the American legend it is that our people have refused to live in fear. To avoid living in fear they made some understandable mistakes, of course; but the Vigilantes of California rose to make their meaning known. And the Vigilantes could not have existed without a need and without the consent of the public.

I never thought I would live to see the day that the American public would give its consent — for that is what it means — for a hoodlum student group to harass and rough up the person of the president of the university. There he is, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, fighting it out alone. I doubt not that Dr. Hayakawa is receiving anonymous threats for his brave counter-attacks on the riff-raff that has kept San Francisco State closed. That's the kind of a quiet terror that lurks beneath the surface in well-advertised places of culture these days.

Dr. Hayakawa deserves the visible and vocal support of all persons who respect orderly living and due process of law. Unless he and/or other brave, sane leaders are given the broad public support they deserve, predictably the Vigilantes will rise again to step into a vacuum created by a people who have withdrawn their confidence in and support of law enforcement. Look: it is already happening in New York City!

Even brave men have bleak moments of misgivings; largely because of knowing their strength, they fear to hurt. Even brave men are lonely.

Why not send this distinguished, brave, good man — the Man of the Year 1968 — an expression of your confidence and good wishes? You'll feel a better, braver person yourself if you do.

Do you remember when a late-working New York secretary returned to her Forest Hills home, some years ago, and was attacked and stabbed repeatedly by her murderer? Remember how she screamed for help? And how windows of apartments went up and people observed her? And nobody so much as placed a phone call to police? And nobody went to her side? And remember that it took her some hours to die . . . alone and in public view?

According to my memory, that was the first unmistakable evidence that America — all that she was in legend and all that she possessed initially which contributed to her uniqueness in the world — was dying.

On Police Right To Search Home

One of the "bad smells" from the Leydecker marijuana case is troubling me very much, and that is the police angle. From the newspaper stories, I gather that if the police enter your home for any reason, they can make a search. I had always been under the impression that they had to go get a warrant, if they had any reason for thinking a law had been broken.

Some of my neighbors say that if you invite a policeman into your home for any reason he may make a search (and they cite cases where it has happened); that if you allow an officer in to make a telephone call he may then go ahead and search the place for possible violations. I have always considered myself on the side of the law, and have never hesitated to call on "the law" for help . . . but if I am mistaken about this I shall certainly never co-operate again. I am not breaking any laws, but neither do I care to have anyone search my home.

FLORENCE M. RODGERS
Lagunitas

(Editor's note: The legal interpretation is that if police are called to a home and, in response to the call, see something there that is illegal, they can make a seizure and/or arrest. However, this does not entitle them to conduct a search without a warrant. For this reason, evidence in the Leydecker-Rabuzzi case, if it had gone to trial, probably would have been limited to the marijuana cigarette butts which were visible without conducting a search.)

Reminder Needed Of Costs We Pay

Good for the I-J for taking advantage of an excellent teaching situation to demonstrate the costs our society is paying for our obsession with the automobile. Your timely leadership is necessary if we are to create a sane society, conserve our natural heritage and produce a style of life that satisfies human needs. In a time when we are in danger of being overwhelmed with our own technology and blind to the price we pay for immediate convenience and profit, please continue to remind us that there are reasonable alternatives to air pollution, destruction of nature, suburban blight and commercial ugliness. In my opinion your editorial of Dec. 5 shows the greatness of a free and socially responsible press.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

WELL-HEELED Londoners are experiencing the same trouble we are in finding—and keeping — satisfactory servants. Mourning her latest defeat in the kitchen department, Lady Blysdale recently wrote a friend, "The cook I hired last month was a good cook as cooks go — but as good cooks go, she went!"

A TOP executive told a newly hired secretary to inform Allis-Chalmers in Milwaukee he had been called suddenly out of town for an emergency and would not be able to keep a scheduled appointment. Returned to his office, he found this carbon: "Alice Chalmers, Milwaukee. Dear Alice: I'm leaving for Houston, Texas, so our date is off." Horrified, he phoned the Allis-Chalmers people and begged them not to show the letter to anybody. "Not show it to anybody?" was the answer. "It's been on the bulletin board for three days!"

Squeeze Is On French People As De Gaulle Fights For Franc

PARIS — "No discipline!" These two words, spat out angrily by the taxi driver as we are trapped in rush-hour traffic, sum up President de Gaulle's problem today.

An army of price controllers is being assembled to try to hold the lid on in a country where price variations from one small shop to another just around the corner are the rule. What is, in effect, a sales tax on virtually everything is going up from 16 per cent to 19 per cent. Currency controllers are beginning to operate at every border exit to try to keep francs from flooding out of the country.

THE ARCHITECT of all this, and the likely scapegoat if it fails, is Maurice Couve de Murville, the austere Protestant civil servant whom De Gaulle made his prime minister. When he removed Georges Pompidou, who came out of the banking house of Rothschild, to put Couve in his place, the big financiers and industrialists were added to the long list of those resenting De Gaulle's authority. And they have even more reason to be resentful now that the premier is responsible for tightening the screws on the French economy.

But it is here in Paris that the dilemma of the Europe of the past and the Europe of a common cause still unborn is seen in its most acute form. The monuments in the heart of the city, so little changed except for the remorseless tide of traffic, speak the magnificence of the past. It is the grandeur De Gaulle evoked in a new surge of nationalism seeking to put France, a country of 50 million people, in the rank of the great powers again.

FOR THE FRENCH the heritage of the great past is a consolation and a constant reproach to those who would deny the France of today a full and commanding place in the sun. It is in evoking the past that the French excel.

But if the cultural leadership of France is unchallenged, the lag in technology in a world increasingly dominated by the technicians is all too evident. In distribution the traditional prevails, with only a few supermarkets pioneering the way to lower prices and more efficient marketing. The French housewife goes to five or six separate stores to do her shopping.

Construction methods are out of the past. The big blocks of low-cost housing going up on the outskirts of Paris are said to be shoddily built. Their deterioration into new-style slums is accomplished in five years or less. In order to keep France self-sufficient in agriculture, the government pays the farmer a subsidy 10 times as great as the average spent on a student's education.

A PRIMARY goal of De Gaulle's policy was to build up the nation's reserves of gold and foreign currencies. Despite the loss of $1,700,000,000 during the assault on the franc, the reserves ares till sizable, perhaps $4 billion. But this was done at a cost to the economy that is now having to be met in a squeeze of the greatest urgency.

The brilliantly lighted Christmas decorations are up on the big department stores and the temples of high style — Dior, Poirot, Lanvin and the others. Shop windows glitter with jewels, real and imitation, but to the French eye the display of rare and costly foods merits almost more-loving attention.

For the present, pressure on the franc has relaxed. Some of the money the speculators took out of France is flowing back.

Those who look coldly and objectively at the money game believe, however, that this is only a kind of holiday respite. Once the pack of speculators has smelled blood, they do not give up. The prediction, therefore, is that another assault on the franc is likely to come in the new year.

BUT DE GAULLE still holds a trump card. He could do what many feared in the recent crisis — that is devalue the franc not by 9 or 10 per cent as he was urged, but by a dramatic 25 per cent. That would play havoc with the pound, the dollar, the mark and all other currencies.

It could force a complete overhaul of the present outmoded and badly frayed monetary system, or it could precipitate a world economic crisis like that which began in 1930. As a last act in the extraordinary drama of his life, De Gaulle could play Samson in the temple and bring the structure crashing down.

Two Shots Remind Khan Of Pakistan's Turmoil

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the ancient caravan city of Peshawar in northwestern Pakistan two shots rang out near the platform where President Mohammad Ayub Khan sat.

They missed whatever had been their target but for Ayub, who for 10 years has ruled the country, first under martial law as the army's commander-in-chief and then as president, it was an uncomfortable reminder that Pakistan was going through one of its most turbulent times since independence in 1947.

He did not need to be reminded that in 1969 he faces national elections.

STUDENT disorders began early in November with demands for educational reforms and a greater voice in national affairs.

They spread quickly through both East and West Pakistan, from Peshawar, gateway to the storied Khyber Pass in the northeast to Dacca in the east.

Just outside Peshawar is the American base, soon to be abandoned, from which for 10 years the United States has monitored Soviet space and missile programs.

CONTRIBUTING to student unrest were various leftwing politicians, among them former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto. Bhutto, an ambitious and self-assured politician, was one of the leading architects of Pakistan's warm relations with Red China and the corresponding coolness in relations with the United States.

Prior to his arrest on Nov. 13 on charges of inciting West Pakistanis to violence, he drew cheers from student audiences with the assertion he had resigned from the cabinet because Ayub botched the 1965 war with India.

His arrest created new demonstrations, and in Rawalpindi, student marchers shouted, "Death to Ayub!"

IN HIS 10 years in power, Ayub has encouraged development of industry and agriculture, has made an effort to control Pakistan's enormous birth rate and has given the country stability.

Much of it was accomplished with the financial help of the United States, which, prior to the war with India, had totaled more than $3 billion in economic aid and more than $1.25 billion in arms aid.

Now the military man, who came to power on charges of corruption within a civilian government, is being accused of corruption within his own government.

WITH BHUTTO out of the way, it might be expected his political troubles would ease.

But a new and powerful figure has come on stage. He is Mohammad Asghar Khan, a former commander of Pakistan's air force and a man widely respected for his integrity. He accuses the government of running a police state, of suppressing free speech, of government graft and a widening gap between rich and poor.

The role he intends to play remains unclear. But it could spell trouble for President Ayub Khan, the man with the similar name.

Parent Unrest Brings About Call For Unusual Meeting In Novato

When I was a youth, someone (I cannot now recall just who) told me that in this country, things must go from bad to worse before the people are roused up enough to do something about it.

The point was that this country runs along fairly well with everyone tending to his own business and not worrying too much about things in geneeral, as long as there is no major upheaval. It might be called apathy, and maybe it is. But when things get bad enough, the public is aroused out of this apathy, and sees to it that things are straightened out before settling back into lethargy.

ONE OF THESE things is discipline in the schools. For several years we have heard rumblings of parental discontent in Novato about discipline especially at Hill Junior High School. However, these rumblings stayed beneath the surface and did not break out into anything like a parent revolt.

Now with the troubles in colleges in the Bay Area drawing national attention, parents are beginning to stir. Several things are bringing discontent to a head on a local level. These include a reaction to the sex education program in the Novato schools, and knowledge of the use of marijuana, not only in the high schools, but going down to the junior high school level.

THE SPARK that really lit the fire under many parents was the arrest of James Kimmel, a Novato High School teacher, on suspicion of possession of marijuana and purchasing it from a student on the campus.

At the last Novato Unified School District Board meeting, three parents asked for a public meeting with the board to discuss discipline, use of drugs, what was being taught in the classrooms, lack of patriotism and respect for the flag, and a code of dress for teachers.

The school board said that it would hold such a meeting in January.

Since that decision, we have received numerous calls, both in person and on the telephone, asking that we be sure to notify the public when that meeting will be held.

Jerrold Moore, president of the Novato Teachers' Association, said the teachers themselves have been trying to work out a code of acceptable dress for faculty members, but it was not developed enough to submit to the board.

THE TEACHERS are the first to state that there are a few who do not fulfill what other teachers think is a good job of teaching.

Moore indicated he thought the time may have passed when teachers needed the full protection of the tenure law. He said he personally would be willing to exchange the tenure law for one in which teachers could transfer all of their teaching credits from one district to another. Now they are given credit for only five years teaching, he said.

So there is the setting for a mass meeting in Novato in January.

Stick With Successful Formula; Take Democrats Back To Chicago

WASHINGTON — It may be a little early, but a new organization has just been formed to bring the Democratic convention back to Chicago in 1972.

The chairman of the group, Upton Mace, told me that he hoped to get Vice President Hubert Humphrey to serve as honorary chairman.

"After all that Chicago did for him," Mace said, "that's the least the vice president could do for Chicago."

"BUT THERE ARE some who feel that Mayor Daley may have cost Humphrey the election."

"Nonsense. If it wasn't for Chicago, the vice president might have got off to a very slow start in his campaign," Mace said. "As it was, Chicago fired up the party and they all left determined to make Hubert a winner."

"They did?"

"Of course. Everyone was talking about Chicago after the conventions. As a matter of fact, they still are."

"I know the Democrats are talking about Chicago, but I'm not sure they're talking about it in the same terms that you are," I said.

"NONSENSE," Mace said. "I don't think there's one member of the Democratic Party, or for the matter the press, who wouldn't come back to Chicago next week for a political convention if we asked them to. After all, we have everything here: beautiful parks, wonderful hotels and excellent hospital facilities. Where else could you be clubbed in a police riot and be in an ambulance in five minutes?"

"Nowhere," I had to admit. "By the way, about the clubbing of people. There are some people in the Democratic Party — I'm not saying many — who aren't certain that clubbing people over the head is good thing for the party's image."

"You'll always have malcontents in any party," Mace said. "The important thing is that the Democrats must hold their convention in a major city where the mayor has enough power to deliver the state. Chicago fills that bill."

"But Mayor Daley didn't deliver Illinois to the Democrats this year."

"That wasn't his fault," Mace said. "The only reason Illinois did not go to Humphrey was that Nixon got more votes."

"That's a point I hadn't thought of."

"LOOK, I DON'T have to sell Chicago to you," Mace said. "You were there this summer. Don't we have one of the finest police forces in the country?"

"The finest," I said. "They left their mark on a lot of people who were there this August."

"Of course they did," Mace said. "And do you know why? Because they're used to dealing with any kind of person that shows up at a political convention. Our cops are kind, courteous and noted for keeping their cool. Do you know they gave out less traffic tickets during August while the convention was on than during any week of the year?"

"Everyone I've spoken to," I said, "says Chicago policemen have big hearts. But this report by the committee on violence. . ."

"THAT'S A LOT of poppycock, written without the permission of Mayor Daley. If you really want to find out the truth about what happened in Chicago, you should read Mayor Daley's report. That was made with the co-operation of the Chicago Police Department, so it has some truth to it. You get private citizens writing about the police and you get a very distorted picture."

"Well, Mr. Mace, you've convinced me Chicago should be the site for the 1972 convention. Now all you have to do is convince the Democratic Party."

"Don't worry. We'll convince them. They'd be crazy, after what happened there this summer, to mess with a successful formula."

Fairfax Building Was On The Ballot

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported yesterday that the Fairfax proposal for a new fire-police-administration complex had been kept off the ballot by a 3 to 2 vote of the city council.

In fact, a $500,000 bond issue was defeated on the June ballot. It was placed before the voters by the 1966-68 council. The 3 to 2 vote came in May from the present council, which was asked to give the measure a vote of confidence.

State Panel To Eye Bay Travel Problems

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A hearing on how to provide better public transportation in the Bay Area will be held by the Assembly Transportation and Commerce at 10 a.m. Thursday in room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Representatives from the legislative analyst's office and Bay Area governments, including Marin County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, will testify at the all-day hearing.

The mess that is the transportation system in the Bay Area, according to committee chairman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, "is a classic example of what happens when there is virtual reliance on cars." Noting that 250,000 cars enter San Francisco daily, Foran said each additional car costs $25,000 for street and parking space.

The purpose of the hearing, he said in a statement, is "to pinpoint exactly where and why the transportation planning process is not functioning properly."

Election Set

The Novato Republican Federated Women will elect new officers at 11 a.m. Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Brian Hutcherson at 624 Plum Street, Novato. A luncheon will follow.

$50,000 Is Being Asked For Library

Supt. Howard F. Brose said yesterday the West Marin School District has applied for $50,000 in federal funds to expand its multimedia library and participate in a pilot program for such school libraries.

Brose told the district board that 150 school districts throughout California have applied for the project, but added that only 15 would be eligible.

The program has been prescribed by the title two of the federal Elementary Second Education Act. It would be administered by the state Department of Education.

The program would serve as a model to other schools in how to equip and manage a multimedia library, Brose said. Such a library has audio-visual materials besides printed resources.

About 100 sixth, seventh and eighth grade students attended yesterday's board meeting — held at 11 a.m. — and asked the superintendent and the trustees about district operations and costs and the trustees' own function.

Boys' Club Elects Directors' Slate

Ten Marin County residents have been elected directors of the Boys' Club of Southern Marin at the organization's second annual meeting in Sabella's Restaurant, Mill Valley.

They were Juanita Cobb and Collie Gaines of Marin City, Herman Boldetti of Corte Madera, Lanny Berry, Louis Sabella and Richard Skuse of San Rafael, Warren Callister and Ralph Noah of Belvedere, Crawford Greene Jr. of Ross and Ben Farlatti of Tiburon.

Shoulder Hurt In Auto Crash

A 20-year-old Kentfield man suffered a shoulder separation Sunday when he was thrown from his car when it hit a tree and fence at 126 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Ross.

Charles Benny Wright of 811 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Police said that Wright's northbound car skidded on wet pavement before running onto the property of Wilmot H. Groth.

A fence post flew into the bedroom window of the home, but no one was injured, police said.

The Civil Air Patrol has 76,000 members, all non-paid volunteers.

Tiburon Council Shifts Parking, No-Parking Areas In Long Talks

Tiburon's need for adequate downtown parking for commuters, shoppers and visitors last night occupied the attention of the Tiburon City Council for nearly four hours.

In two specific actions, the council unanimously voted to grant a temporary use permit for a 81-space parking lot on Paradise Drive at Main Street and to remove approximately 25 parking spaces along the southerly side of Paradise Drive between Main Street and Elephant Rock.

In approving the use permit, the council specified that ferryboat commuters be charged a minimal fee for parking in the lot — informally suggested at $2.50 a month — and noted that others using the lot would be charged a standard fee.

The council also sought to remove itself from a dispute between Jay Quetnick, Marshall Walthers and Michael Demaurex, all partners in Waterfront Properties, and Matthew B. Weinberg over ownership of the waterfront lot. The council conditioned the use permit approval on the city obtaining stipulations from the four property owners that the city would not be dragged into any litigation which might evolve from their personal quarrel.

In addition, the council asked for a second stipulation from both Weinberger and Waterfront Properties that the granting of the use permit would in no way prejudice litigation between the city and the property owners still pending in court over development of the waterfront along Paradise Drive south of Main Street.

A lengthy list of conditions concerning landscaping, lighting, grading and entrance and exit engineering was also tacked onto the use permit approval.

Councilman Branwell D. Fanning, acting as mayor in the absence of Mayor William R. Bremer, said he expected ferry boat commuters to fill the lot during the week but that in the evenings and on weekends it would provide additional parking spaces for residents and visitors.

Then, after granting the parking lot use permit, the council moved to ban all parking on the city right of way along the south side of Paradise Drive.

A proposal to prohibit parking as well on the northerly side of the street between Main and Mar West streets was delayed until the parking lot is completed.

Capt. William Johansen of the Tiburon sheriff's department said the parking ban, especially on the south side, is necessary for pedestrian and vehicular safety.

Emergency vehicles now cannot get through the street when it is clogged with heavy traffic or when an accident occurs, he said.

Fanning said he anticipated that the commuters who now park on Paradise Drive will move into the new parking lot when it opens but to ban all parking before the lot opens only means the cars will move to other narrow streets and block them.

"We must give the commuters a viable alternative to parking on the streets," he said.

In two other related matters, the council also touched on the problem of parking.

It declared its intent to approve on Jan. 13 a master plan for the addition of 44 rooms to the Tiburon Lodge but said adequate parking for the addition must be provided on adjacent property to be leased by the Tiburon Inn Corp. from Tiburon property owner Fred G. Zelinsky.

The council also said the proposed parking area to the north of the Lodge must be subdivided and attached to the Tiburon Lodge property in accordance with state laws.

Zelinsky was also asked to provide the city with an inventory of the number of parking spaces he has developed on his downtown land and holdings and to indicate the number of spaces allocated to each of the businesses on his property.

And, in answer to complaints that the addition to the Lodge will create a massive building downtown — especially as viewed from the surrounding hills — the council requested Ben A. Farlatti, Lodge owner, to provide alternate sketch plans showing a variation in the roof line and front facade.

Earlier in the evening, the council approved another master plan for Zelinsky property at 1-11 Main Street to rebuild shops piers and an apartment recently destroyed by fire.

The council ruled that, because of its committment last year to allow the rebuilding of all Main Street structures in case of fire or other disaster, the new building, similar to the one destroyed, could be constructed on the property.

However, the council stipulated that Zelinsky must provide 25 parking spaces for the building's ground floor shops and that he must be able to provide additional parking spaces for any use which might be approved for the second floor of the structure.

In related action, the council directed the city's planning commission to consider a zoning ordinance amendment which would extend the planned district zone to include all buildings on Main Street. Presently, some of the buildings extend into the park zone established outboard of Main Street.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ORDINANCE — Asked the city's planning consultant to provide definitions of "use" and "structure" for inclusion in the zoning ordinance to end confusion.

JUANITA LANE — Allocated $3,000 for the installation of a storm drain on Juanita Lane.

FUND TRANSFER — Authorized the transfer of $9,212 from gas tax fund to the general fund for the installation of a storm drain on Reed Ranch Road.

PRIORITIES — Asked the city manager and city engineer to study other public works projects on the city's priority list and recommend which, if any, should be completed this fiscal year.

FUND — Authorized the establishment of an open space fund into which citizens can contribute toward the purchase of trails, open space and park sites.

NUISANCE — Tabled an order against Thomas and Gerald Connell to abate a drainage nuisance in Blackie's Pasture.

MINIBOARD — Postponed to Jan. 13, because of the lateness of the hour, the establishment of a miniboard of the County Human Rights Commission to serve the Tiburon area.

APPOINTMENT — Postponed to Jan. 13, because of the lateness of the hour, the appointment of a citizen to replace Fanning on the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

ARKS — Ordered City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose to grant a temporary permit to Zelinsky to store two of the Belvedere arks on his property until July 1.

MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Jan. 13 in city hall and canceled its regularly scheduled Dec. 23 meeting because of the Christmas holiday.

School Named In RFK's Honor

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) —Sen. Edward M. Kennedy returned to the hills of West Virginia to dedicate a federal training school for boys yesterday, and became choked with emotion as he reminisced on the "affection" his late brothers held for the state.

Kennedy, D-Mass., and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark headed ceremonies dedicating the Robert F. Kennedy Youth Center, a school for boys in trouble, planned while Robert Kennedy was Attorney General.

"These hills, these people and this state have had a very special meaning for my family," the senator said. "Our lives have been tightly entertwined with yours."

"My brothers never forgot their travels here," he said in a quivering voice. "The words that passed between you and them were direct and honest," the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy said.

San Anselmo Apartments Given Nod

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night voted, 4-2, to give tentative approval of a 22-unit apartment development at 84 Madrone Avenue.

The special commission meeting was the fourth time commissioners wrestled with the application by Emily Merriman to rezone her property from single family to planned development.

She had asked for 24 units, but agreed to cut two units, and also agreed to dedicate frontage on Madrone and Center Boulevard for street widening, to leave as open space the portion of her 1.5-acre lot behind the creek, and to provide 31 parking spaces instead of the required 28, reported John T. O'Rourke, assistant city engineer.

Voting "no" were commissioners Allen J. Creighton and Philip S. Heinecke, who said there still would be too many units. Voting "yes" were commissioners John F. West, Joseph Gue, Kenneth L. Anderson and Dennis T. Moore. Commissioner Warren R. Perry was absent.

The approval was on condition that the commission later approve more detailed design and landscaping plans.

State Delays Action On Boaters' Sewage

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The state Harbors and Watercraft Commission delayed action yesterday on requiring shoreside facilities for the dumping of waste until a complete study can be made.

The commission had been considering new regulations requiring shoreside facilities for the dumping of waste from marine toilets and holding tanks. The regulations also call for equipment to pump sewage into a retention or disposal system approved by local authorities to meet discharge requirements of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Commissioner William H. Wilson said he felt the proposal was extremely far reaching. "We must take a stand, but don't have all the facts," he said, suggesting that, if necessary, a company be hired to make a survey.

Fred Derker of the regional water quality board spoke in favor of the proposal, but suggested that persons on the local level look at the entire system of sewage disposal and not just retention facilities.

Noting that many marina areas of San Francisco Bay were polluted, he said, "It's a matter of decency and the visual appearance of the waters. You couldn't build a house along a bay and deposit raw sewage into it."

Commissioner William A. de Groot Jr. said he had recently spent some time at Bolinas Bay and saw sewage running from a pipe into the waters. "It was unbelievable — it went right into the water," he said.

Wilson questioned whether shoreside sewage facilities for boats should be required statewide. "It's silly to put holding tanks on all boats when it isn't needed everywhere," he said, noting that in some areas tidal waters provided natural flushing actions.

Commission Chairman Edmund P. Halley said a legislative committee was holding a hearing today on the requirement to have all boats equipped with holding tanks to prevent waste being dropped into the water.

John S. Habel of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Association said pleasure boats cause an extremely small part of the pollution problem. He added, however, that laws against littering need to be more strongly enforced.

He said the main contributors to water pollution were larger commercial and military vessels.

Commissioner Wilson called for more public hearings on the regulations before serious consideration of adoption is given by the commission.

In other business yesterday, the commission adopted new lighting regulations requiring vessels under 150 feet to carry a white light forward that will be visible for at least two miles.

One-Car Crashes Injure Three

Three persons were injured in separate one-car crashes on Highway 101 yesterday, the California Patrol reported today.

Sharon D. Walter, 21, of 99 Upland Road, Kentfield, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a scalp cut and concussion suffered when her car hit a puddle and spun into a ditch near Willow Avenue in San Rafael at 3:30 p.m.

Joanne P. Wells, 22, of 808 Maple Drive, Petaluma, was treated at Novato General Hospital for face bruises after her car skidded off the highway four miles north of Novato at 8:45 a.m.

Gary G. Smith, 23, of 33-B Circle Drive, Tiburon, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises of the left hand after his car spun into the center divider in Greenbrae at 2 p.m., flattening 60 feet of fence.

Review Asked On Central Crime Lab

The City-County Services Committee voted last night to ask the Marin Board of Supervisors to review a proposal for a central crime laboratory for the use of all law enforcement units in the county.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported it would cost an estimated $50,000 to set up such a facility and an estimated $40,000 a year to operate it. Costs would be borne by the county, he said.

The committee also recommended and sent to Marin cities proposed amendments to the county's uniform animal control ordinance, Barrows said.

The change includes a requirement that dogs be under the control of a responsible person and increases from five to 10 the number of men and vehicles available for enforcement.

The committee took under consideration a request from the county health officer, Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, that the health department be authorized to review all permits to build or remodel food handling establishments to make sure plans conform to state laws.

Auto Stereo Stolen

William L. Marsh of 228 Union Street, San Rafael, reported yesterday that his auto stereo, valued at $105, was taken from his car while it was parked in front of his house during the night, police said. A window had been pried to gain entry, police said.

Long Terms Set For Teen-Age Mass Slayer

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Thomas Charles Fuller II, 19, convicted slayer of five brothers and sisters, was sentenced today to two consecutive sentences of 70 to 90 years in prison.

Circuit Court Judge Harry I. Hannah, in handing down the sentences in Coles County Circuit Court said, "The nature and the enormity of the crime demands that the defendent receive a substantial penalty."

Fuller pleaded guilty to the killings Oct. 23, of five children of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox. The slayings occurred April 27 on their farm northwest of Mattoon.

Judge Hannah said he rejected the death penalty in light of fuller's youth, the fact that he had no previous record and that psychiatrists and psychologists had testified that there was a possibility of Fuller's rehabilitation.

Doing Their Part For Holiday

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Several youth groups will be represented in the 15 booths and four boothettes at the holiday show '68 at the Novato Community House on Friday from 7 to 10 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. This is the annual show sponsored by the Novato Garden Club.

Among the youth groups will by the Novato Aggies 4-H Club. Members, who normally have projects such as sheep, guide dogs, bees, clothing or sewing, have been busy making Christmas tree decorations for sale.

President of the Aggies is Diane Eide, a 17-year-old senior, who has been making "angels" from lids of tin cans to hang on a tree. Using kitchen shears, she makes four cuts towards the center, leaving two thin strips which are bent forward to make the arms; the bottom part is twisted around to make the skirt. Part of the lid is cut away, leaving two half circle and a thin strip in the center. The circles are clipped to resemble wings, and a tiny bead is placed at the top of the thin strip to resemble a head. (See diagram.)

Another group of the Aggies are making God's eyes, a Mexican Christmas religious symbol which is hung in the home to protect the dweller. It has become a hippie symbol.

To make the God's eye, use round double pointed tooth picks and glue or tape together, making four equal parts. Mrs. Jack Miklos, project leader, says she prefers to use variegated yarn, which makes a nice design without having to change yarns. Knot yarn in center of cross, wind around each arm once, turn counter clockwise, wind again, keeping yarn taut, wind around until yarn covers all of the tooth picks. Leave six inches of yarn at the top so they can be hung on the tree, and a small pom pon at the base.

Novato Aggie members also made decorative cookies and decorated styrofoam balls to be hung on the christmas tree. Mrs. Harry Eide, community 4-H leader, says the recipe they used for the cookies was one taken from the Independent-Journal many years ago.

The Novato Aggies, numbering 75 members, will use the funds from the sale at the Community House for several projects, including helping to buy dog food for those raising Guide Dogs for the Blind and to send children to camp.

Two other youth organizations will have boothettes Cub Pack 56, with Mrs. Donald O'Keefe as booth chairman, will sell mistletoe and the MICHAEL AVELLA, 10, is taking woodworking as his 4-H project, but here he decorates an artificial tree with the many items the Novato 4-H Aggies have made for the Holiday Show '68, sponsored by the Novato Garden Club, to be held at the Novato Community House on Friday and Saturday. Mike also helped to make God's eyes, such as at the top of the tree.

KRISTINE MIKLOS, 10, and Debra Avella, 12, first year members in the clothing group of the Novato Aggies, discuss making God's eyes which were originally a Mexican Christmas religious symbol hung in the home to protect the dweller. They are now also a hippie symbol.

No Crashers For Queen's Yule Party

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II wants to spend this Christmas without gatecrashers.

She has dropped the annual staff party at Buckingham Palace and instead has chartered buses to take her servants out to a celebration at Windsor Castle.

As a royal spokesman primly put it, "There used to be one staff party at the palace and one at Windsor. The queen has decided this year to hold a joint one at Windsor."

Apparently she noticed too many unfamiliar faces at the previous parties in London.

Invitations go to all her staff, including the cleaning women, the grooms, chauffeurs, coachmen, gardeners, and the policemen who guard the royal family. They are allowed to bring one friend or relative whose name must be given in advance to prevent gatecrashing.

But some of the actual tickets seem to have been passed on to outsiders, leading to the queen's re-organization.

This huge staff party for more than 800 guests will liven up the royal Christmas, which the queen chooses to spend quietly with her immediate relatives at Windsor, her favorite home.

Dancing will be in the enormous Waterloo Chamber, one of the state apartments, with a pop band and a conventional ballroom band playing alternately.

One of the world's largest carpets, a two-ton, 80-foot mammoth specially woven in India for Queen Victoria, will have to be taken up.

Queen Elizabeth probably will have a whirl with her footman while Prince Philip dances with a kitchen maid and the Queen Mother trips a measure with a teen-age apprentice pantry boy.

Ceremony is relaxed for the party. Once a young footman was smitten by Princess Margaret and composed a poem in her honor. He claimed a dance with her and recited it as they waltzed.

The girls compete for Prince Charles, the 20-year-old heir to the throne. Last year, Charles foxed them by leading out the Buckingham Palace tea and coffee maker, who is in her 50's and weighs nearly 200 pounds.

The queen does her staff proud with a champagne buffet that would be a credit to any top international hotel and a cabaret which admittedly is weighted with old favorites of hers, including ventriloquist Peter Brough who has appeared at the party for 20 years. This is one occasion when the queen does not object to pointed jokes about royal life.

The royal staff also get a Christmas present from the queen. Her housekeeper goes around with a list beforehand, asking what everyone would like —maybe something for the home, to wear, or a gift voucher.

The queen hands the presents over beneath the Christmas tree where her own family's gifts will go on Christmas Eve.

She selects the tree from the estate at Windsor on one of her horse rides before breakfast, a favorite weekend occupation. The foresters cut it down and the staff ties on colored lanterns and silver ornaments.

The queen did her Christmas shopping for friends overseas early this year because of her absence from Britain in November for a state visit to South America.

She also made most of the domestic arrangements early.

The family goes to church Christmas morning, then sits down to the traditional lunch of roast turkey and plum pudding. The afternoon is given over to the children. In the evening, they dismiss the servants, help themselves to a cold buffet, and entertain themselves with television, records and conversation.

Freedom First Fashions Reign

The freedom first fashion trend that made mini skirts de rigeur from Omaha to Oahu soon will have average women wearing one-piece, neck-to-toe garments and even flirting with the nude look, says Henry V. Kobin, head of U.S. Industries Apparel and Accessory Group. "Of course, it is going to be awhile yet before you'll see housewives walking down the streets of Keokuk, Iowa, in body-stockings or see-through blouses. But the demand for greater convenience and comfort in women's wear is firmly established now, and we expect it will have a long run."

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Taming The Shrew Causes Her To Seek Advice On Retaliation

DEAR HELEN:

I'm writing this letter with tears and pain. Not in my heart but on my backside.

It's my fiance, Mike. He is four years older than I, and thinks he is boss.

What happened was that I got sore at a teacher and called her a vulgar name. The principal suspended me for two days. I played sick and didn't tell my folks, but the note he sent home required I have my father's signature before I could come back to school.

I asked Mike to forge my dad's name, and he said I had to tell my folks. I got mad and starting swearing. He said I was acting like a child and he pulled me over his knee and spanked me. Imagine that! I'm almost 18.

Mike drove me home and I ran to my room There was a lot of talking downstairs, then my dad called me. He knew about the note and the spanking—and he said I deserved it. Then they started to laugh and my temper boiled over. I swore and stomped and threw things at Mike — and that's when I got it again.

He is still acting very masterful. Everytime he comes over, I'm greeted with a kiss and a good hard whack on my behind. What can I do? — SORE, SAD AND SORRY SANDI.

DEAR SANDI:

Repent, reform — and retaliate!

Tell him the shrew has been tamed, but his whacks may cause a relapse. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Yesterday two of my sisters got married. They are both going to have babies. One of my sisters got pregnant on purpose so she could keep her boy friend. She said I should, too, as it's the only way I'll be sure he will marry me.

I love my steady but I don't want to get him in that kind of trouble. Is this the only way to keep him? — AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID:

It's the best way I know to lose him. I think your foolish sisters will agree within a year. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I protest.

I was shocked at the "groovy" prayer one of your readers sent in. You shouldn't call God "Dad," and you should use "Thee," "Thine," and "Thou," as signs of respect. People will forget who they are talking to, if they use hip language in prayers. — SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED:

If the message is right, do you really think God worries about the words? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

For the girl who couldn't understand the Bible and prayed "modern:" There are excellent teen-ager editions of Bible chapters now available. You can get them at almost any big book store or supply house for religious material.

Tyndale House, Publishers, Wheaton, Ill., has a very good series of paperback Bible adaptations. — STUDENT

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Latex Paint

A quality latex paint is the best thing for the do-it-yourselfer painting ordinary walls and ceilings. It is easily applied and gives a smoother appearance, leaves no lap marks and dries quickly. Simple soap and water scrubbing cleans it.

High Styled Gifts For Men

This Christmas help your man emerge from his drab camouflage, suggests the Jewelry Industry Council.

Consider pins for the roll of his turtleneck, stone-set identification bracelets and even charms. Also heavy pendants in motifs for masculine appeal, heraldic or primitive in design. Opulence? Give him a chain of cultured pearls, dangling an impressive pendant of hammered gold and precious gems.

Belvedere Teens Get Center—An Old Ark

A Belvedere ark named The Mermaid will be donated by the Belvedere Land Co. for use as a center for Tiburon Peninsula teen-agers, the Belvedere City Council learned last night.

The offer, made by David W. Allen, president of the company, was an instant answer to the hopes of Roger Felton, chairman of the Belvedere Parks and Recreation Commission.

The main need expressed by seven teen-age representatives meeting with the Belvedere and Tiburon recreation commissions last week was for a meeting place, Felton had told the council. Allen said The Mermaid would be relocatdd on railroad property adjacent to the old ferry slip on the Tiburon waterfront within a week.

The recreation commission was also directed to work with Boy Scout Panther Troop No. 9 to find a suitable community service project. The troop had offered to paint street numbers on curbs in the lagoon area.

A formal agreement with Marin County implementing the contribution of $4,500 from the city to assist with the purchase of two acres of land adjacent to the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Museum, formerly Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon, was approved.

Councilman John R. Moore proposed negotiating a new lease with the state Highway Department for property on Lagoon Road, owned by the state and used by the city as a corporation yard. Under the proposal, a 90-foot strip not now used by the city could be made available to the Belvedere Land Co. for an enclosed yard for parking a truck used to haul garden cuttings and other debris. The company plans to negotiate a separate lease with the state for this property, Allen said.

Mrs. Beatrice Mann, a Lagoon Road resident, protested this use of the land, which she said "would be more suitable for a park."

The Belvedere City Council also:

LICENSE — Granted Capt. E. J. Towe permission to repair the pier berow his home on Corinthian Island.

ANGEL ISLAND — Passed a resolution opposing the selection of Angel Island as a missile base.

CATV — Heard a progress report on Cable Antenna Television completion will be delayed 120 additional days because of relocation of poles by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. The new target date is late next spring.

TRAFFIC HAZARD — Discussed relocating a stop sign and establishing a crosswalk at Bayview Avenue and Laurel Street as a protection for children walking to Belvedere School. Consultation with principal Jack Usilton on the plan was recommended.

DRAINAGE — Learned a study of the San Rafael Avenue storm drainage problem to find means of diverting street drains away from the Belvedere Lagoon is being undertaken with the Lagoon Property Owners Association, sharing equally with the city in study costs.

PROJECT PRIORITY — Discussed resurfacing of road and repair of retaining walls on Bayview Avenue and agreed to make Bayview Avenue improvements the next project under the city's five-year capital outlay program.

Lack Of Quorum

The San Rafael Library Board meeting scheduled last night was postponed for lack of a quorum. It will be rescheduled later this month, said librarian Vivian Smith.

Girl Relates Slaying Of Boyfriend

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — A Campbell girl said yesterday she was forced to partially disrobe and then shot after her boy friend was killed by a man who had picked them up as they hitchhiked to Salt Lake City.

Diane Bradford, 18, testified at the preliminary hearing of Richard Welch, 26, San Antonio, Tex. Welch is charged with the Sept. 25 murder of Randy Jenkins, 17, Salt Lake City, and the attempted murder of Miss Bradford.

The hearing continued today before Municipal Judge John Nairn.

Miss Bradford said Welch and his wife, Anita, 17, offered her and Jenkins a ride in Bakersfield. She said she went to sleep and was awakened near Mojave by two shots.

She saw Jenkins slump over and then was ordered by Welch to get out of the car and partially disrobe, she said.

Miss Bradford said she was forced to lie down on a blanket and then ordered to roll over on her stomach. After that, she said, she remembered nothing more.

She was shot in the back of the head and left in the desert to die but recovered from the wound.

Mrs. Welch pleaded guilty to being an accessory to the murder of Jenkins and was referred to the California Youth Authority diagnostic facility for a 90-day observation period.

"I've got these things going," the governor said, "the Urban Development Corp., the Metropolitan Transportation Authority and the antipollution programs—that are ready to help the cities and the state—and I wouldn't want to leave them."

Demo Club Calls For Closing Of State's Campus

The Mill Valley Democratic Club board has voted to support "the black community aims in the San Francisco State College crisis," according to Caroline Ramberg, club publicity chairman.

In a resolution unanimously adopted, the board asked that the campus be immediately closed to "avert further bloodshed," that all police including the San Francisco Police Department's tactical squad be removed and that acting president S. I. Hayakawa be removed and someone "having the respect and trust of the community at large, the faculty and students" be named as president.

The board also asked for "meaningful discussions with all parties concerned" and that ways be sought to meet the "justified demands" of the minority students.

No More Work For Officials Who Goofed

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Six football officials who deprived the Los Angeles Rams of a down in the last minute of a crucial National Football League game with the Chicago Bears Sunday have been told they will sit out the one remaining week of the season—plus any post-season games.

Pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle barred the six from further action in a statement yesterday that said "officials erred in not permitting Los Angeles one more down near the end of the game."

Chicago won, 17-16, keeping its hopes for a Central Division title alive and eliminating the Rams from championship contention in the Coastal Division.

A penalty against Los Angeles on the first down of its final series nullified an incomplete pass play. Following three additional incomplete passes, Rozelle said, "the ball was turned over to Chicago, thus depriving Los Angeles of a fourth down play to which it was entitled."

Rams coach George Allen viewed films of the game in Los Angeles yesterday and agreed his team should have gotten another down, but he had nothing to say for publication. Public criticism of game officials is against NFL rules, and Washington coach Otto Graham recently was fined $2,500 by Rozelle for saying "the officials stole the game from us."

Los Angeles was on its own 47-yard line, with five seconds left in the game, when the ball was given to Chicago after the penalty and three incomplete passes. It had 31 yards to go for a first down but could have had one more chance to throw a "bomb" or attempt a field goal, which would have come from some 60 yards away.

The officials were referee Norm Schachter, umpire Joe Connell, head linesman Burl Toler, line judge Jack Fette, back judge Adrian Burk and field judge George Ellis.

"All six game officials are equally responsible for keeping track of the downs," said Rozelle.

"The crew which officiated the Los Angeles-Chicago game is considered among the most competent in pro football. However, because all six must bear responsibility for the error, the entire crew will receive no further assignments for the remainder of the 1968 NFL season, including post-season games."

The penalty could be very costly to the officials in dollars and cents. Officials receive between $250 and $350 a regular season game, $300 and $1,000 for a Super Bowl assignment.

JIM GILMARTIN

A Day To Remember At Kezar Stadium

EGADS! — Dec. 8, 1968 may not become as infamous as Dec. 7, 1941, but it's a day I'll never forget.

At precisely 1:39 p.m. Sunday at drizzly, foggy Kezar Stadium an event took place that astounded the 29,049 spectators at the San Francisco 49ers-Minnesota Vikings football game. In fact, I almost fell out of my seat, the man next to me put his hands over his eyes and screamed "Oh, NO!" and similar disbelief was expressed throughout the stadium.

You'd have to see it to believe it. But there it was, bigger than life, at 1:39 p.m. on the eighth day of the twelfth month in the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Eight, the incredible sight of John Aloysius Brodie throwing a block. I am NOT kidding. Honest Injun. I kid you not. Please believe me, the 49er quarterback actually attempted to knock down a big Viking. (Farms in Berkeley?! Skyscrapers in Tocaloma?! Brodie BLOCKING!!!?)

What Do You Expect? Nagurski?

The play started innocently enough as Brodie threw a swing pass to Gary Lewis. However, when Lewis was trapped, he reversed field and came right back in Brodie's direction with three big Vikings in hotsy totsy pursuit. Imagine poor Brodie's predicament, being caught in the middle of all that violence to which he would rather not become accustomed. Well, since there was no place to hide, there was only one thing to do: He put down his head, said a few quick Hail Marys and Our Fathers, and threw his body in the path of a vicious looking behemoth from Minnesota ("... a sneak and dastardly attack ...")

Of course, he missed (thank Heavens), but what the hell do you expect from a million dollar quarterback? Bronco Nagurski? I believe it was Brodie's first block since college days. In fact, he still thinks a block is something Stanford guys sew on their lettermen sweaters.

Started That Razzle-Dazzle

Actually, Brodie participated in two memorable plays against the Vikings. Besides that abortive block, John-John ignited a razzle-dazzle play that electrified the crowd (and the lights, too.) Operating out of a spread formation, Brodie threw a lateral across field to flanker Clifton McNeil who, in turn, faded back a couple of steps and threw a perfect pass to Bill Tucker, who was far in the clear, for a touchdown.

To see McNeil, the National Football League's leading pass receiver, throwing a pass was as startling as watching Johnny "Gotrocks" Brodie throwing a block.

A Switch In Assignments?

There was some talk after the game that Coach Dick Nolan was contemplating some lineup changes for next season, switching McNeil to quarterback and Brodie to blocking back, but I don't believe it, do you?

SUNDAY ALSO was 49er Alumni Day in which former stars were introduced at halftime. There were about 20 alumni on hand — the likes of Francis Albert, Hugh McElhenny, Leo Nomellini — but only one of them looked physically capable of still playing a good game. I refer to Al Endriss, the Redwood High School coach, who played end for the Niners in 1952. While the other alumni showed a little snow on the rooftops and avoirdupois around the midsection, Big Al Endriss looked like a 1968 model end. I even gave him a standing ovation. I hope he heard me.

Denny McLain Wins Five A.L. Pitching Categories

BOSTON (UPI)—Denny McLain led American League pitchers in four categories in addition to his 31 victories and the Cleveland Indians, led by Luis Tiant, won team earned run average honors during the 1968 season, it was announced today by league president Joe Cronin.

McLain, the league's first 30-game winner since Lefty Grove won 31 games in 1931, was also the individual leader in starts (41), complete games (28), percentage (.838) and innings pitched (336).

Tiant, who had a 21-9 record and a 1.60 ERA which was the lowest since Walter Johnson's 1.49 in 1919, led the Cleveland staff to a 2.655 ERA. That mark just edged out the Baltimore Orioles' staff which had a 2.66 average, and compared to the overall league mark of 2.98.

Tiant led the league with nine shutouts and teammate Sam McDowell was the leader in strikeouts with 283. McLain ranked second in strikeouts with 280 and fourth in ERA with 1.96.

Swimmers Move Up In Ranking

Four young Class B swimmers made Class A times at last Saturday's "B" age group swim meet between Tamalpais Swim Club and the San Rafael Swim Club at Mill Valley.

Scott Heilep and Joe Dunn made it for San Rafael in the age 10 and under group and Nancy Jackson, a double winner, and Andrea Larrecq did it in the 16 and under division for the Tamalpais club.

Bill Klemme also advanced to the "A" group in boys 10 and under San Rafael.

Charles Fires 71 To Win Tourney

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles shot a final-round 71 and won the $896 first prize in the Watties Golf Tournament at Hastings today by two strokes with a six-under-par 274.

Fellow New Zealander Walter Godfrey carded a 66 and finished second with 276. Stuart Jones, a New Zealand amateur, fired a 71 and wound up third at 277.

School Boy Surprises Graebner

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — U.S. Davis Cup player Clark Graebner of New York suffered a shocking defeat in the Queensland Grass Court Championships today when Italian schoolboy Adriano Panatta, 18, beat him 9-11, 9-7, 6-3 in the second round of the men's singles.

The defeat may cost Graebner his chance of playing in the singles against Australia in the Davis Cup Challenge Round in Adelaide Dec. 26-28.

U.S. team Captain Donald Dell said he thought Graebner became tired in the mid-summer heat after the second set, but he did not think the result would affect the Davis Cup team.

"We do not know who will play in the singles yet. It is among Arthur Ashe, Graebner, Charles Pasarell and Stan Smith. We will name the players on Dec. 16," he said.

Panatta played brilliantly throughout and his serving was a feature of the match. He continually caught Graebner out of position with his variety of shots.

Earlier Panatta won his first-round boys junior match, defeating Australian Greg Perkins 6-4, 6-0.

In other second-round men's singles matches involving Americans, Jim Osborne of the United States defeated Ross Case of Australia 6-3, 6-2; Stan Smith of the United States beat Peter Campbell of Australia 6-2, 6-4, and Bob Lutz of the United States topped Tony Hammond of Australia 10-8, 6-4.

Frazier 9-5 Favorite To Whip Bonavena

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Joe Frazier is a 9-5 favorite to provide his hometown fans with a victory tonight when he risks his crown against Argentine Oscar Bonavena in the first heavyweight title bout here in 16 years.

The unbeaten, 24-year-old champion vividly remembers when his career was in jeopardy during a desperate minute in an earlier meeting with Bonavena on Sept. 21, 1966 in Madison Square Garden.

Bonavena connected with a right to the jaw of Frazier early in the second round, sending him reeling a second time.

But Frazier desperately moved inside the Argentine's awkward hooks and began fighting back to stay out of trouble. Apparently the fight went out of the 26-year-old Bonavena when the bell sounded ending the round and Frazier went on to gain a 10-round decision.

"I remember that," said Frazier, who has run up 21 consecutive victories since turning pro, "and I won't forget it when I fight him, either. I'll smoke him out in about the sixth round, but before I do, I'll give him a whipping he won't forget."

However, the first battle—that all-important one for the box office bucks — probably has gone to Bonavena, who shrugs off Frazier's threats by confidently predicting his own kayo victory.

Bonavena has been guaranteed $75,000 tax free, and all the side agreements, such as South American ancillary rights, probably will allow him to return to Argentina with more than the $100,000 promised to Frazier. It would have to be one of the few times—if not the first—when the heavyweight champion came out of the short end of the purse.

Nolan Hopes To Play Reserves

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Coach Dick Nolan wants to play his reserves if possible when the San Francisco 49ers call on Atlanta in the final game of the season next Sunday.

He indicated that he wanted to get a better chance of figuring out his personnel for next season and indicated he planned several winter trades.

Nolan was glum over last Sunday's 30-20 loss to Minnesota and blamed the defense's inability to hold the Vikes on key third down plays for the setback.

He also said that the injury to strong safety Alvin Randolph hurt the team. Mel Phillips had to change to the unfamiliar job from his free safety spot with Johnny Fuller taking over at free safety.

Nolan said he thought defensive end Stan Hindman, linebacker Dave Wilcox and running back Gary Lewis turned in good performances.

Retirement Rumors Sweep Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers' dismal climax to their worst National Football League season in a decade has, not unexpectedly, produced a team of retirement rumor.

The Packers, with 13 veterans more than 30 years old, were especially gloomy after Saturday's loss to Baltimore. That best explains why retirement might have been on their minds, Coach Phil Bengtson insisted yesterday.

"I don't think there will be wholesale retirements," Bengtson said. "A player may feel ready to quit after a defeat. But after a few weeks, they may think differently."

A Minneapolis sports commentator reported he had heard No. 1 quarterback Bart Starr would be quitting after next Sunday's season finale against the Chicago Bears.

"I have absolutely no comment on that," Starr said last night. "I don't know where these things get started. I really can't say at this time, and that's as honest as I can be."

Starr said he doesn't know whether his rib injuries will keep him out of the Chicago game, "but I sure want to play." He was absent from the Baltimore game.

The Colts' victory in Lambeau Field, the Packers' last home game of the year, was Green Bay's first NFL game since 1965 without a touchdown, and canceled Packer chances for a third consecutive NFL crown.

"You know what it was like? It was like playing your last college game," guard Jerry Kramer said. "We knew it was the last game here for a lot of guys. I'm telling you, it was really emotional."

Kramer said it might have been "my last game in Lambeau Field," and he added such veterans as Bob Skoronski, Forrest Gregg, Henry Jordan and Starr, each with 11 or more years in pro football.

Lionel Aldridge said Kramer wasn't the only Packer feeling low.

"Skoronski reminded us that this was probably the last home game for a number of our veterans," Aldridge said. "It was obvious how much it meant to them. I know it made me want to play a little harder."

The sell-out crowd of 50,800 gave the Packers a standing ovation, and the band played Auld Lang Syne.

"It was a beautiful crowd," Kramer said.

Carroll Dale said the television audience was presumably dominated by fans of other clubs which the Packers had used as doormats in better years.

"I suppose about 75 per cent of the people watching were glad to see us die," he said.

Clock Runs Out On The Packers

By JERRY KRAMER

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Before the game with the Baltimore Colts, we got together in the locker room, the way we always do, just the players, just by ourselves, and Bob Skoronski, the offensive captain, spoke first.

"We've dedicated games to the fans and to the coaches and to individual players," Ski said, "but let's play this game for the guys who've made this the team it's been. A lot of us won't be here next year. A lot of us are playing our last game at Lambeau Field ..."

Bob couldn't say any more. He was more emotional than I'd ever seen him. He was about ready to cry. I started thinking about the guys who wouldn't be here next year. Henry Jordan, Ski, Willie Davis, maybe Bart Starr, maybe Forrest Gregg, maybe me.

TOO OLD

I couldn't help remembering what my son, Danny, said to me the other day. He's only 4 years old, and he was sitting at the kitchen table, and he looked up at me, and he said, "Dad, we're just getting too old."

Listening to Ski, listening to Willie Davis, I got very high emotionally. We all got high emotionally. As a team, I guess, we've played with a lack of emotion all year, but that day we were just filled with emotion. Maybe we were too high.

We went out and we made mistakes — fumbles, interceptions, missed assignments—the kind of mistakes that are generally caused by extra effort, by too much emotion, not by any lack of effort.

I felt we could win the game. I felt it all the way. The game typified the whole season. It was a big disappointment.

There wasn't a game all year that I didn't think we could win, and against the Colts at the start of the fourth quarter, when Lionel Aldridge came up with that Baltimore fumble for us, I was positive we were going to win. There wasn't any question in my mind. I knew we were going to take the ball and go in and score and then we'd score and we'd win the game.

WRONG

I was wrong. I didn't believe it until I looked up and saw only 20 seconds left on the clock and we were losing 16-3, and I knew it was all over, knew that our string of three straight NFL championships had ended, knew that we didn't have a chance any more.

We've always felt that we never lost a game, that every game we played, we won. We knew that sometimes the clock ran out on us while the other team still had more points, but we knew that if we'd kept playing, we would have won. But this was the day the clock ran out on us.

Maybe little Danny knew something. When he made that

Bucs Dump Rick Barry And Pals

HOUSTON (AP) — Half the Oakland Oaks losses in 23 games of the American Basketball Association season so far have been inflicted by one team.

The losses number only four, and in New Orleans last night the Bucs whipped the Oaks, 145-139, for the second time. James Jones' 48 points set a club record.

Steve Jones scored 31 and Austin Robbins 28 for New Orleans which took an early lead, never trailed and had margins as fat as 15 points in the second quarter. The Bucs went into the game with a five-game losing string.

Rick Barry led the Oaks with 36—just ahead of his ABA-leading average of 34.7.

Oakland Coach Alex Hannum got a second technical foul in the second half and was ejected.

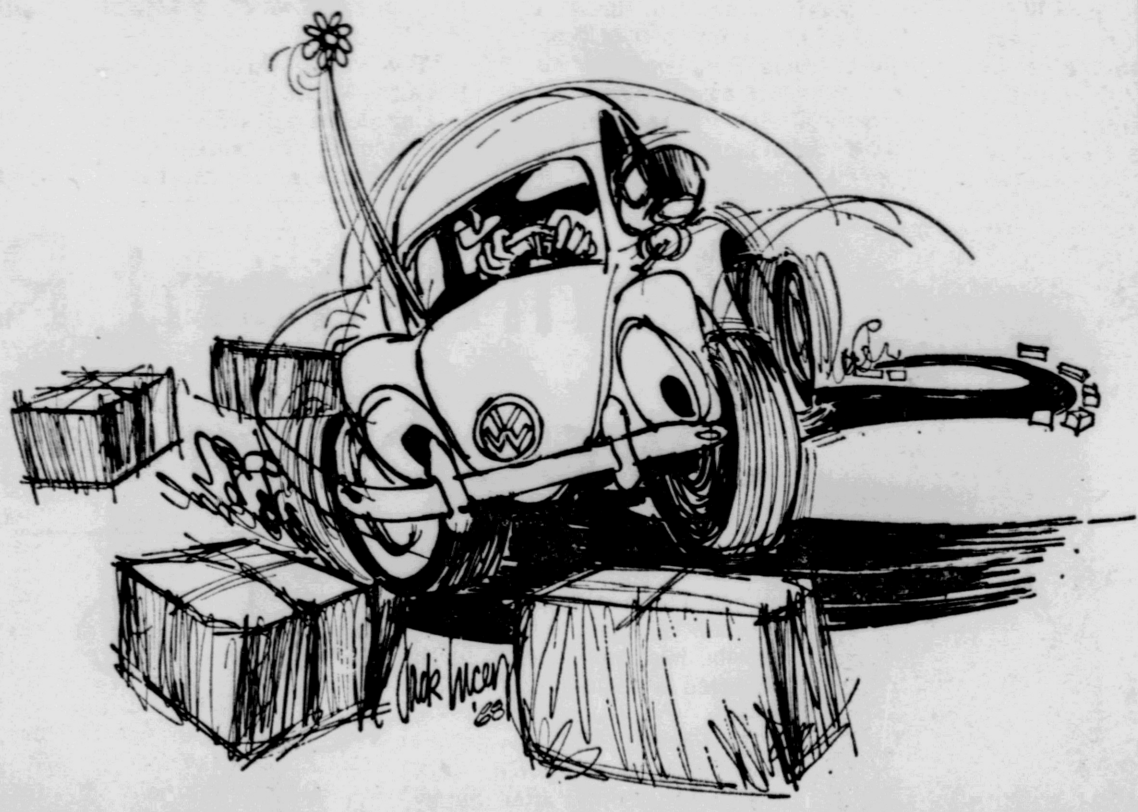
YELLOW STREAK AT SEARS

Scribe Tests New Track

By RALPH CHATOIAN



Have you ever had the urge to get in a sports car and whip around a road racing course?

Well, I fulfilled that urge the other day, although my little Volkswagen bug can't really be called a sports car. But when your imagination is going full tilt, a VW can turn into a Lotus or a Chaparral very quickly.

I got my chance when I was invited out to the Sears Point International Raceway in Sonoma County to see the progress being made on the facilities which are due to open next March. The raceway is located off Highway 121, just north of its junction with Highway 37.

SPEEDY TOUR

Robert D. Marshall, a San Rafael lawyer and president of the managing company for the raceway, is also quite a driver. He gave me a high-speed tour of the 2.6-mile road circuit in his Lotus Europa, a street car that looks more like a race car.

Although admitting to back trouble (a yellow streak) I said, "Sure, give me a ride around the track." And ride we did!

As we made the first turn and accelerated toward turn two I made my first mistake. I looked at the speedometer. It was registering just under 75 miles per hour. Those hay bales and guard rails have a way of coming up mighty fast when you're moving at more than 70 miles per.

TAN GONE

Clutching a hand rail in the passenger seat of the Lotus, I looked down and noticed a lot of the suntan was gone from my hand, especially around my knuckles. Scared? Me? "Of course not," I answered meekly.

It's quite a course. It has 12 turns in all, with alternate routings of 2.3 and 2.1 miles, going up and around the natural hills of Southern Sonoma County.

POWER PLUS

Then came my chance to solo the course. I fastened the seatbelt, strapping myself behind the steering wheel of my Volkswagen. It was the same car I use to get back and forth to work or to go to the store for a loaf of bread, but all of a sudden it seemed a powerful machine, capable of terrific speeds.

Off I went, no skidding or bouncing, just straight for the first turn. I down-shifted and swung into the turn, then out of it, and on to the next. At one point I had that little bug up to 50 miles per hour, then that back injury (the yellow one) started acting up, so I slowed down a little.

I made it all the way around the course without spinning out or running off the track, so I have to admit to having thoughts of challenging Graham Hill next time he comes around.

BEST IN U.S.?

It looks like Marshall, and vice presidents James R. Coleman and William C. Murray really have something going in Sonoma. "It's the best raceway in northern California," Marshall said, and adding more fuel to the statement, "It's even probably the best in the country."

Main problem facing Sears Point right now is getting people to and from the track.

"We have the parking and spectator facilities to accommodate 100,000 people," said Murray, "but because of the narrow highways it would be impossible to handle any more than 20,000." He said a request to widen two-lane Highway 121 has already been sent to the State Highway Department, but when it will be widened is unknown.

Although there was some test races at the raceway recently, first official events will not be held until March of next year.

Robinson In Elite AFL Club

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Robinson's 33 rushing yards against New York last Sunday put the Cincinnati rookie in the American Football League's 1,000-yard club—an exclusive circle never before attained by a true first-year AFL pro.

The Bengal back carried 26 times against the rugged Jet defensive unit to wind up his rookie season with a total of 1,023 ground yards. Cookie Gilchrist rushed for 1,096 yards in 1962, his first year with Buffalo, but he had played several previous seasons in the Canadian League.

FEATHERS

Beattie Feathers of the 1934 Chicago Bears broke into the National Football League with 1,004 rushing yards, averaging better than 10 yards per-carry.

Abner Haynes, who gained 875 yards for the Dallas Texans in 1960, was the only other rookie to lead the AFL in his rookie year. Jim Nance of Boston, who set the league record of 1,458 in 1966, picked up 321 in his first season.

Robinson, Gilchrist, Haynes and Nance are among nine members of the AFL's 1,000-yard club. Houston's Hoyle Granger, San Diego's Paul Lowe, Oakland's Clem Daniels, (now with San Francisco), Kansas City's Mike Garrett and Houston's Charlie Tolar are the others.

DIXON SECOND

Hewritt Dixon of Oakland, who has one regular season game remaining, trails Robinson in the ground-gaining derby with 849 yards. Rookie Robert Holmes of Kansas City is third with 833.

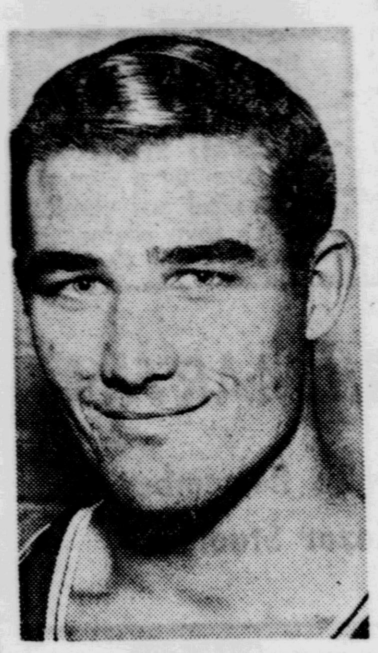
Champ Santa Clara Battles Houston In Tourney Opener



BOB TOBIN
Former Drake star

Santa Clara Broncos defend their Cable Car Classic championship this weekend in San Francisco Civic Auditorium when the pre-holiday basketball tournament with the catchy name is played for the second time.

Santa Clara won the inaugural Cable Car Classic last December by defeating Western Kentucky 75-68. The Broncos used that victory as a springboard to the WCAC crown. Santa Clara's 22-4 record was best in Bronco basketball history last year.

This Friday night the Broncos will meet the Houston Cougars in the opening round of the Cable Car Classic. Houston (31-2) is so deep in talent that even loss of Elvin Hayes will not hurt for long. The Cougars have 6-9 center Ken Spain, back from action with the U.S. Olympic team. Spain was Hayes' twin pivot partner last season when the Cougars scored 31 straight victories and upset UCLA in the Astrodome.

SUPER SOPH

Theodis Lee, 6-7 forward, and George Reynolds, 6-4 guard, also are returning from Houston's starting five of last year. Guy Lewis, a 6-9 super soph, broke Hayes' freshman records last season and will play a tandem center position with Spain. Mars Evans, 6-11, is No. 1 front line reserve man of the Cougars. Ollie Taylor, a sharp shooting guard who averaged 31 points per game in leading San Jacinto to the national Junior College Championship last March, will be Reynolds' running mate in the back court.

Santa Clara's front line with Dennis Awtrey (6-9) at center and the Ogden brothers, Bud and Ralph (both 6-5) at forwards is one of the best in the country. This trio scored 57 points in Santa Clara's 101-64 romp past Nevada in the 1968-69 season opener for the Broncos. (Another member of the Santa Clara Varsity is 6-5 junior forward Bob Tobin of San Rafael.)

University of San Francisco is host of the Cable Car Classic. The Dons are rebuilding this year after losing four starters from last season's team. Coach Phil Vukicevich has Pete Ross (6-9) at center and some good forward material in Rick Shaer (6-5) and Craig Farley (6-7), a transfer from College of San Mateo. Rich Ames, USF's playmaker, and Ron Santos, up from the frosh with a 24 point per game average, are the Don guards.

USF will meet Brigham Young in the opening game of the classic Friday night. The Santa Clara-Houston game will follow and the winners will meet Saturday night for the championship.

TALL, TOUGH

Brigham Young lost a pair of 6-11 players from last season's team but BYU still stands tall and tough. Eight lettermen are returning, including Kari Liimo (6-8), a senior who will anchor BYU's front line with Paul Ruffner (6-19), a Junior College All-American.

Tickets are available at USF and Santa Clara Athletic Offices, the Warriors Ticket Office or by mail to Cable Car Classic, 1 Tillman Place, San Francisco 94108. Prices are $5 and $4.

NFL TEAM STATISTICS

Colts' Defense Is Tough

NEW YORK (AP) — "When we lost Johnny Unitas," said Coach Don Shula of the Baltimore Colts, "the defensive unit got together and made a pact among themselves to put forth an extra effort."

That something extra has carried the Colts within reach of the best defensive record in the National Football League since the advent of 14-game schedules seven years ago.

The Colts have not allowed a touchdown in their last four games and have yielded 120 points in all while compiling a 12-1 record to nail the Coastal Division title.

The fewest points allowed since 1961 is 144, by the 1963 Chicago Bears. The 1946 Pittsburgh Steelers yielded 117 in 11 games for the post World War II low.

JACK HANLEY

Rooney Hard At Work On Boating Extravaganza

Tom Rooney is an exceptionally talented Irishman. He is a gifted showman with an infallible instinct for turning extravaganzas into profitable ventures. He's been doing it more than a quarter of a century.

Rooney rusticates most of the year in the Jack London country of the Valley of the Moon. Just before Christmas each year he emerges from Sonoma to visit San Francisco and announce details of his annual production, the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show.

This will be the 27th renewal of the show and like its predecessors it will be staged at the Cow Palace for 10 days in January 10-19.

THE BOATING industry is deeply indebted to Rooney for teaching it the technique of putting its products in an attractive showcase. A year ago Rooney's show was given the prestige No. 1 spot by manufacturers who introduced their 1968 lines at San Francisco instead of New York. The New York show used to precede San Francisco. Now New York follows San Francisco.

This year Rooney was accorded still another honor by the boating industry. He was appointed director of the Chicago Boat Show which will be held March 21-30.

"I'LL BE DOING a lot of commuting this winter," said Rooney. "As you know, the San Francisco, Chicago and New York shows are linked in an arrangement with top manufacturers to show their lines concurrently. As double-director, I will be supervising many of the same projects."

Booth space at the San Francisco show is $2.50 per square foot, restricted to accessories, fishing tackle, marine hardware, sporting goods, etc.

Bulk space at the show is $1.50 per square foot, restricted to boats, boat trailers, tents, trucks, engines, etc.

"AFTER LAST year's tremendously successful show, the first in which we were No. 1, we've had a fantastic number or requests for booths from both national and local concerns," said Rooney. "We've exhausted all available exhibit space at the Cow Palace."

Rooney provides his customers with first class sports entertainment. A feature of his original show was a Huck Finn casting pool for youngsters. It still is the show's favorite with Rooney who never will discard it.

"YESTERDAY'S youngsters who wet their first line in our pool are today's fishermen," said Rooney.

Each year Rooney comes up with a new idea. A special highlight of the 1969 show will be a dry-land Sail Trainer, a device to teach sailing to the novice without anyone getting wet feet.

Bowling Tips

Face up to any split, but especially those that can be converted with a little nerve and maybe some luck. One of those is the 3-7-10, which can be had. Hit the 3-pin on the right side. It may bounce into the 7, while your ball picks up the 10. What a thrill!

Hawks Invade Cow Palace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Atlanta Hawks fly into the Cow Palace tonight for a National Basketball Association tilt with the San Francisco Warriors at 8 o'clock.

The Warriors still did not know today whether they will be able to use any of the four men who were out Saturday night when they dropped a 115-107 contest to the Seattle Supersonics in Oakland.

Clyde Lee, Joe Ellis and Jeff Mullins were all down with influenza, and Nate Thurmond was out with a pulled leg muscle.

Warrior officials said last night they wouldn't know until game time whether any or all of the four ailing players would be available tonight.

Unexpected Opponent For Fullmer

SAN REMO, Italy (AP) — World middleweight contender Don Fullmer of Salt Lake City was trying today to fend off an unexpected opponent—the common cold.

The Utah boxer hoped to shake the cold by cutting down on his training and spending more time in bed to be in form Saturday when he meets champion Nino Benvenuti in a 15-round title bout.

Fullmer planned to suspend his prefight warmupe altogether tomorrow and simply relax until he squares off against the Italian who took the crown from Emile Griffith in New York last spring.

"I'm in the best condition possible," said Fullmer. "Benvenuti doesn't scare me. I'm sure I can beat him." But this time he did not tack on his prediction of winning by a knockout.

Tom Gola, former professional basketball star, is in his first season as coach of the LaSalle College quintet of Philadelphia.

Presley Named Player Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California center Bob Presley was named Northern California player of the week yesterday by the area's basketball writers.

Presley has scored 45 points in Cal's three victories to date and hit on 51.9 per cent of his shots from the floor, pulled down 44 rebounds and blocked 18 shots.

North Carolina Quintet Keeps Rolling Along

Powerful North Carolina kept rolling along, but Duke wasted little time in failing to uphold a loftier reputation in college basketball warfare last night.

The Tar Heels, ranked No. 2 behind idle UCLA in today's Associated Press poll, trailed by a point at halftime before rallying to whip Vanderbilt 100-78 at Charlotte.

But Duke, elevated from 16th to ninth in the rankings this week, was upset on its own court by Michigan, 90-80.

Vanderbilt fired away at a 54.8 per cent clip to take a 40-39 halftime edge. But 6-foot-8 Bill Bunting fired in nine points in a spree that lifted North Carolina State into control at 63-54 midway through the final half.

Bunting finished with a career high 22 points to share honors with teammate Dick Grubar as the Tar Heels won their fourth straight. Vanderbilt, ranked No. 12 a week ago, suffered its second loss in three games.

Michigan's Rudy Tonjanovich tapped in a bevy of offensive rebounds in picking up 29 points in firing the upset of Duke—the Blue Devils first loss in four games.

Michigan led 41-36 at the half, then outscored Duke 11-1 midway through the second half to put it out of doubt.

Meanwhile, two other teams in the Top 20—Kansas and LaSalle—scored easy victories, while No. 15 Western Kentucky had to struggle to stop St. Francis, Pa., 70-68.

No. 11 Kansas rolled past Xavier of Ohio 79-56 and No. 20 LaSale put down Rider 77-59.

Kansas befuddled Xavier with an aggressive zone defense while racing to a 36-24 halftime lead. The Jayhawks then rippea in seven straight points after intermission and it was no contest after that. Phil Harmon led a balanced attack with 16 points.

Jim McDaniels, Western Kentucky's 7-foot center, polished off a 23-point performance with a three-point play with 33 seconds left, enabling Western to win its fifth straight.

LaSalle's Larry Cannon drilled in 13 of his 22 points in the final nine minutes toturnoff a Rider rally and give the Explorers their second straight.

Unbeaten Georgia permitted Alabama only one point in the final 1½ minutes to pull off an 80-73 Southeastern Conference victory.

Gene Williams scored six of his 20 points, blocked three shots and stole the ball once in the overtime session to help Kansas State sidetrack Indiana 87-83.

Johnny Arthur flipped in 31 points to lead Tulane to a 108-88 conquest of previously unbeaten Rice.

In other games, Illinois stopped North Dakota 83-51, Northwestern defeated Colorado 83-66, Drake beat Marquette 68-63, Oklahoma ousted Texas Tech 83-74, Oklahoma State topped South Dakota State 72-67, Arkansas edged Centenary 64-61 in overtime.

Also Samford beat Mississippi State 68-59, Lamar Tech stopped Texas A&M 98-87, Air Force checked Arkansas State 76-58, Iowa State tromped San Fernando State 97-61 and Texas-El Paso sidetracked Southern Colorado State 94-81.

TIED UP — Duke's Fred Lind (53) couldn't quite get the pass away as Michigan's Dan Fife (24) tied him up to make it a jump ball in first period of last night's game at Durham, N.C. (UPI Telephoto)

Raiders Going All Out

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders have been playing them close lately but Coach John Rauch says his American Football League defending champions will go all out for the Western Division title—or a share of it—in San Diego on Sunday.

The Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs are tied for the lead with 11-2 records. If they remain knotted after next weekend's games, the last of the regular season, they will collide Dec. 22 for the Western crown and the right to take on the Eastern champion New York Jets Dec. 29 for the AFL title.

Oakland had to come from behind last Sunday to defeat a persistent Denver Bronco squad 33-27. At the same time, the Chiefs were having no trouble against the San Diego Chargers, sweeping to a 40-3 triumph.

Although the Raiders are figuring they'll have to beat the Chargers on Sunday to earn a share of the Western title, they're hoping the Broncos can rise to the occasion and upset the powerful Chiefs in Denver on Saturday.

Rauch expressed pleasure yesterday with the action of Oakland's "Eleven Angry Men" on defense against Denver. They stopped several potent thrusts that could have changed the game in the final moments, he said.

Tigers' Manager Wins UPI Honors

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Mayo Smith isn't a talkative type who's always in the midst of some controversy. He's a soft-spoken, quiet guy who describes himself as being a "bland" person.

But Smith has proved his way can be successful, too. Smith was voted the American League Manager-of-the-Year by United Press International for directing the Detroit Tigers to their first world championship since 1945.

Smith, who finished his second season as Tiger manager in 1968 after being fired by two National League teams in the '50s, received 11 of the 20 votes in a UPI poll of sportswriters around the nation.

San Jose State Basketballers Defeat Nevada

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Now that San Jose State's basketball team has settled its problems, it turns out to be a talented bunch.

Four black San Jose State players sat out the Spartans' opener in sympathy for seven football players who lost their scholarships after refusing to play against Brigham Young.

San Jose's basketball team lost that opener but then almost beat tough California as the black athletes rejoined the squad. Since then, the Spartans have won two straight with ease and took a 96-70 win at Nevada last night as Darnell Hillman scored 21 points. Alex Boyd, high scoring Nevada whiz, hooped 31.

Leading Jocks Score A Blank

Both Angel Cordero and Alvaro Pineda failed to ride a winning mount yesterday in their race for the national jockey championship.

Cordero came up empty in his first day of riding at Tropical Park in Coral Gables, Fla., after shifting from Aqueduct in New York. His winning mounts for 1968 remained at 310.

Pineda, riding at Bay Meadows in San Mateo, without success, has 308 winners.

Paul Richards, vice president of the Atlanta Braves, caught in all seven games for Detroit in the 1945 World Series. His double with the bases loaded in the first inning helped win the final game.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Rick Barry is a firm believer in paying off a debt but an Oakland Oak teammate would question the scoring ace's method of payment.

Shortly before the Oaks boarded a plane for New Orleans over the weekend, Barry handed rookie guard Russ Critchfield a large paper bag and got $2.20 in change. Inside the bag was $50 in pennies to pay off Barry's $47.80 tab for continually losing in gin rummy and hearts to Critchfield.

RETIRES NEXT MONTH

Stanford Publicist Will Not Be Resting

By RON RAPOPORT

STANFORD (AP) — It was 1924 and the editor of the Stanford Daily was unhappy. The football team didn't seem to be getting the publicity he thought it deserved and he complained to the athletic department.

"All right," he was told. "Let's see what you can do." Don Liebendorfer has been on the job ever since.

Nearly 45 years after he became the first full-time college sports information director in the country, Liebendorfer retires next month, but he will be far from idle.

HISTORY

He will devote his time to writing a complete history of Stanford athletics, which he hopes to have coming off the presses in three years.

Things have changed somewhat since Liebendorfer enrolled at Stanford in 1920 and plunked down his $180 yearly tuition, a figure which has grown by more than 10 times.

"We built a $180,000 basketball pavilion," he recalls, "and it was the biggest in the country then. It may be the smallest now."

But next year, the little gym, where Hank Luisetti started out to become the greatest basketball player of his era, will give way to the large, new multimillion dollar Roscoe Maples Pavilion.

BIG GAME

Liebendorfer was in on the building of the California-Stanford Big Game football rivalry, though he recalls that it was not always what it is today.

He remembers going on a trip to West Point to help scout Army while the team remained home to play Cal. After returning to his New York hotel, he breathlessly called the New York Times and asked, "Who won the big game?"

There was silence at the other end of the phone, Liebendorfer recalls, and then a voice demanded, "What big game?"

"There I was, a country boy in the big city," Liebendorfer recalls. "He must have rattled every paper in the house next to the phone before he told me it was a tie and slammed the phone down."

ROSE BOWL

He particularly recalls the 1925 Rose Bowl, when Stanford met Norte Dame in the only Irish bowl appearance in history.

Notre Dame won 27-0 after a Stanford drive was stopped when an official ruled the great Ernie Nevers had been stopped short of the goal line, a decision that provoked the wrath of Stanford fans for years.

"George Davis, one of our strongest rooters was talking about it years later," said Liebendorfer, "saying that Nevers had crossed the goal line, when a voice piped up and said he hadn't.

"Davis shouted, 'I was sitting right on the goal line when it happened. Where were you?'

" 'On Nevers' chest,' came the reply. It was Harry Stuhldreher, one of the Four Horsemen."

"Ho, ho, ho! What do YOU want for Christmas, little girl?"

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 10, the 345th day of 1968 with 21 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1817, Mississippi was admitted to the Union as the 20th state.

In 1898, Spain signed the Treaty of Paris officially ending the Spanish-American War and giving Guam, Puerto Rico and the Philippines to the United States.

In 1901, distribution of the first Nobel prizes got under way on the death anniversary of Alfred Nobel.

In 1941, Japanese troops landed on northern Luzon in the Philippines.

A thought for the day: American poet Emily Dickenson said, "Success is counted sweetest by those who never succeed."

Try To Figure Out How South Can Turn Hand Into A Victory

There are many dangers at the bridge table and many ways of escaping from them. When your opponent cannot be deceived or dazzled, you must think ahead to find a logical way out of your predicament. See if you can find a way to make today's slam regardless of how carefully West defends.

WINS WITH ACE

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts and led a low trump, intending to play dummy's nine as a safety measure if West played the eight. South didn't know that the trumps were 4-0, but he was a cautious soul. West put in the ten of spades to foil South's plan.

Still not suspecting the bad break, declarer won the dummy's ace of spades. He got the bad news when East discarded a heart. Now South had to find a way to avoid the loss of two trump tricks. See if you can work it out before you read on.

LOOKS AHEAD

South looked ahead and saw that an escape was possible if he could reduce West's hand to his three trumps. At this stage South would have to be leading his last diamond, with the 9-2 of spades and a club in the dummy.

The end position was possible only if South used up three of his trumps by ruffing. South set to work promptly at the third trick by ruffing dummy's low heart. Then he got back to dummy with the queen of clubs to ruff the king of hearts and returned with the ace of clubs to ruff a low club.

TOP DIAMONDS

South then led his three top diamonds, finding that West had to follow suit throughout. South continued with his last diamond, and West was trapped.

If West ruffed low, dummy would overruff with the nine. If West ruffed with the jack, dummy would discard the club. West would have to lead away from the Q-8 of trumps, allowing declarer to win the last two tricks with dummy's nine and his own king.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one club.

With 13 points in high cards but no points at all for distribution you have an optional opening bid. The bid is safe because you can rebid one notrump if partner responds in a new suit, and you thus show minimum strength for an opening bid with balanced distribution.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Five Sales Could Help Hike Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My husband left me the enclosed list of stocks. As I need more income, will you be kind enough to advise me what stocks to keep and what ones to dispose of? — H. K.

A. The replacement of five issues in your portfolio would not only add to your income but help decrease your heavy dependence on the utility group. The five sales are: Crompton & Knowles; Harsco Corp.; New England Gas & Electric; Television Manufacturers, and Western Union.

Seven of your remaining eight holdings should be retained; the eighth, Webb & Knapp, is all but worthless, with current quotes remaining well below a dollar.

Purchases in equal dollar amounts of three income stocks — yielding an average 5.9 per cent — will nearly double your income on this portion of your capital. The first, Armstrong Cork $3.75 preferred, should continue to reflect the high rate of demand for home furnishings.

Liggett & Myers, my second selection, has moved into some promising nontobacco lines which now account for at least 25 per cent of sales. Further acquisitions will continue to decrease L&M's dependence on cigarette sales. The final income issue, U.S. Steel, is currently selling at a level that has partially discounted industry pricing weakness.

Q. What is the sense of investing in U. S. Savings Bonds when the yield is less than that given in a great many banks? — G. S.

A. Although U. S. Savings Bonds now return a larger rate than at any time in their history, yield alone has never been the primary motivating factor to most purchasers. Convenience of monthly paycheck deductions plus a sense of patriotic duty have spurred many to "invest in America." President Johnson made a highly cogent statement emphasizing this aspect of patriotic duty. Regardless of these lofty sentiments, savings bond purchases have fallen below redemptions at about a billion-dollar rate. Because the yield on savings bonds has been insufficient to keep pace with inflation, the incoming Republican Administration has indicated a willingness to consider proposals for improving the situation.

Market's Average Declines

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in active trading.

Losses outnumbered gains by a small margin, and the averages were down slightly.

Caution over higher interest rates, continued consolidation of recent gains and a feeling in Wall Street that the market was still in an "overbought" condition contributed to the decline.

The averages held fairly firm with small losses, but for the first time in the session declines of individual issues topped advances.

Weakness in some of the blue chips were a mildly depressing influence on the averages.

Brokers said that despite some encouraging economic developments, including favorable results by retail trade, Wall Street was under anxiety about possible action of the Federal Reserve Board in the wake of an increase in the prime rate by commercial banks.

A tremendous block of 534,400 shares of Getty Oil crossed the ticker tape at a quotation of 85. The broker who handled the transaction said it was between institutions, which were not identified.

Among other large blocks were 129,000 shares of United Air lines at 41, off ½, and 96,400 shares of Great Western Financial at 25¼, off 1¼.

Gains of a point or more were posted by Anchor Hocking, Occidental Petroleum, American Stock Exchange. Union Corp. and Amrep Corp. moved up almost 2 points. Gains of a point or so were made by Asamber Oil, Langley and Louis Sherry.

BURLINGTON, Mass. (BW) — Microwave Associates, Inc., operations for the fiscal year ended Sept. 28 resulted in consolidated net sales of $26,292,800, compared to $27,233,700 last year.

Savings, Loan Firms Increase Rates On Loans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Major California savings and loan associations have raised their minimum mortgage loan rates to 7.2 per cent from 6.9-7 per cent.

Richard H. Deal, president of Home Savings and Loan said the increase came because "everybody feels money is tightening up and this is one way to diminish the outflow."

Deal said others who had raised their rates this week were California Federal Savings & Loan and American Savings & Loan. Other institutions were expected to follow suit.

The institutions had lowered their rates last September when as Deal put it, "money inflow appeared to be increasing."

Most associations will honor commitments for loans made at the old rates. But the return to a 7.2 per cent rate is expected to make residential mortgages more scarce in coming months.

THERE'S A MAN. . .
He's doing well. His present employers like him. He can look forward to slow, steady advancement through the years. And there's plenty of security. But, secretly, he isn't quite satisfied. He knows he's capable of doing better.
There's a salaried opening coming up in our organization which would be most attractive to such a man. We're in no particular hurry to fill it . . . but we're very interested in talking to men who feel they might meet our high standards. If you're interested, and want to explore a sales career in equity funding and other financial plans, write us a letter. (Or, if you prefer, phone 454-0103 between 10-12 a.m. or 2-4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday).
Tell us your business experience, age, and material status. We'll get in touch with you and arrange a meeting to talk it over. It may be a red letter day for both of us!

West Marin Density Point System Adopted

Marin County planning commissioners yesterday adopted a point system of determining building density in West Marin, but revised formula suggested by Planning Director Paul C. Zucker.

In a 4-to-3 vote, commissioners approved a density table suggested by Margaret Azevedo which would give developers about .88 units of residential development per acre, and much higher density for other types of development such as apartments and commercial.

Mrs. Azevedo's motion won backing from Hugh Dougherty, Dr. William F. Upton and Michael Praszker.

Dissenters were Niels Schultz Jr., Walter F. Freitas and Eugene R. Trombley, who favored a density table offered by Schultz. The Schultz plan would have given developers a minimum of 1.15 units of development per acre, with more density for other types of development such as apartments and commercial.

Zucker's proposal would have given the least density, starting with a minimum of less than .88 units per acre, although Zucker contended that the average density under his plan would have been about 1.15.

Under Mrs. Azevedo's proposal, the minimum is .88 units per acre, but Zucker explained that the starting density could be 1.15 with the proper mixing of uses such as apartments and resort-commercial. The Azevedo table would give bonuses for planned development and special plan features. She eliminated "good design" as a factor in granting bonuses.

The points system of allotting density is aimed at discouraging tract type of single-family homes and encouraging other uses such as resort commercial and cluster type miltuple residential.

The planning commission recommendations will now go to the board of supervisors for approval.

55-Unit Apartment Plan Held Lacking Open Space

A 55-unit apartment project proposed next to Littleman's Market in Gallinas Village needs redesigning, particularly to break up the asphalt parking area and create more room for reception, the Marin County Planning Commission agreed yesterday.

The commissioners asked the developer, Western Hosts Inc., to come back on Jan. 6 with a redevelopment plan.

The apartments are planned on two acres of land at North San Pedro Road and La Brea Way, just east of the market.

Planner Wayne Moody said the apartments are too crowded, leaving little open space, and the parking is concentrated on one large expanse of asphalt paving with no landscaping relief. Furthermore, the bedroom count, averaging 3.15 bedrooms per unit, is too high, he said.

Residents of Gallinas Village, including officials from the Gallinas Village Community Services District and the San Rafael Elementary School District, objected to the apartment plan as too high a density.

Commissioners Niels Shultz Jr. and Margaret Azevedo declared, however, that the number of units and bedroom count cannot be reduced because they are within the limits allowed by the zoning code.

"We should limit our design review to the effect on the surrounding area," said Schultz.

Mrs. Azevedo said she would like to see revisions in the parking area, recreational facilities, and the living area.

Attorney Herbert G. Hawkins declared the planning staff has no business trying to regulate the bedroom count or the number of units. Hawkins said his client would be willing to landscape the parking area and confer with the planning staff on moving buildings around.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

LUCAS VALLEY — Approved a tentative map of Lucas Valley Unit 9, a 46-lot subdivision to be built on 16 acres on Lucas Valley Road between Mount Lassen Drive and Mount Shasta Drive. Carlos E. Gonzalez, engineer for developer Marin Master Builders, submitted the tentative map.

MERRYDALE — Postponed a decision until Dec. 23 on Thomas Eagleton's request for rezoning to allow apartments (1,500 square feet per unit) at 171 Merrydale Road. His lot is 37,500 square feet. The commissioners asked Eggleton to get together with his neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Lee of 163 Merrydale Road, and work out a planned residential project with a common access to both parcels.

HARBOR POINT — Upheld, by 4 to 3 vote, Robert R. Weber's right to divide his parcel at 381 East Strawberry Drive into two lots, each lot larger than the 13,750 square feet required. Harbor Point Property Owners appealed the land division. Michael Praszker's motion to deny the appeal won support from Walter F. Freitas, Niels Schultz Jr., and Eugene R. Trombley. Dissenters were Margaret Azevedo, William F. Upton, and Hugh Dougherty.

HOUSEBOAT — Set Dec. 23 for a hearing on a proposed county houseboat ordinance, which would restrict houseboats in Marin waters and require all floating homes to have facilities capable of tying into a land sewer line.

OTHER HEARINGS — Set Dec. 23 to hear two other major issues: (1) Proposed amendments to the county's ordinance on parking space requirements, to update 1948 provisions; and (2) the proposed planned community zoning for Frank Pinheiro's 400-acre ranch at Atherton Avenue and Highway 101, which is now zoned limited agricultural.

Bay Is Chosen For Radar Tests

San Francisco Bay has been chosen as a testing ground for a new harbor advisory radar navigational aid which may be installed in all the nation's harbors, the Coast Guard announced yesterday.

The radar system is designed to improve harbor safety by providing a central advisory station where the locations of all ships can be plotted by radar.

A central radar which can monitor Bay shipping traffic from the Golden Gate to San Pablo Bay and Redwood City will be installed and the complete system will be in operation by next fall, the Coast Guard said.

Marin City's Future To Be Considered

The Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency will meet with the Marin City Council and Marin City Community Services District at 8 p.m. tomorrow to discuss the groups' prospective roles in Marin City's future.

The council, services district and the newly formed Development Corporation of Marin City have proposed a plan to take over direction of future development in the community, which has been in the hands of the redevelopment agency.

Checks Asked On Private Timber Cutting

A logging ordinance to bring some control over the cutting of timber on private forest land was proposed yesterday to the Marin County Planning Commission.

Albert Solnit, County chief of advance planning, said the county now has no control over logging on private lands, such as the 1,800-acre Ethel Righetti ranch on Bolinas Ridge.

The commissioners decided they would consider a logging ordinance on Jan. 6 by asking Solnit to check with the county counsel to see if such an ordinance would be valid.

Since timber cutting must conform to state forestry practices, Commissioner Walter F. Freitas said the state may have preempted the field.

Solnit reported that San Mateo has an ordinance that controls logging along streams, waterways and scenic areas, and specifies the hours for hauling, hauling routes, and safety procedures.

Last week, it was disclosed that lumber interests from Coos Bay, Ore., had purchased timber rights on the Righetti ranch for $350,000.

Turbotrain Hits Car At Crossing

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP) — One of Canada's speedy, new turbotrains whipped along on a demonstration run for the press between Montreal and Toronto today—and crashed into a truck on a crossing here.

The passenger train had its streamline nose punched in, the truck driver was shaken up and a Canadian National Railways employee standing nearby was hit by flying debris.

The truck aparently had stalled on the crossing.

The turbos, North America's first turbine-powered passenger trains capable of speeds up to 120 miles per hour, are due to go into regular service Thursday.

No one aboard the eastbound train was injured in the crash.

Larkspur Burglar Gets Money, Radio

Patricia K. Cannon of 122 Pepper Avenue, Larkspur, reported to police ysterday that someone broke her bedroom window and stole a transoceanic portable radio and bank containing between $300 and $400 in coins.

Miss Cannon said she discovered the burglary when she arrived home about 6:50 p.m.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Old Croup Kettle Had Its Use; Humid Air Also Bars Illness

VAN DELLEN

The old croup kettle soothed the inflamed membranes of children with respiratory infections. We know now that proper moisture in the home not only is a remedy but also a preventive. There might be fewer colds among northern children and adults during winter months if indoor humidity was adequate.

Those who have an automatic humidifier built into the heating system are fortunate. It is more likely to be used constantly because no filling is required.

In contrast most of us rely on a device in which dry air is exposed to moisture.

CROUP KETTLES produced hot vapor that was dispersed into the air. A pan on the radiator or turning on a hot shower does the same. Cold steam comes from a device that breaks up water into tiny droplets and disperses it into the air as a fine mist.

Beware of heating devices that do not have moisture control. Unless water is added somewhere along the line, they will be worthless.

WE ARE MORE comfortable at lower winter temperatures, provided the relative humidity is high. Most of us feel best when indoor temperatures vary between 68 and 72 degrees Fahrenheit and a relative humidity of 30 to 40 per cent.

Moisture content may need to be doubled when someone has a respiratory infection. Humidity is definitely related to temperature.

On a cold day, the relative humidity may be reported as 60 per cent, which is adequate. But, if the temperature goes up to 72 degrees Fahrenheit, the humidity could drop to 3 per cent.

What is relative humidity? It is a ratio between the amount of moisture in a given volume of air and the total amount that the same space of air can hold at a given temperature. At 100 per cent, the air is saturated and the water usually precipitates as rain, dew, sleet, hail, snow, or frost.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

EXCESSIVE URIC ACID

F. R. writes: My system forms uric acid stones every now and then. With so much uric acid, I wonder why I haven't developed gout. Not that I feel deprived, just curious.

REPLY

Conditions other than gout can elevate the uric acid level. The reason you don't have arthritic gout is that your kidneys are eliminating the uric acid. You would do well to reduce your intake of uric-acid-forming foods.

WHOOPING COUGH TWICE?

P. R. writes: Can a person have whooping cough twice? I had it when I was 2 years old and now, at 31, a whooping again.

REPLY

One attack usually confers permanent immunity. Second attacks have been reported but there always is a possibility that the original diagnosis was incorrect. Every whoop is not necessarily whooping cough.

INFECTED NAVEL

A reader writes: What is the cause of navel weeping?

REPLY

I take it you are speaking medically and not nautically. Infection is the most common cause of oozing navel. Our leaflet on this subject may be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

FLU AND PREGNANCY

A reader writes: Will the high fever associated with influenza harm the baby of a woman who is in the early months of pregnancy?

REPLY

Any infection may adversely affect the fetus. The mother-to-be ought to remain in bed for at least 24 hours after the temperature returns to normal.

RHEUMATIC LUMPS

A reader writes: What causes lumps to form on the feet and head of a child who has rheumatic fever?

REPLY

Rheumatic fever usually affects the joints, heart, or brain. Now and then the skin is involved (erythema nodosum) or the tissues just below the skin (subcutaneous rheumatic nodules). The latter are insensitive to pain and occur over the bony prominences of various joints and tendons of the extremities or on the spine or back of the head.

CHAPPED HANDS

M. M. C. writes: When winter sets in, I wear woolen gloves but the wool causes my hands to become chapped. How can this be prevented without giving up woolen gloves?

REPLY

Our leaflet on chapping and winter itching has several suggestions which may be of help. It can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

ELIMINATING COWLICKS

Mrs. H. writes: What causes cowlicks on the back of the head and how can they be stopped?

REPLY

In this condition, tufts of hair are turned up or to the side as if licked by a cow. Cutting the hair short or shaving the skull is a temporary solution.

PROMINENT VEINS

A. A. writes: Does arthritis cause veins in the hands to become prominent?

REPLY

No. With arthritis, the joints are more likely to enlarge.

GLANDS, HORMONES

A reader writes: What are hormones?

REPLY

Internal secretions from the endocrine glands, such as the thyroid, pancreas, pituitary, adrenals, and gonads. Some have been duplicated in the laboratory and are available as synthetics.

Today's Health Hint — Use seat belts, even when driving short distances.

11-Year-Old In Court To Protect Petition Right

NEW YORK (AP) — An 11-year-old boy has gone into federal court to protect his right to petition for the ouster of his school principal.

Joshua J. Mamis, a student at Intermediate School 44 in Manhattan, told a news conference yesterday:

"I got the idea from a film we had last year on the Bill of Rights."

The principal, Saris Cohen, a school official for 22 years, did not report for duty during the citywide teachers' strike. Nelson Harris served as acting principal during the walkout.

Joshua said that he had gathered 120 signatures among classmates seeking the removal of Cohen, and contended that Cohen told him to stop it.

"I thought Mr. Harris. . .was more capable of being principal," the boy said.

Commented Cohen: "The whole thing is a silly tempest in a teapot," adding: "I told him this was not a matter for a child to decide and that he had better concern himself with . . . conditions in the lunchroom or traffic in the halls."

With the consent of the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Mamis, the case was taken by the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee—not connected with the American Civil Liberties Union.

The court is being asked to extend to juveniles the liberties guaranteed under the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, including the "right to circulate a petition."

Fire Service Change Noted

The Alto commercial strip adjacent to the Highway 101 west frontage road is now being served by the Mill Valley Fire Department, not the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District.

Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District directors have agreed to notify property owners by letter of the change in fire jurisdiction, according to Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr.

The area, between the Alto Wye and the Richardson Bay Bridge, was recently annexed to Mill Valley and was withdrawn from the Alto Fire District on Dec. 1, Heynen said. At the same time, the Alto district disconnected its alarm system for the area.

TV REVIEW

Supremes Show Class In Special

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—NBC-TV's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In," the No. 1 show in the weekly television ratings, was pre-empted last night for a special starring Diana Ross and the Supremes.

The special was put together by the same firm that turns out "Laugh-In," and which also produced the recent smash hit musical-comedy Negro broadcast, "Soul." The director of The Supremes' hour was the same fellow who directed "Soul," Mark Warren. It would be after-the-fact to say he is headed for the top. He is already there.

The producer of the Supremes' special, by the way, was a lady, Carolyn Raskin, who must have more credit than most anyone I can think of, except maybe for the late William Frawley of "I Love Lucy," "My Three Sons" and seemingly every second movie ever made. The executive producer Monday night was Ed Friendly, partnered with George Schlatter.

So much for the credit sheet, which is significant in its indication of how a relatively few persons can have a major impact on the entire spectrum of television. Last night's special will only help their future plans, for it was a very handsomely mounted, swift-moving and amiable production. Admirers of the Supremes and their guests, The Temptations, were surely pleased at the showcasing.

Miss Ross, in particular, held the spotlight well. Aside from her singing—solo and with The Supremes—she had a charming presence, blended amusingly with The Temptations (five men) and did a highly effective "Afro-vogue" dance number, which included interspersed still photos of her.

To indicate the popularity of "Laugh-In," by the way, an NBC-TV source reports that despite the obvious wide appeal of The Supremes' hour, numerous viewers telephoned the network in various cities to ask what happened to the regular series. The source noted that in the first 45 minutes of the special, there were 250 calls in New York, 34 in Chicago and 110 in Washington, D.C., inquiring about "Laugh-In."

The expected announcement by President-elect Richard Nixon of his cabinet appointments—and perhaps others as well—will be covered live, and in color, by all three commercial networks at 7 p.m. PST tomorrow. The unprecedented prime time television event will originate at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C.

And that should tell you something about the nice new Volvo 144's we have now: they were built to last a long time.
Since they're Volvos, they ought to. Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. And while we can't guarantee how long a Volvo will last in America, it's a fact that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the past 11 years are still on the road.
If you don't want to wait 6, 8, 10, or 11 years for a used Volvo 144, come in today and test drive a new one.
Or, test drive a Volvo 122. We've been selling that model a few years longer, so we've had time to get some nice used ones.

The Rockhound Craze Grows Across Nation

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)—Americans, young and old, are chipping away at the face of the nation in search of semi-precious stones and unusual rocks.

The searchers are called rockhounds, and their hobby has become a billion-dollar-a-year industry.

TAKERS WELCOME

New Mexico Park and Recreation Commission Director James Dillard said Rockhound State Park was "the only park I know of in the United States where visitors are encouraged to take specimens."

Among the many specimens to be found in the park are amethysts, opals, geodes and agates.

The land for the 250-acre park, some 12 miles southeast of Deming, N.M., in the Little Florida Mountains, was donated to the state by Deming Ranchettes, a land development corporation.

The State Park and Recreation Commission developed the area, providing picnic and camping sites, playground equipment, drinking water facilities, trails and restroom facilities.

FILM LOCATION

A television crew, working on a program series called "The Rockhound," visited New Mexico in September and did some filming in the park and at other locations in New Mexico.

The company was Jacques Descent Productions of Hollywood. Bill Morey of Arizona, who will narrate the series, said "We figured with all the controversy on violence in films, it was about time for a film the whole family could enjoy." The series was going to be shot throughout the United States.

Morey said rockhounding was a hobby the entire family could participate in. He said there were some 1,600 rockhound clubs nationwide and the clubs represented only about 7 per cent of people who took part in the hobby.

Morey said rockhounding had developed into a billion-dollar industry through investment in rock cutting and polishing equipment, campers and other gear.

"Our whole film isn't dedicated to rockhounding," Morey said. "It's like a travelogue documentary, with rockhounding as the binding theme; we also try to bring in such things as the geological, historical and cultural aspects of an area." In New Mexico, the crew also shot footage on the Pueblo Indians.

The film was being made in color, and Doyle said it was hoped the series would go on as a summer replacement in 1969.

Traditional Dances Are Centuries Old

TAOS, N.M. (UPI)—Taos Indians in their finest ceremonial dress will celebrate Christmas this year, as they have for centuries, with traditional Indian dances.

In this ancient pueblo village, and in others like it throughout the state, Indians will commemorate the birth of Christ through a unique blending of their Indian and Christian heritage.

The Christmas festivities at Taos will begin on Christmas Eve with midnight mass in the old adobe mission church, followed by a procession around the pueblo. The statue of the Blessed Virgin leads the procession, and the route is marked by luminarias—small bonfires of pinon wood.

Commemorative Indian dances originated long before Spanish priests brought the Roman Catholic religion to the isolated pueblos of New Mexico in the 1600's. But with their conversion to Catholicism, the Indians blended the new and old, and the outgrowth was the Christmas dance.

The practice of Christmas dances originated when Spanish explorers and priests asked the Indians to perform whatever dances they thought would be appropriate for the religious holiday.

Customarily, either the Deer dance or the Matachines dance is performed on Christmas day. But the selection of the dance and the dancers is not announced until about five days before Christmas.

According to the Indians, the Deer dance was chosen hundreds of years ago because the Indians thought the deer was one of the animals that might have been present when Christ was born.

The Matachines is a dance honoring the mother of Christ. According to an Indian spokesman, the dance was developed by the Indians from their interpretation of Spanish Catholic teachings about the Virgin Mother.

Dances at other pueblos originated in much the same way and continue today.

70 Students In Pioneer Role

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—Seventy students at Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT) are pioneers in an educational program designed to prepare them for a role in a world they will never hear.

The students are the first class of a federally-financed program, the National Technical Institute for the Deaf (NTID), the first such institute in the nation aimed at giving nonhearing persons a technical education in an environment where nearly all others can hear.

The charter group in NTID is composed of 44 men and 26 women, averaging 20 years of age. Within five years the registration is expected to be 750.

The first year of the program is basically an introductory stage, with the students working toward one of three possible goals—a preparatory course, a diploma or a degree in any of the regular technical fields offered at RIT. The latter include majors in electrical and mechanical technology, business, photography, art, printing and science.

The deaf students are completely integrated with hearing students, living in the same dormitories, and attending the same classes.

Special translators stand at one side of the classrooms, silently mouthing the words of the lecturer for those who lip read, and flashing out the words of the lesson in the hand signals—sign language—of the nonhearing.

Thirty specialists in education for the deaf have so far been added to the RIT staff. The NTID program is headed by Dr. D. Robert Frisina, formerly of Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C., which is the nation's leading liberal arts college exclusively for the deaf.

One special member of the NTID staff is Robert F. Panara, an educational specialist in the college of general studies.

Panara has been totally deaf since the age of 10 and is well known for his work in the organization of the National Theater for the Deaf and for translating many of Shakespear's works and several Greek plays into sign language. Panara taught at Gallaudet College for 18 years.

Many of the participants in NTID are extremely goal-oriented and show signs of leadership and drive, perhaps because of their handicaps.

Eddie Holder, a photography major from Elmhurst, Ill., recently started an impromptu class in sign language or signing, after a little urging from some of his hearing friends.

About 125 hearing and deaf students attended the first class and many have learned to sign with some proficiency.

One of the advantages and at the same time inherent difficulties with this charter group, however, is the disparity in their backgrounds.

Some students have spent much of their lives in residential schools for the deaf and now are getting their first experience in the hearing world. Others attended special classes at regular high schools and have never been with other deaf persons.

Larry Steward, who is in charge of counseling services, says: "Many students were leaders in their previous schools. They now face the first failure they have ever known."

Steward, who has been deaf since the age of eight, has devoted his life to the teaching and counseling of the deaf and currently is working on his doctorate from the University of Arizona.

TEL AVIV (AP) — More than 75 miles of roads have been built along the new ceasefire lines with Syria and Jordan since the war last year, according to the director of the Jewish National Fund, Ya'acov Tsur.

A new highway is cutting through to the 10,000-foot Mount Hermon in the occupied Golan Heights and a highway is being opened up along the Jordan River between Beit Shean, in the Beisan Valley, and the Dead Sea.

Will The King Go On Strike?

THIMBU, Bhutan (AP) — King Jigme Dorji Wangchuk of Bhutan is perhaps the world's lowest paid monarch.

The Bhutan national assembly has fixed the king's privy purse at 3,000 rupees ($400) a month — or only 500 rupees ($67) more than what his ministers get.

Wedged between Tibet and India, the 18,000-square-mile Bhutan has a population of 750,000.

CONTEST WINNER — Ray Pinkerman, manager of Shoeland at the Northgate Plaza, presents Tony Rowedder of 197 Carbe Drive, Novato, with a $25 U.S. Savings Bond for taking first place in the annual Thanksgiving coloring contest. Tony entered his drawing in the age 6 and under category.

WIND-DRIVEN RAIN DRENCHES MARIN

Southern Sonoma Also Feels Storm's Bite; San Rafael Gets Over Two Inches Of Rain

Rain driven by high winds drenched Marin and Southern Sonoma today as a blustery winter storm spread south through the state

Continued heavy rain was predicted through tonight with intermittent showers tomorrow.

Small craft warnings were flown along the coast, and wind gusts up to 100 miles per hour were recorded on Mount Tamalpais.

As usual, Marin County received the heaviest soaking in the Bay Area. At noon today 2.03 inch of rain had been recorded for the previous 24 hours in San Rafael.

Despite the heavy winds and rain, however, only minor damage was reported in the county.

About 100 homes in the Bothin Road area of Fairfax were without electricity between 10 and 11 a.m. today, according to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. but no other areas were reported affected. A number of individual homes reported electrical lines down, however.

In San Rafael, Public Works Director Norris Rawls said that minor flooding occurred last night on Villa Avenue because construction work on Highway 101 had plugged up a storm drain.

Early morning winds also caused trees and branches to fall throughout the county.

Rainfall recorded in varivus areas of Marin and Southern Sonoma for the 24-hour period to 8 a.m. today included: Bolinas .46 of an inch, Tamalpais Valley .66, Mill Valley .70, Tiburon .69, Sausalito 1.10, Woodacre 2.04, San Anselmo 2.12, Ross 2.24, Terra Linda .9, Novato .85 and Petaluma .37.

Nixon Seeks Demo For U.N. Position

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon apparently is determined to appoint a big-name Democrat as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations and a source in the Nixon camp indicated today the job would go to Sargent Shriver.

Shriver, currently ambassador to France, flew here hurriedly and conferred with Nixon for more than two hours Sunday. Yesterday Shriver then went to Washington where he met with his brother-in-law, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Then he returned to New York where he boarded an Air France plane back to Paris. At Kennedy Airport, he delayed the flight for several minutes while he made telephone calls to other members of the Kennedy family. Back in Paris, he declined any comment, saying any news must come from Nixon.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, announced last week that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had declined a firm offer from Nixon for the U.N. post.

Recent tradition has been for envoys to the United Nations to represent the same political faith as the president. However, former President Harry S. Truman, a Democrat, chose a prominant Vermont Republican, Sen. Warren Austin, to be U.N. ambassador.

Nixon, meanwhile, joked last night that he may be getting the Hong Kong flu but was described as only "sneezing a little" and fit for a national television-radio appearance at 7 p.m. PST tomorrow on most networks, in Washington to announce his cabinet.

Nixon said that his decision to announce all 12 cabinet choices at once was "something that's unprecedented, or at least unprecedented in recent times."

Chairman William McChesney Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, after conferring with Nixon, agreed to remain on the job in the next administration and told reporters he thinks the President-elect will curb inflation.

Yesterday afternoon, the President-elect announced word of two additional appointments to

Talks Further Stalled By Cong Accusations

PARIS (UPI)—The Viet Cong today accused the United States of committing worse crimes than Nazi Germany. Diplomats said the charge helped kill chances for an immediate start to delayed Vietnan War talks.

Duong Dinh Thao, deputy leader of the Viet Cong delegation to the Paris negotiations, told a news conference American forces in Vietnam are committing "worse crimes than the Hitlerite fascists." He also demanded the United States ignore its Saigon ally and settle the war directly with the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas.

Diplomats said North Vietnam and the United States are expected to reach a compromise on Viet Cong-Saigon difficulties and get the negotiations under way next week. They said any lingering hopes for opening the talks this week, already a month overdue in starting, died in the Thao blast.

"The Americans must solve the South Vietnamese problem with the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong's political arm) in order to find a correct political solution in accordance with the interest of the

Clifford Sees Paris As Viet Troop Key

Defense Boss Does Not See Any Withdrawals Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today he hopes that enough progress can be made in the Paris peace talks during the next 40 days that the United States and North Vietnam could agree to a mutual withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam.

The defense chief said he believes the opportunity exists in Paris for such an agreement and "I would like to see in the next 40 days the start of the return of American troops from South Vietnam."

NEWS CONFERENCE

Clifford said in response to close questioning at a news conference, however, he did not mean to imply that troops are indeed about to be withdrawn.

He said this will depend on how the Paris negotiations proceed.

At the White House, Press Secretary George Christian said he had not seen what Clifford had said and was unprepared to comment on it.

POSSIBLE PLAN

A reporter had asked Christian whether it was President Johnson's goal to achieve in Paris an agreement for a mutual withdrawal of troops before he leaves office Jan. 20.

At the same time, Clifford said it is possible the North Vietnamese plan to proceed with a winter military offensive in South Vietnam, although "it is too early to tell."

Clifford said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is preparing for such an offensive in case the North Vietnamese "choose to go this route."

Clifford also said it is also likely the Pentagon will have to request supplemental funds for its fiscal 1969 budget of $72 billion.

His disclosure of possible need for additional defense money came as he reported that the Pentagon has now met congressionally required spending cuts of $3 billion for this budget year.

Clifford said the cuts were shared this way by the services: Army $900 million, Navy $992 million, Air Force $928 million, and the various Defense agencies $180 million.

Clifford would not say how these spending cuts leave the 1969 spending total but he spoke of budget pressures which have arisen.

The defense chief also said:

He hopes the United States and the Soviet Union can get started soon on talks at any level toward the possible limitation and ultimate reduction of strategic weapons.

NO OBJECTION

He did not feel the incoming administration of President-elect Richard M. Nixon would object if President Johnson went ahead with broad policy talks on strategic arms reductions with Russia.

The North Vietnamese use Cambodia as a route of infiltrating troops into South Vietnam but there are no plans to take any military action against Cambodia.

NO MERIT

There is "no merit" to a Soviet charge that the movement of U.S. ships into the Black Sea is provocative. Clifford said U.S. ships have operated in that area before and that the cruise this week by two American destroyers this week was a routine voyage.

Clifford made it plain that the Paris peace negotiations hold the key to the resolution of sev-

Familiar Pattern Continues At State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rainswept San Francisco State College had two minor wastebasket fires today after yesterday's disorder in which a crowd of 1,000 smashed windows with rocks and was dispersed by mounted police.

The demonstration followed a pattern that has become familiar during the five-week student strike. (See picture, page 6.)

It began with a noon rally. After a series of speeches, the demonstrators began chanting "On Strike! Shut it Down!" as they marched—in a steady drizzle—on the Business and Social Science and the Administration buildings. Most business students have continued their classes.

POLICE ON FOOT

About 200 policemen on foot forced the demonstrators off the 18,000-student campus. As the crowd reached 19th and Holloway avenues, just off campus, 18 policemen on horses led other officers in clearing the streets for three blocks This was the first time the department's mounted unit was used.

Officers were showered with rocks.

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president, later told a news conference: "I think I'm on the right track. I'm confident that what I'm doing is right."

Yesterday was the seventh day since classes resumed under an emergency decree by Hayakawa, a noted semanticist with no previous administrative experience.

STUDENT DEMANDS

Strikers, led by the Black Students Union, the Third World Liberation Front and the Students for a Democratic Society, have rejected concessions made by Hayakawa, who succeeded Robert R. Smith Nov. 26.

Hayakawa announced formation of a black studies department with 11 Negro professors, but the strikers want an ethnic studies school with 50 profes-

Rain Hits Boycott Picketing

Heavy rains today drove away pickets who yesterday urged Sonoma State College students to boycott classes in support of strike efforts at San rancisco State College.

A dozen students picketed yesterday at Stevenson Hall and the main classroom building, charging "police state tactics" and "racism" were being practiced at San Francisco State. Attendance was reported normal at Sonoma State.

A day-long convocation is still scheduled tomorrow to discuss campus disruptions in San Francisco and how they apply to Sonoma State. President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. has made class attendance optional tomorrow.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. with a keynote speaker, who has yet to be selected. Workshops on the black studies program, the image of the college and campus relations will then be held.

A joint statement urging non-violence at the meeting was issued yesterday by Dr. Nichols; Terry Brennan, Associated Students' president; Joseph H. Brumbaugh, Academic Senate chairman, and James R. Schoenthal, staff council chairman.

"We urge that each student, faculty member and staff member think through his own position and his own options. Each of us must avoid actions and words which will discredit the position he wishes to support. Only in this way can we help Sonoma State College to continue to be a place where people can respect one another, care about one another and learn from one another," the statement said.

Campus Convocation To Explore Crisis

An all-day "campuswide convocation" at the College of Marin was called for Thursday today by the college's values committee.

No classes will be canceled, according to flyers distributed on campus today by the committee, which includes representatives of the student body, faculty and administration.

Its purpose is to seek a "non-violent alternative to the actions we have witnessed elsewhere," the flyers stated in reference to the strike at San Francisco State College.

The location on campus of the convocation, to run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., will be announced.

The flyers said subjects to be discussed at the convocation include the Black Students Union's push for autonomous black studies, faculty evaluation by students, reform of the curriculum and the future of both College of Marin campuses.

A spokesman for the college administration said that it has urged the values committee to take the time to plan the convocation carefully for early spring, but that the committee felt it had to be held "right now."

Dismissal Aids Powell's Seating

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With the House's case against him dismissed by a federal grand jury, Adam Clayton Powell stands a good chance of taking his seat in the next Congress with only minor opposition.

A three sentence Justice Department announcement late yesterday said the grand jury investigation of Powell's alleged mishandling of $42,000 in congressional funds had ended without an indictment when it was "concluded that available evidence did not warrant prosecution."

"The Department of Justice did not recommend an indictment," the statement said, "and none was returned."

ARRIVES TOMORROW

Lonely Female Swan To Get A Companion

"If you want to ship a swan into the United States, don't do it."

John H. Shiner of 120 Fernwood Drive, Peacock Gap, gave this advice while discussing his efforts, started last summer, to bring a wild male mute swan from England to San Lagoon in Peacock Gap.

The swan, hopefully to arrive tomorrow, will provide needed companionship to a female mute living in the lagoon, according to Shiner, president of the Peacock Gap Homeowners Association.

Originally a native of Northern Europe, the mute swan is white and has a prominent black knob on its beek. The average adult male weighs about 25 pounds (five more than the average female), Shiner said. Adults average 28-32 inches in height, he added.

Shiner said the U.S. Customs Department and its regulations pose the biggest hurdles to importing swans.

"The customs people said all wild fowl shipped here must undergo a quarantine confinement (three weeks) because the birds might bring pests or diseases into the country. Yet, wild fowl cross the Canadian and Mexican borders, for instance, without a customs check or quarantine," Shiner commented.

Shiner said the swan is now being quarantined in New York and is expected to be released tomorrow for shipment to San Francisco International Airport if a government veterinarian declares it healthy. So far, he continued, a friend in New York reports that the fowl has been healthy.

Moreover, Shiner must pay at least a dollar a day for food.

The Peacock Gap homeowners will pay about $500 to get the swan to San Lagoon, Shiner said.

This estimate includes shipping, feeding, telephone calls, telegrams and letters arranging the bird's entry into the U.S.

Shiner said the problems with government officials began when a U.S. Department of Agriculture shipping permit was granted Sept. 16 for a proposed arrival Oct. 1-15 at San Francisco.

The permit had to be extended, he said, because of a shipping "mixup" in London, the fact that there was only one nonstop air freight flight a week between London and San Francisco and the failure of government officials to inform him that the swan had to be quaran-

Senators Told Of Ruined Credit; Official Calls It 'Isolated' Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A television newsman told the opening session of a Senate investigation today his credit rating was ruined after a mistaken report that his car had been repossessed.

He said Ford Motor Credit Co., blamed for initiating the report, even notified credit rating bureaus the 1964 report was false, "but the credit bureaus failed to comply with the firm's instructions."

"As the result of a long feud with credit bureaus, it is presently impossible for me to obtain a credit report at all," said Leon B. Sanders of Shreveport, La., in testimony prepared for a subcommittee investigating credit reporting firms.

But John L. Spafford of Houston, Tex., representing a national association of credit bureaus, asked the subcommittee "to keep the few, isolated complaints against credit bureaus in proper focus."

"It is extremely important to consider such complaints in relation to the overwhelming number of consumers whose credit is consistently approved," said Spafford in prepared testimony.

Subcommittee investigators said Sanders was selected from hundreds who had complained to Sen. Philip A. Hart about credit bureaus, whose reports play a major role in determining who receives charge accounts and loans.

Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, said earlier the panel, which ends its hearing tomorrow, "will be concerned with what competitive safeguards are operating on an industry that has such an impact on the consumer's ability to buy."

Sanders, news editor for a television station, said the bureaus should be subject to federal controls reflecting "their power over people's lives."

Nadar Fears Crash Peril Of Minicars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Auto safety critic Ralph Nader says the government must take immediate action to include minicars in federal safety regulations or face the threat of cars with the "collapse capability" of a Japanese lantern.

Nader said yesterday that Japanese mandfacturers plan to flood the American market with minicars weighing under 1,000 pounds.

The National Highway Safety Bureau originally exempted cars under 1,000 pounds from the government safety regulations. But later it issued a notice of proposed rule-making to apply the standards to minicars.

In a letter to safety bureau chief William Haddon, Nader claimed there was no indication the government would issue the final standards in time to stop a flood of minicars on the American market.

The leader of the minicar import surge is Japan's Fuji heavy industries, makers of the Sabaru 360, Nader said. So far, 5,500 Subarus have been sold in the United States, and the company expects to sell 3,000 a month, Nader said.

He said Honda, Suzuke and several other Japanese companies would also export large numbers of their minicars.

"These minicars have the collapse capability that is reminiscent of a Japanese lantern in a crash," said Nader.

U.S. War Toll In Vietnam Climbs Past 30,000 Mark

SAIGON (UPI)—The number of Americans killed in Vietnam has passed 30,000, U.S. military sources said today. Nearly half of them have died this year.

Official reports showed Vietnam fighting since Jan. 1, 1961, had killed 29,865 Americans through Nov. 30. But the U.S. headquarters sources said the number has now passed the 30,000 mark.

The disclosure came as the U.S. command reported Communist shellings against nine military camps and villages on three sides of Saigon and Cambodian border fighting which killed 14 American soldiers.

The Vietnam death toll mounted steadily toward the 33,629 U.S. soldiers killed in the Korean War, America's fourth costliest war in lives lost.

Official statistics showed nearly half of the American Vietnam losses—some 14,200 died this year. For the war, more than 190,000 U.S. servicemen have been wounded and another 1,200 are listed as missing in action or captured.

Over North Vietnam yesterday, Communist gunners tried but failed with surface-to-air missiles to bring down a Navy RA5C reconnaissance plane taking pictures of troop and supply movements, spokesmen said.

It followed yesterday's announcement of the fourth U.S. warplane shot down over the Communist nation since the Nov. 1 bombing halt. Today headquarters identified one of the two pilots rescued yesterday as Air Force Maj. Robert L. McCann of Dedham, Mass.

The series of shellings against outposts near Saigon was the second in five days, headquarters said.

In nine salvos, the Communists sent 392 rocket, mortar and recoilless rifle rounds into three provincial capitals, a district capital and five U.S. and South Vietnamese military camps yesterday and today.

Karl Barth, Famed Church Writer, Dies

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Karl Barth, the world's leading Protestant theologian, died early today at his home in Basel. He was 82.

A native of Basel, Barth was praised as the most creative Protestant theologian since John Calvin. He also was variously damned as a heretic, a narrow-minded biblicist and an atheist in disguise—but even some of his critics called him "the most monumental appearance in our period."

BUSY AUTHOR

He gave the world of religious thought 10 fat tomes, elaborating a formidable and intricate Protestantism that stressed the spiritual nature of true religion —faith in Christ, the church of Christ and the Bible as His witness.

As a young minister in World War I, Barth published his first bombshell in 1918. His "Epistle to the Romans" was a scathing attack on the dominant "liberal" theology of the day.

As a scholar and later a teacher, Barth had little time for politics—"fundamentally uninteresting"—until 1933 after Hitler established the Third Reich. Then a professor at the University of Bonn, he repeatedly attacked Nazism until he was arrested, tried, found guilty of "seducing the minds of German students" and expelled from Germany in 1935.

IN SWISS ARMY

In World War II, Barth volunteered for duty in the Swiss army at the age of 54 and spent much of the duration guarding a bridge on the German frontier. After the war he returned briefly to lecture in the bombed-out ruins of his old university in Bonn, then came back to Basel to carry on with the intellectual job he started in 1932: the writing of Church Dogmatics.

Thought by many to be too eye-wearying and garrulous, Dogmatics was nonetheless hailed as the century's only equivalent to the summa of medieval scholastics, wreathed with a knowledge of 1,900 years of Christian writing.

Along with other controversial traits, Barth won a reputation for anti-Americanism by denouncing "the fleshpots" of a country he never visited until 1962.

His son Markus, a professor of the New Testament at Pittsburgh's Theological Seminary, reported that Barth found only two things he disliked—the plight of Negroes in slums and the influence of commercial sponsors on television programming.

Russ Plan Record Military Spending

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today raised its defense budget for next year by 1 billion rubles to an all-time high military expenditure of 17.7 billion rubles.

The defense figure was given by Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov in outlining a 133.8 billion ruble national budget for next year. The official rate of the ruble is $1.11.

The increase in defense spending was a lower rate than a year ago when the Soviet Union announced an increase of 2.2 billion rubles to a total of 16.7 billion. The costs of helping the North Vietnamese in the Vietnam war and the Arab-Israeli dispute were believed to be a main factor in that increase.

The budget defense figure is a portion of Soviet military spending. Western observers figure about half the items normally carried on the military budget are concealed under other headings in the Soviet budget.

The defense budget figure was given without elaboration but apparently it was a Soviet answer to increased military spending in the West. The Soviet press has recently been highly critical of plans for a step-up in activities in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and has cautioned against the danger of an arms race.

Some holdover expenses from the invasion of Czechoslovakia were also believed to be a factor in the increase.

Six Get Nobel Prizes In Pageant At Palace

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Five American scientists and a Japanese author, Yasunari Kawabata, today were awarded 1968 Nobel Prizes for their contribution to the "benefits to mankind."

The prestige-laden awards, each worth a record 350,000 crowns, (about $70,000), were handed out by Sweden's scholarly 86-year-old King Gustaf VI Adolf at a pageant mixed with royal pomp, academic rites and solemn music.

The all-American team of scientific laureates were:

Prof. Luis Alvarez, 57, of the University of California at Berkeley, winner of the prize for physics.

Norwegian-born Prof. Lars Onsager, 65, of Yale University, the chemistry prize winner.

Three biochemists, Drs. Marshall W. Nirenberg, 41, of the National Heart Institute at Bethesda, Md., Indian-born Har Gobind Khorana, 46, of the University of Wisconsin, and Robert Holley, 46, of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. They shared the prize for physiology and medicine.

Earlier today, in Oslo, this years Nobel Peace Prize was presented by the Norwegian Nobel Committee to French jurist, Prof. Rene Cassin for his human rights work. He said he would use most of the prize money—$70,000—to found an institute for human rights in Strasbourg.

Leaking Valve Interrupts Apollo Launch Rehearsal

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A leaking valve halted the 102-hour practice countdown yesterday for the Apollo 8 mission just two hours before it was scheduled to be completed.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the trouble would not affect the scheduled Dec. 21 blastoff of Apollo 8 with its three-man crew to circle the moon.

The countdown started last Thursday with five extra days for the launch crew to correct any trouble. Officials pointed out that four extra days remain in case additional trouble pops up.

The leak was discovered in a heat exchanger valve on the launch pad service tower. The exchanger cools helium which feeds into the third stage of the Saturn 5 rocket to pressurize fuel lines.

Although the count was stopped just two hours from completion, it had to be recycled today back to nine hours because that is the point at which fuel loading starts.

Once a simulated liftoff is reached, the fuel will be drained again. The next day the three astronauts, Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders, will enter the Apollo 8 ship atop the rocket to rehearse the final 150 minutes of the count.

This yellow gold pendant Glycine watch is no bigger than a lipstick and is equally attractive worn open or closed. The gold pin resembles a pine cone and the ring is a square cut topaz in a basket setting. They are among Christmas gift ideas to be found at Granat Brothers Jewelers in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

Cost Soars For Antique Candlesticks

LONDON (UPI)—In these times of economic crisis, a candlestick comes in very handy.

Especially if the candlestick is silver and made, say, by a craftsman in Victorian or Georgian times. Whatever is happening to the pound sterling, the franc and the mark, the value of that candlestick is going up.

Antique silver dealers report that Britons are buying up silver as an investment, reflecting their worry about the value of their money.

Those who can afford that price also are buying diamonds, works of art and antiques.

Although prevented from buying bars of gold, ordinary citizens can go out and purchase blocks of silver. The price reflects the economic situation. Two years ago, a one-ounce bar costs nine shillings and fourpence ($1.12). Now the price is fluctuating around one pound ($2.40).

For the most part, though, the public leaves the professionals to deal in the complicated world of the silver market, and is buying up silver candlesticks, goblets, table pieces, cutlery, bowls, cigarette boxes, coffee pots and milk jugs.

The Jewelry Information Center says prices of antique silver have rocketed because of demand.

"It is being bought as an investment which will continue to rise since inflation increases the value of precious metals," said a spokesman.

Youth Fatally Stabbed On Fraternity Errand

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fraternity pledge at the University of Southern California, running an errand for a member, was stabbed to death last night, police said.

Bryan Clay, 18, a freshman from Honolulu, died of a deep knife wound in the chest which severed a main artery to the heart. He died 35 minutes after arriving at Central Receiving Hospital, authorities said.

An elderly man and woman, not immediately identifed, told police they saw Clay, holding the jacket, back out of the car when three men surrounded him.

After speaking to Clay for a moment, they closed in on him and one seemed to lurch forward. The three unidentified men then fled, said the couple.

Blood flowing from his chest wound, Clay staggered toward the fraternity door, calling weakly for help, and Frank Brown, 21, another member, opened the door.

"Get me an ambulance," Clay cried—then collapsed, his hand pressed on the wound. While other members summoned the ambulance, Brown and the couple wrapped the dying student in blankets and made a futile attempt to stem the flow of blood.

Another pledge, 18-year-old Jeff Klein of Fresno, later recalled: "He kept asking, 'Am I all right? Am I all right?' I told him he was but he kept getting paler and paler," Klein said. "And then he stopped talking."

Brown, who had been the first one at Clay's side after the attack, said later: "We don't know what to think. All we did was ask a pledge to get something from a car, right in front of the house.

"I sure the people who stabbed him didn't know him," Brown said, "and he had nothing to steal."

The members told police Clay was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clay. The father is a United Airlines who had recently transferred to Honolulu from Chicago where his son had attended school.

Novato Planners Deny Lot Split On Olive Avenue

The Novato Planning Commission last night denied Embarcadero Properties Inc. a lot split on the south side of Olive Avenue between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, according to secretary Juanita Gibson.

The city's department of public works wants street improvements along that side of Olive Avenue before the lot split could be made, she said.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

TAXI STAND — Granted Novato Investment Co. a permit to operate a taxi dispatching company and Western Union telegraph station on the northwest corner of Industrial Way and Second Street.

PARKING — Changed the parking requirements for single family dwellings from one off street parking spot to one covered and one open, or two per residence.

MOBILE HOMES — Continued until Monday consideration of an amendment to the zoning ordinance for the establishment of mobile home parks by use permit and setting up standards for mobile home parks.

CONTINUED — Continued all other items to its Jan. 13 meeting.

Innocent Plea To Driving Charge

Innocent plea to a felony drunken driving charge was entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Harry Marvin Cassidy, 25.

Jury trial was scheduled for the week of March 31. Cassidy, of no known address, gave a hitchhiker, Robert Grant, 19, of 90 Greenhill Road, Mill Valley, and others a ride in Corte Madera on Oct. 24.

His vehicle struck a power pole and Grant suffered a broken pelvis, police said.

Food Stamp Plan Voted For Marin

A food stamp program for Marin County, to begin March 1, won the approval of the board of supervisors by a 4 to 1 vote today during a workshop session with a welfare study task force.

On a motion by Chairman Ernest N. Kettenhofen, the supervisors voted $8,494 to administer the food stamp plan from March through June of next year.

John F. McInnis, the lone dissenter, said he favored the program but could not approve the money because the county's reserves were dangerously low.

Betty Presley, director of public social services, estimated that 480 families on public aid and 60 other low income families will participate in the program.

Under the program, families may purchase coupons at banks at a discount to be used to buy food worth considerably more.

Supervisors also agreed that a new child center for low income welfare mothers was needed at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael. But they postponed appropriating funds because the county's depleted reserves. The cost of the center, from January through June, would be $16,176.

McInnis moved to refer the child center proposal to the new board of supervisors next month. The only dissenter was Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who urged immediate provision for funds because "unless we vote before the new board takes over, the center will be in jeopardy."

The supervisors met with members of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children task force which was organized last summer to seek means for welfare mothers to become more self-sufficient.

Among recommendations made by the group and accepted by the supervisors were: that the task force should continue in existence; take legal means to assure that no license be granted to foster day care families which discriminate against children of minority race, and continue the AFDC newsletter.

The supervisors declined to commit the county to continue supplementation to state welfare aid indefinitely, but said the county's present policy of giving supplementation had not changed.

On the suggestion of supervisor Peter H. Behr, the board decided to ask Marin County judges for a study of family courts to help in reconciliation of welfare families.

Rohnert Park Panel Views Park Policy

The need for a master plan for park development was discussed last night at the Rohnert Park Recreation Commission meeting.

Chairman Ronald Rasmussen said serious thought to a master plan will be given after the first of the year. He said George Kovatch, Sonoma County planning director, will have more time to aid the commission in January. It is hoped a list of priorities will be developed in time for consideration of the city budget in July.

The commission said it would begin in January to work with boards of schools located adjacent to city parks to develop a mutual plan for increased recreational facilities for youngsters.

Rohnert Park Recreation Commission also:

TROPHIES — Awarded trophies to the winning teams in softball competition. Satori's Hauling Co. took first place with the team sponsored by Lucca Liquors as runners-up.

POOL — Decided to keep the municipal pool open for the month of December. If use continues at a high rate, the commission may consider keeping it open on a year-round basis.

MEETING — Canceled the remaining meeting in December. The next meeting will be Jan. 13.

Finals Plans Set On Fire Station

The Bolinas Fire Protection District board last night approved final plans for a new $30,000 fire station on Mesa Road, chairman Manuel A. Peters reported today.

Peters said bids will be taken within the next month or two and the building is to be completed by July 1.

The present station in downtown Bolinas is being replaced because it is sometimes blocked by traffic. The new station was designed by Don P. Offham and Associates of Novato.

Youth Admitted To Napa Hospital

A 20-year-old man was committed to Napa State Hospital for psychiatric observation early today after Sausalito police found him on the beach after an apparent swim at 2 a.m. in the stormy waters of San Francisco Bay.

Police said Kenneth John McDonald, 20, of Stanford, told them he had taken LSD, then jumped into the Bay from the roof of a Sausalito apartment building in an attempt to take his life.

On hitting the icy waters, McDonald apparaently changed his mind and swam to shore. Police found him collapsed on a small beach south of Main Street after a report someone was calling for help.

Association Seeks Members

The Peacock Gay Homeowners Association last night opened its 1969 membership drive and named Robert Hunt as chairman.

The association elected Philip C. Shivell to the board of directors to succeed John J. Zimmer, who resigned due to pressure of business, according to Charles W. Dechent, treasurer.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Jan. 13 at the home of Edward E. Kadel, 55 McNear Drive.

Santa Rosan Arrested In Attack Probe

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A 37-year-old Santa Rosa man, accused of attempting to rape a Vacaville woman near Sonoma Nov. 30, has been arrested in a Novato motel, according to Sonoma County sheriff's deputies.

John R. Aitkens was arrested Sunday by Sonoma County Sheriff's Inspector Timothy Brown and Novato Police Officer R Ronald Schanakes. He was accompanied by a woman, they said.

Aitkens has been held in the Sonoma County Jail on $11,300 bail on charges of attempted rape and attempted sex perversion involving a 29-year-old woman and on charges of issuing checks with insufficient funds.

He has pleaded innocent to the charges and will face a preliminary hearing Thursday in Sonoma County Municipal Court on the charge of issuing a $150 check July 13 to Sis' Market, Rohnert Park, with insufficient funds.

At that time, the court also will set a trial date on the charge that Aitkens issued a $65 check with insufficient funds, Aug. 18 to Don's Bar, Sebastapol.

Aitkens will face a preliminary hearing Dec. 18 on the attempted rape and attempted sex perversion charges in Sonoma County Municipal Court, Southern Judicial District, in Petaluma.

Tiburon Annexation Discussed, Delayed

The Tiburon Sanitary District board last night discussed its proposed annexation of three parcels on Tiburon Boulevard, but took no action.

The board has already asked the Local Agency Formation Commission to approve annexation of the parcels, which are near San Rafael Avenue in the Weeks subdivision.

Egyptian, Israeli Jets In Dogfights

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Egyptian and Israeli jet fighters battled in the skies over Sharm El Sheikh today, Israeli officials reported in Tel Aviv. Jordan reported Israeli air attacks were driven off Jordanian territory.

Sharm El Sheikh is the one-time Egyptian fortress guarding the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba. Israel captured it from Egypt in the 1967 June war and reopened the gulf to Israeli shipping.

The Tel Aviv spokesman said one Egyptian jet was shot down in a dogfight and that a second one was crippled. It identified the Egyptian planes as Russian-built MIG17s.

The dogfights were only the second reported between Egyptian and Israeli air force planes since the end of the 1967 war although there have been hundreds of incidents along the Suez Canal including artillery duels and isolated firefights.

Sharm El Sheikh separates the Gulf of Aqaba from the Red Sea. Egypt's decision to close the strait to Israeli shipping in the spring of 1967 was cited by Israel as a major provocation which led to the Arab-Israeli war.

Israeli officials said they saw one of the Egyptian planes plunge into the Red Sea during today's air battle while the other was trailing smoke as it headed in a southerly direction.

Shortly before Israel reported the air battle a Jordanian military spokesman in Amman said Israeli jet fighters invaded Jordanian air space in an attempted raid on Iraqi-manned artillery positions in Jordan but were driven off by Jordanian antiaircraft fire.

A military spokesman in Amman said the fighters swooped over the Jordanian city of Mafraq, about 50 miles northeast of Amman and 60 miles east of the Jordan River.

There was no immediate confirmation from Israel.

GIFTS AND CHUCKLES

Old 'Hawks, Doves' Volume Given LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson got a rare book on birds—and a chuckle—today when Rep. Wright Patman of Texas gave him a copy of an 1893 volume of "Hawks and Doves of the United States."

Patman told the President the book was put out by the Secretary of Agriculture and the congressman said he knew of Johnson's interest in rare books. The ornithological volume came out, of course, long before hawks and doves became descriptive words for views on war.

The congressman brought along another book he wrote himself—"A Thousand and One Questions and Answers on the American Government," a revised version of a paperback that first came out in 1946 and has been updated almost every year since.

"I'm going to need a lot of answers to questions in the months ahead," Johnson said with a grin.

"You have better answers to questions, I am sure, Mr. President," Patman said.

Johnson recalled that only three House members are in Congress who were there when he became a House member in 1937. Patman is one, he said, and the others are Speaker John McCormack of Massachusetts and Emanuel Celler of New York.

Mansion Buyer In County Offer

HILLSBOROUGH (UPI) — A tentative agreement has been reached for purchase of the 250-acre Tobin Clark estate and its 46-room Tudor-style mansion.

The buyer, Hal Anderson of Andtex & Co., said today he intends to give the mansion, built in 1931 at a cost of $1 million, and its surrounding gardens and terraces to San Mateo County as a cultural center.

Anderson planned to develop the bulk of the land into a luxury residential area, with homes in the $150,000 ot $750,000 class.

The price of the estate was not disclosed, but in 1966 it was offered for $3 million.

Spain Keeping Check On Language

MADRID (UPI)—English has managed to come to the point where even Charles de Gaulle is worried. But here in Spain the Royal Academy of Language is successfully fighting off the verbal invasion from the New World.

There is a "Spanglish"—Spanish and English"—just as there is a "Franglais"—French and English. But whereas in France the French have surrendered to "le drugstore" and "le weekend" the Spaniards claim to have the linguistic situation under control.

The academy admits it's too late to do anything about "futbol" or football, but it manned the ramparts against basketball until local fans accepted "baloncesto" for the sport. One can hear "hippy" and "ye-ye" (yea yea) here and there but the academy ignores them as too transient to quarrel about.

About 200 million people around the world speak Spanish and the final word on how they should speak it rests with the small group of men here who comprise the academy. Never more than 36 members the group meets every Thursday evening to polish, clarify and define the Spanish lexicology.

They sit around a green baize-covered table under low green-shaded lamps in a room that somewhat resembles a gambling parlor.

Each member has a pile of reference books in front of him. Points of delicate academic interest fly across the table. And, perhaps at the end of the evening a couple of new words are approved for insertion in the official dictionary prepared by the academy.

"Our dictionary is not as complete as Webster's or Oxford," said Prof. Rafael Ispesa, secretary of the academy. "But we try to ensure that it represents what is correct and pure in the Spanish Language."

The academy's technique is one of "when in doubt, leave out." Ispesa said members often sit for years, even decades on a disputed word before deciding whether to award it a place in the dictionary.

"When a foreign word has become firmly established, we try to see that it conforms to Spanish orthography. "We look with disfavor on any word ending with 'P' or 'B' because these are uncommon terminations in Spanish and the tendency would be to distort the word. 'Clip' in Spanish would soon degenerate into 'Klee' its plural into 'Kleepes', and this would be too ugly."

The academy is the font of linguistic purity not only for Spain, but for the entire Spanish-speaking world. It automatically admits Latin American words to the dictionary where these words have been approved by the language academies in their countries of origin.

Election to the academy is one of the highest literary honors in the Spanish-speaking world. The members take it upon themselves to be the dedicated guardians of a dignified language that, with the help of its wealth of diminutive endings, can also be one of the world's tenderest.

With its Latin heritage and Arabic overtones, Spanish is full of weighty sonrities. The Emperor Charles V had a clear idea of its value. "I speak Spanish to God, Italian to women, French to men and German to my horse," was one statement attributed to him.

"While striving to maintain the purity of our tongue, the academy members are aware that it must be adapted to modern needs and to many peoples," Ispesa said. "They realize that Spanish is first and foremost a living language."

eral U.S. defense problems.

He said he hoped the parley would not be delayed by technical matters, presumably such as the question of how the U.S., North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Communist National Liberation Front are to be seated.

Clifford said he hopes the two major sides can move quickly toward a formal understanding on making the demilitarized zone in Vietnam truly demilitarized, and on the Communist shelling of South Vietnamese cities and U.S. reconnaissance of North Vietnamese territory.

"Then we can move on to lowering the level of combat," he said.

A lessening of hostilities could, in turn, pave the way for an agreement on a mutual withdrawal of U.S. and North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam.

Clifford would not comment on who he thinks may take over as head of the Pentagon in the Nixon administration. Reports have circulated it will be Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis.

Clifford said the military branches have come up with thousands of "creative ideas" on how the Pentagon can improve American society "without impairing its primary mission of defending our nation."

He mentioned several possibilities:

The Pentagon can share a "spin-off" of information acquired in defense with the civilian community.

Defense installations not used full time might be provided for summer youth programs, on-the-job training or upgrading unskilled workers.

The overhaul of certain types of equipment brought back from Vietnam could be contracted to firms that hire and train hard core unemployed.

his White House staff. To serve as special assistant he named Robert J. Brown, 33, of High Point, N.C., and William Safire, a 38-year-old author and New York public relations man who served as a writer in Nixon's 1968 campaign.

Brown, a Negro, was said to be getting an assignment of general scope but, as he put it to newsmen, will concentrate particularly on Nixon's plans to promote "black capitalism."

Nixon announced two more appointments to his personal staff today:

James Keogh, 52, of Greenwich, Conn., who has been on leave of absence as executive editor of Time magazine, will be special assistant and "managing editor" in the preparation of speeches, messages to Congress and the like.

Dr. Martin Anderson ,32, an associate professor at Columbia University's Graduate School of Business, will be special assistant—one of several—concentrating on "program and policy development."

Both men were closely associated with the Nixon campaign.

SWAN

tined for three weeks in New York.

Shiner contended that the quarantine should have taken place in San Francisco since it was the designated point of arrival on the shipping permit.

Some years ago, he said, a male mute swan and a female companion from Denmark were put into San Lagoon. In 1965, two dogs killed the male.

Last summer, the female built a nest on the shoreline property of Charles W. Dechent of 15 Lagoon Road, a retired Bank of America executive.

Dechent fed the swan, which laid nine nonfertile eggs. He then broke up the nest to discourage the swan from laying any more eggs, but the fowl made a new nest nearby and laid four more nonfertile eggs.

Peacock Gap residents, Shiner said, decided the swan needed a male companion.

Shiner went to the British Isles in August, and friends there referred him to the Wildfowl Trust.

S. T. Johnstone, trust curator, told Shiner that a male mute swan had been found and Shiner subsequently decided it should be the one for San Lagoon.

State Hearing Friday On Plan For Angel Island

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A public hearing on a $2.5 million development plan for Angel Island will be held by the state Parks and Recreation Commission here on Friday in room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Commission staff said the hearing probably would be shortly after 11 a.m., but noted it could come anytime during the all-morning meeting, scheduled to begin at 9 a.m.

Also on the agenda are an offer by David W. Allen of Belvedere to give two 19th Century arks to the state for possible use as a gift shop and restaurant at the San Francisco Maritime State Historic Park, and payment of $13,500 to Geneva Reinhart for title of a piece of tidelands adjacent to Stinson Beach State Park.

Hayakawa offered further concessions yesterday. He said students arrested or suspended for violating his "state of emergency" regulations may go back to classes pending a hearing by a disciplinary board.

The strikers want amnesty for all arrested as well as admission of all nonwhite applicants, promotion of some teachers and firing of others and reinstatement of twice-suspended Black Panther George Murray, a part-time instructor who urged Negroes to carry guns.

Meanwhile, Judge Albert A. Axelrod ordered Murray to show cause in Municipal Court Jan. 8 why he should not be jailed for six months.

Murray, 23, was given a six-months suspended sentence and placed on probation for a year last March after being convicted of battery in an attack on staff members of the Gater, the campus student newspaper.

Axelrod said he had been informed Hayakawa signed a complaint charging Murray last week with unlawful assembly, failure to disperse, disturbing the peace and inciting to riot. He noted that a condition of Murray's probation was that he not participate in any illegal activity.

In another off-campus development, the city's AFL-CIO Central Labor Council called together union leaders, state legislators and representatives of Mayor Joseph L. Alioto's office who agreed to organize a committee which would try to mediate the dispute.

The action came after the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers asked a strike sanction at the college.

In yesterday's disturbance, several policement invaded the Protestant - run Ecumenical House but made no arrests. The house is a staging area for demonstrators.

Police radios, communicating with a helicopter over the campus quadrangle, blared the report that people coming from the Ecumenical House were carrying sacks filled with rocks.

The raid on the business Building came after a member of the Black Students Union, Tom Williams, told a rally held during a letup in the rain, "Classes are going on in the BSS. Let's move over there and close it down."

The accident happened a mile north of Penngrove at 1:30 a.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

American and Vietnamese peoples," Thao said.

He denounced South Vietnam's vice president and delegation leader as an "ardent admirer of Hitler" and said only the Viet Cong could represent the South Vietnamese people in talks.

Thao's position countered South Vietnamese delegation statements yesterday. The Saigon delegation, led by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, said it considers the Viet Cong a Hanoi puppet and said the guerrillas will take part in talks only as part of the North Vietnamese delegation.

The Viet Cong's clandestine jungle radio, heard in Saigon, today did nothing to make compromise easier.

It claimed Ky came to Paris Sunday to "destroy the conference."

The Viet Cong radio also repeated an appeal for guerrillas to stage "offensives and uprisings" this month to mark the underground organization's eighth anniversary.

Car In Collision Listed As Stolen

A car abandoned after a hit and run accident in Corte Madera yesterday turned out to have been stolen in San Francisco on Sunday, according to police.

The driver of the stolen car, who ran from the scene of the accident at 624 Corte Madera Grade, was described as a white man between 23 and 25 years old and wearing a light blue windbreaker and tan pants.

Police said he sideswiped a car driven by Thomas E. Machill, 39, of San Francisco at about 10:30 a.m.

The owner of the abandoned car, which has been turned over to San Francisco police, was not known to Corte Madera officers.

Prison Inmate Stabbed In Back

A San Quentin inmate was stabbed in the back with a wide-blade weapon yesterday afternoon while bending over his loom in the prison textile mill weaving room, prison officials reported.

Thomas J. Roberts, 33, was reported in good condition today in the prison hospital, where he is being treated for two stab wounds between his shoulder blades.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said the assailant is unknown. The weapon has not been found, either, he said.

JAPANESE DRAGNET — Tokyo traffic grinds to a halt as police question vehicle drivers in looking for a bandit who escaped with $833,000 while disguised as a traffic officer. (UPI Telephoto)

Bogus Japanese Policeman Escapes With $833,000

TOKYO (UPI)—A young man disguised as a traffic policeman today tricked four bank employes out of $833,000 in Christmas bonus money and used their automobile to get away with what police called the greatest highway robbery in Japanese history.

Not a shot was fired nor a threat made in the robbery on a narrow road behind Tokyo's Fuchu prison.

The bandit, wearing the white helmet and black leather jacket of a traffic officer, rode a stolen white motorbike up to a bank car carrying the bonus money for employes of the Toshiba Electric Co. He told the bank men he had information dynamite was planted in the car.

When the four got out, the bandit got in and drove away with the car and three metal boxes full of banknotes with unrecorded serial numbers.

"He looked just like a policeman," said Eiji Nakada, the driver of the auto. "When we got to the road near the prison, the robber told us to stop. He said he had instructions from Koganei police station."

"We were really surprised when he said some explosive was planted in the car. Carrying a flashlight, he told us to get out of the automobile," Nakada said.

The bandit bent for a moment over the car floorboard. The bank men said they figured he was looking for dynamite. The bandit suddenly hopped behind the wheel and roared away.

"We thought he was trying to put distance between our car and other cars to minimize the danger of the explosion," one of the victims said. "Seconds later the car picked up speed and soon disappeared from out sight."

The four bank employes were left standing in a rain as the bandit sped away.

Nobuyoshi Miura, executive director of the bank sending the money to the company, told newsmen he had not kept record of the serial numbers of the stolen bills.

"Our bank is small so we usually assign two men to transport money. But in the case of Toshiba, the amount was too big so we assigned two additional employes. We were at fault for not employing guards or using an armored car," Miura said.

Dedication Date Set For School

The Lagunitas School District board last night adopted a resolution to dedicate the San Geronimo Valley Elementary School at 2 p.m. March 1.

The school was opened Nov. 18 for about 200 first through third grade pupils.

The board also voted to have a student contest to name the two buildings at the new school.

The board delayed action on two bids for insurance coverage for next year, because the bids were considerably higher than the premium for present coverage, according to Supt. Marshall J. McCuniff.

The Insurance Co. of North America bid a $3,862 contract and the Great American Co. a $3,912 contract.

Insurance Co. of North America has a $2,200 contract with the district this year, but it doesn't cover the new San Geronimo Valley buildings and equipment, McCuniff said.

The superintendent reported the district's enrollment is now 517 students.

The Lagunitas School District board also:

SPECIAL MEETING — Set a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday to review the district's building program.

SYSTEMS — Authorized the superintendent to survey various firms and make a study of costs for communication systems in school buildings.

$35,000 Mill Valley Park Jobs Proposed

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission last night agreed that approximately $35,000 in capital improvement projects should be included in the 1969-70 city budget.

Commissioners listed four projects which they said should be included in next year's budget and dropped one project, long designated as top priority, from the list, according to Parks and Recreation Director Don Dimitratos.

The installation of two new tennis courts with night lighting at Boyle Park and resurfacing of present courts, estimated to cost $31,000, replaced construction of children's playground for Boyle Park as the top priority item.

Other capital improvement projects included allocation of $3,000 to supplement a $4,000 donation by the Mill Valley Teen Club for construction of a recreation shelter at Boyle Park; construction of a curb and gutter on Cascade Drive from Throckmorton Avenue to Cascade Creek to prevent erosion of the walkway into Old Mill Park, $600; and interior painting, repair of a porch wall and replacement of damaged outside shingles at the golf clubhouse, no cost estimate.

The budget request will be submitted to the city council in the spring, Dimitratos said.

The Park And Recreation Commission Also:

SPONSORSHIP — Agreed to sponsor permanently the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts.

MEETING — Agreed to meet on Jan. 27 with the city's art commission to discuss problems of mutual interest.

LANDSCAPING — Approved street tree planting plans for Lomita Drive south of East Blithedale Avenue. Enchanted Knolls residents will finance the planting program, Dimitratos explained.

NOMINATION — Nominated the Mill Valley Lions Club for the annual California Parks and Recreation Society Northern District award for outstanding contribution because of the club's work in constructing restroom facilities and a bridge in Boyle Park.

THANKS — Thanked George P. Leonard for donating a section of the Dipsea Trail to the county thus placing the entire trail in county ownership.

BOAT STORAGE — Directed a subcommittee to prepare cost estimates and to make a recommendation on moving the small boat facilities from the end of Sycamore Avenue to Enchanted Knolls and to report back on Jan. 13.

ADJOURNMENT — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m .Jan. 13, not Dec. 23 as regularly scheduled, because of the Christmas holiday.

Superintendent Hunt To Begin

Dixie School District trustees will take preliminary steps tomorrow night for selection of a new superintendent to succeed Supt. Dennie B. Willis, who will retire next June.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the school administration office at 35 Trellis Drive, Terra Linda.

Trustees plan to form a committee to set up criteria for the selection of Willis' successor.

Other items on the agenda include: setting a policy on how supplementary material and texts will be selected, applications for federal funds for school libraries, preliminary discussions on the 1969-70 budget, and playground and parking improvements at Bernard Hoffman and Mary Silveira schools.

$1,500 Theft

Burglars took $1,500 in cameras, jewelry, a transistor radio, a tape recorder and guitars from the residence of Donald L. Wilson, 233 Elinor Avenue, between 10:40 a.m. and 12:50 p.m. Friday, Mill Valley police reported today.

Sloop Sinks; Navy Saves Dunked Pair

Two tired, wet and scared weekend sailors were rescued off the Golden Gate Sunday night by a Navy destroyer while their borrowed sloop quickly sank.

Terry Weinberg and Gerd Thompson, both 20-year-old San Franciscans, said they first thought "it was going to hit us" when the destroyer John A. Boyle came upon them near dusk.

Crew members on the big ship, however, heard the cries for help of the two young men, who had been swept out to sea after they had rudder trouble on the bay near Sausalito.

Men on the destroyer threw them a line but the 24-foot sloop capsized and sank in two minutes after being caught in the larger ship's wake.

Weinberg and Thompson swam a quarter -mile to the destroyer and were hauled aboard and given dry clothes.

Weingerg said he and his friend had borrowed the sloop from a friend for a "little sail" on the bay about 10 a.m. Sunday. On the way home, however, the boat developed rudder trouble and drifted on strong tides out the Golden Gate.

New York has been the nation's leading manufacturing state since 1830.

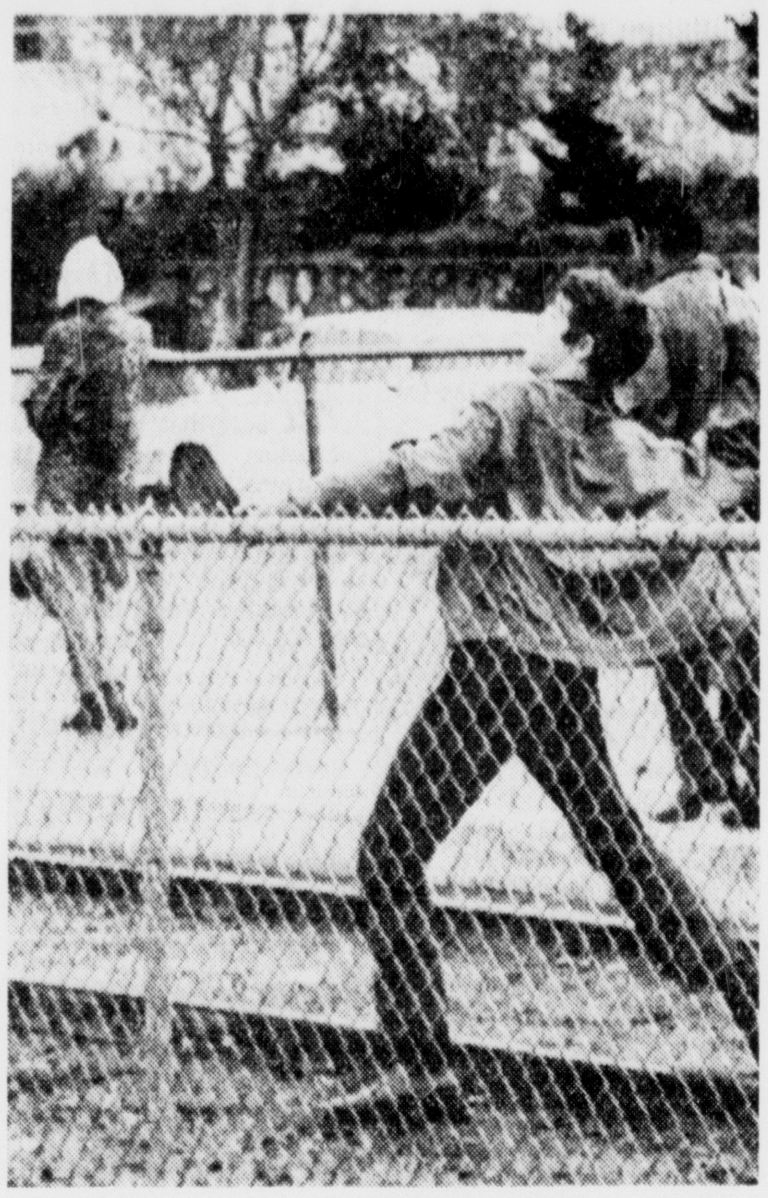
Horse, Flower Power At State

FLOWERS TO SPARE — Acting president Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State, gifted with orchid leis by two University of Hawaii students yesterday, pins one on the necktie of Sgt. Edward Levine of Novato, a member of the Marin County Sheriff's Department, one of nine Marinites assigned to special duty on the campus.

INSPECTS DAMAGE — Acting president Dr. S. I. Hayakawa examines the charred and blackened office of Dr. Glenn Smith, a college vice president, which was damaged by fire Sunday night.



ROCK HURLER — A cameraman catches a demonstrator in the acting of hurling a rock at police along a streetcar tracks on 19th Avenue, just off the embattled campus in another outbreak of rioting yesterday. (See State College story, page 1.)

HORSE POWER — Mounted police went into action for the first time at San Francisco State yesterday in pursuit of illegal demonstrators, including these who were caught between mounted riders and police lines.

INTO THE CROWD — A mounted San Francisco policeman wades into the crowd of dissident students at 19th Avenue and Holloway Street, just off the San Francisco State campus. The students had gathered there yesterday to hurl rocks at police.

Sausalito Trustees Adopt Policy On Hiring Minorities

After brief discussion last night, the Sausalito School District board adopted a policy setting a goal of hiring minority group employees in all departments "consistent with the multiethnic proportions in the student body" and consistent with present district hiring criteria.

The policy, discussed a week ago, avoided setting a quota or ratio for ethnic hirings, which James E. Muldoon, trustee warned might violate laws against hiring on the basis of race.

The multiethnic hiring policy will apply to administrative, teaching and nonteaching (classified) employees.

Last week Supt. Phillip W. Schneider proposed a 33 per cent ratio for minority hirings, but no ratio was set last night.

"We don't want to hire Uncle Toms" to meet a racial quota, board president Bruce E. Woelfel said.

The remark came when he was questioned from the audience about a consultan't proposal last week to advertise job openings in the Berkeley Barb and the Black Panther newspaper.

Woelfel said that was only a recommendation. The best way to recruit is to "go to the colleges, not place ads in the paper," he said.

Muldoon said he had received "a lot of community reaction against these media" since last week.

The board followed up the new policy by agreeing to hire a "multiethnic coordinator" to select materials for a black studies program and other minority group studies, and to train and help classroom teachers to present new materials property.

Schneider said the coordinator's task is a huge one, with the first priority to set up a good black studies program, then Mexican-American studies, then programs for other minority groups such as orientals.

The board then approved Schneider's recommendation that the word "Negro" be eliminated from district use and "black" be used instead.

"Some people think it's nitpicking," said Robert Lea, principal at Central School, "but it's crucial . . . at Central we use 'black' . . . we make a point of it."

Guidance counselor James T. Toliver agreed. "I feel I'm part of a militant black minority," Toliver said, and "Negro is a term laid on by my slave master." He said black students at Central "come storming up and say they won't stand for teachers calling them Negro any more."

The change "gets our commitment down in black and white," said trustee Nathaniel Johnson in an inadvertent pun. "In writing, I mean."

The Sausalito School District board also:

BAYSIDE SCHOOL — Declared the bandoned Bayside School buildings surplus and directed county counsel to prepare a resolution to offer the property for lease to bidders. Asst. Supt. Joseph Amato told the board the bids would have to be advertised three weeks before offers could be taken for the property. An offer for the buildings, abandoned early this year for lack of earthquake safety, was made last week by the Sausalito Arts Association, which proposed to lease the building and share its use with the Sausalito Parents Club, using it for arts activities, a teen center, and community activities. The board will take up disposal of the buildings at its Jan. 13 meeting.

ETHNIC — Agreed to ask the county superintendent of schools to set up a division for multiethnic studies in the county superintendent's office, staffed with minority personnel. The recommendation will also be sent to other district boards in the county for possible support.

Bluenosed Attitude On Singles Housing

The Sausalito School District board, liberal in social and political matters, took a distinctly bluenosed view last night of a proposed 400-unit apartment for single swingers near Martin Luther King School.

The board agreed with David E. Freedheim, vice president, and ordered a letter sent to the Sausalito City Council listing four "reservations" about the apartment proposal, which Freedheim described as "400 units for single adults for a playland of ecstasy."

A Southern California syndicate has an option to buy the American Distillery Co. property on Bridgeway and reportedly plans to establish the singles-only apartment unit on the site. The Tijuana Brass is reportedly involved in the syndicate.

Freedheim listed four "concerns" the board should have over the development:

1. The developments would bring in an "enormous voting bloc" of singles not sympathetic to supporting school bonds and taxes.

2. It would produce a concentration of new residents with no children.

3. The apartment dwellers, self-contained, would produce little or no economic benefit to the community.

4. The development might influence sale value of the Martin Luther King School site, which the district may eventually sell to raise money for other district schools and improvements.

The board agreed unanimously to write the council of its reservations. The property is outside Sausalito city limits but the city is considering prezoning it for future annexation.

Hearing Slated To Move Trial

Hearing on a motion by a former deputy county probation officer to have his trial, on a statutory rape charge, moved from Marin County was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for 2 p.m. Dec. 23.

The suspect, Richard J. Paris, 28, filed the motion last week on grounds that pretrial newspaper and radio publicity would prevent a fair trial in Marin Superior Court.

Paris, of Kentfield, is accused of having sexual relations with a 17-year-old girl, and with sex perversions and furnishing marijuana to a minor.

Timber Industry Homework All Cut

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The timber industry must work to "develop some counter-pressures" to the public's growing demand for preservation of untouched wilderness, it was announced the 59th Western Forestry Conference.

Ralph D. Hodges Jr., vice president for government affairs of the National Forest Products Association, said the industry must convince the general public that felling a tree is not, in itself, evil.

He said such a campaign is essential to the industry's goal of sustained production through multiple uses — timber-harvest and recreation, among others—on both public and private forest lands.

Hodges said last week recent congressional action creating Redwood National Park and the North Cascades complex indicate "the growing pressures exerted by an electorate which is increasingly identifying with the out-of-doors." He said timber interests may not agree with these views, but must "recognize and be sensitive" to them and their impact on government.

"The Sierra Club and other groups, largely committed to 'nature in the raw,' have done a splendid job of unleashing the wilderness spirit of even the most sedentary Americans," he warned.

"They have depicted a land bereft of its most glorius possession, unrestrained nature. They argue that the natural order should prevail in vast areas of our country without regard for prudent tending of forest resources by man."

Hodges said the timber industry "must recognize the realities of political life and move to sustain responsible Congressmen and create a more knowledgeable electorate."

The three-day conference concluded Friday.

Trial On Kidnap Charge Is Reset

Jury trial of rape and kidnap suspect Jerry Stanley Borst, 22, scheduled to start in Marin Superior Court this week, yesterday was continued until the week of Dec. 13.

The continuance by Judge Joseph G. Wilson was at the request of Jerome Durham, public defender representing Borst. Borst, of Novato, is accused of kidnaping a 28-year-old Novato housewife and her two small sons July 9 with intent to rob the woman. He also is charged with raping her.

Judge Wilson scheduled jury trial of Carl Vestal Hayes, 19, charged with striking his half-sister, Carmen Ferrari, 6, on the head with a bottle Sept. 25 in San Anselmo, for 10 a.m. tomorrow in Judge Wilson's court. Hayes resides in San Anselmo.

One of the cows, Midland Heilo Burke Charmer, gave 118,370 pounds of milk and 3,603 pounds of butterfat in 2,716 days. The other, Ideograph Burkgov Steps, gave 111,530 pounds of milk and 4,257 pounds of butterfat in 2,442 days. There are 49,000 quarts of milk in 100,000 pounds.

Hall Of Justice Moving Delayed

The date of moving into the new Marin Hall of Justice has been pushed back at least a month, Michael A. Chrystal, county administrative analyst announced yesterday.

He said the contractor for the building has asked for a at least a month's delay because of rain.

This means that departments scheduled to move from the San Rafael courthouse in February will not begin moving until March.

Teen Recreation Due Panel Review

The problem of teen-age recreation will receive another public hearing before the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

Other items on the agenda include a discussion of the state's plan to develop Angel Island and a request by the Strawberry Recreation District for channel markers along Salt Works Canal on the east side of Strawberry Peninsula.

Major Nidever Gets Three Top Medals

Maj. David F. Nidever, 33, of 133 Greenwood Avenue, San Rafael, has been awarded the Army's Silver Star, Bronze Star and Commendation Medal with device for gallantry in combat in Vietnam.

The awards were presented to Nidever at a ceremony at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he is serving at Sixth Army headquarters.

Nidever was given the Silver Star for heroism in combat on Jan. 31 with the Ninth Infantry Division in Dinh Tuong Province. Nidever was commanding his waterborne battalion from atop a command vessel when the unit was attacked on the Roc Rung Canal.

Despite constant exposure to intense enemy fire, the major returned the fire with a grenade launcher, according to Army officials. "Thanks in large part to Major Nidever's accurate direction by radio of the fire from the front and rear elements, the battalion moved successfully through two ambush sites," Army spokesmen said.

The Bronze Star was for honorable and meritorious service as operations officer for the battalion from October 1967 to April 1968, during which time he established an effective system of fire support procedures.

Nidever was awarded the Army Commendation Medal with device for heroism during an action with the battalion along the Tien Giany River in December 1967.

He was caught in intense cross fire while reconnoitering and area near a riverside village, but immediately directed an infantry unit to the vicinity and the Viet Cong were routed.

Shorter Third Grade Day Due Study By Board

The Bolinas-Stinson Beach School District board will consider a plan to shorten the third grade school day when it meets at 8 p.m. today at Bolinas School.

Third graders have been keeping the same hours as the fourth through eighth grades also attending Bolinas School, but a plan has been worked out to shorten their day to that of first and second graders and still meet bus schedules, Supt. Clarence B. Larison said.

The board will also continue its review of board policies.

Boy, 14, Cited In Four Thefts

A 14-year-old Mill Valley boy was cited Sunday for investigation of four burglaries in Mill Valley in early October, police reported.

The youth was cited to the Juvenile Probation Department and released to the custody of his parents.

Police said the youth was questioned about the Oct. 8 burglary of the garage of Daniel McKenna, 316 Eldridge Avenue, after McKenna reported seeing the youth riding a 10-speed bicycle taken during the burglary.

During questioning, the youth admitted to having committed three other burglaries in the same neighborhood at about the same time, police said.

Police said they are investigating the other three burglaries which were not reported.

Freedom Award To Yugoslavian

NEW YORK (AP) — Milovan Djilas, former vice president of Yugoslavia released from prison last January, received the 1969 Freedom Award yesterday for encouraging "the millions of fighters in eastern Europe who are proving that freedom cannot be extinguished."

Djilas, 57, received a sculptured bronze plaque at the 29th annual dinner of Freedom House. The presentation was made by Bill Moyers, former press secretary to President Johnson and now publisher of Newsday.

Djilas was jailed for publishing his international best-seller, "The New Class."

He has defied a five-year ban on publishing, a condition attached to his release, with a new book titled "The Unperfect Society—Beyond the New Class," secretly carried out of Yugoslavia.

Kentfield Home Is Looted Of Cash, Jewelry, Furs

Five burglaries, including the theft of furs and jewelry from two homes, were reported today by Marin County sheriff's officers.

Deputies said Howard Siegel, 12 Stetson Avenue, Kentfield, reported Sunday that he returned home that day with his family and discovered his home ransacked, a small safe opened and loot totaling $6,150 in jewelry, clothing and cash missing.

The items, he told officers, included a $2,600 diamong ring, a mink stole worth $1,000, and $300 cash. No forced entry was evident, officers said, and a rear door was found ajar where the intruders apparently departed.

Martin M. Corbett, 235 Oak Manor Drive, Oak Manor, Fairfax, told officers Sunday someone apparently used a key to enter the master bedroom of his home Saturday. Taken, he said, were a mink jacket worth $1,795, a $400 man's ring, $11 cash, and a man's watch.

Burglars apprently entered an unlocked rear window of a houseboat occupied by William L. Feldman at Kappas Yacht Harbor, Waldo Point, it was reported to officers Saturday. Loot included a camera, a 50-foot roll of plastic sheeting, and two boat oars.

Mary C. Thompson, 502 Tamalpais Drive, Mill Valley, told deputies Friday someone entered an open window of her home, stealing an Indian necklace worth $200 and a $50 blue stone.

Sheila Dempster, 419 Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, told deputies Saturday a tenant at her home awakened and discovered a burglar in an upstairs room.

The intruder, described as about 25 years old, six feet tall, having dark hair and wearing a dark suit, fled out the kitchen door and drove off in a sports car, according to the report. Missing was a gold watch, the victim told officers.

Legion Renews Teacher Attack

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The American Legion has renewed its attack against Herbert Marcuse, controversial philosophy professor at the University of California campus here.

Representatives of 32 Legion posts in Southern California approved sending a letter to Chancellor William McGill asking that Marcuse's contract not be renewed when it expires at the end of the spring semester.

Marcuse, 70, known as the "philosopher of the New Left," was forced to flee his home in nearby La Jolla last year when he received a death threat signed, "Ku Klux Klan."

The latest attack came after a New York speech by Marcuse in which he urged students to form "political guerrilla forces to advance libertarian socialism."

New Bahia Sewer Pact Is Approved

The Novato Sanitary District Board last night approved an agreement with the Union Bank of Los Angeles to maintain sewers and treatment plant at the Bahia subdivision off Bugeia Lane.

The agreement replaces one which the district had with Bahia Properties Inc., according to Engineer-Manager Charles Joseph. Union Bank has replaced Bahia Properties Inc. as owner of the 1,500-acre subdivision.

The Novato Sanitary District board also:

CONTRACT — Awarded a contract for liquid chlorine to Tops Chemical Co. of Oakland at $90 per ton, lowest of two bidders. The district uses approximately 70 tons of chlorine per year, Joseph said.

ANNEXATIONS — Approved the annexations of 80 acres of Los Robles Mobile Home Park off Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, of about 100 acres south of Trumbull Avenue and west of Wilson Avenue and one acre on Eucalyptus Avenue south of Center Road. These annexations have been approved by the Local Agency Formation Commission, Joseph said.

BILLS — Paid bills of $12,405 and salaries of $9,256.

Four Railroad Unions Reveal Merger Plan

CHICAGO (UPI)—The presidents of four railroad workers' unions today announced a merger which they said will create the nation's largest single transportation workers' union.

The merger will bring together the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and the Switchmen of North America.

The new union, to be known as the United Transportation Union, will have a combined membership of 280,000 in the United States and Canada, the announcement said.

In a joint statement the presidents of the combining unions said the purpose of the merger was "to end the battle of craft against craft—working men against working men."

The statement said the new union will lobby for a "broad mass transportation bill" covering urban and interurban rail traffic.

The merger is scheduled to become effective Jan. 1, when the four unions will combine under the leadership of Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

The new union will be the 17th largest in the AFL-CIO, the statement said, and the nation's largest single transportation workers union.

Pre-Teeners Now Trying Drugs Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — Experimentation with marijuana and other drugs has begun among grade school students aged 8 to 12, says the new head of the National Institute for Mental Health narcotics program.

The experimentation is by only a small percentage of preteens, Dr. Sidney Cohen said yesterday, but "it could become epidemic (through) peer pressure" from schoolmates.

Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, NIMH director, said there is a fear such drug use could become a fad in grade schools.

The two men commented at a news conference called to introduce Cohen as head of the institute's new Division of Narcotics Addiction and Drug Use.

Cohen, a Los Angeles psychiatrist and author, said his evaluation is based on trends rather than a scientific study or absolute figures for youthful drug users.

He listed Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston and New York as cities where the problem has surfaced. He said the drug use is in schools for "rather intelligent, affluent youngsters."

$100,000 College Fire Stuns Student Leader

NORTHRIDGE (UPI) — "We feel kind of stunned," remarked San Fernondo Valley State College's student president, Glen Mahler.

An uneasy calm reigned on the 18,400 student campus yesterday. A grand jury was sifting evidence against 30 Negro students accused of seizing the administration building last Nov. 4 and holding 33 teachers and other employes prisoner. The school has about 250 black students.

At the same time, arson investigators said they haven't the slightest idea who set a $100,000 fire that ravaged the top floor of the administration building early Sunday. Among the places burned out was the office of acting President Paul Blomgren.

"We haven't the slightest idea who the arsonists are," said arson investigator Merle Pugh. "I haven't a single lead."

The grand jury is hearing testimony from about 50 witnesses on the takover of the administration building. The district attorney's office has refused to identify them on the grounds they might be subjected to reprisals. The inquiry is expected to continue through the week.

About 30 black students were arrested, and have been released on bail ranging from $1,000 to $2,500. Twenty were suspended from school temporarily, but Blomgren lifted the suspensions pending the outcome of criminal charges lodged against them.

So far no evidence has been found to link the fire to the Nov. 4 incident.

"There are all sorts of rumors as far as the damage is concerned," said Mahler, a 21-year-old business administration major. "There has been a frustrating lack of information about who set the fire."

Investigators said the blaze was fueled with gasoline brought into the building in a can from the college greenhouse. It was fueled with papers taken from files in administrative offices.

Judge Postpones Houseboat Ruling

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court yesterday continued until 2 p.m. Monday a ruling on whether Richardson Bay houseboats — as floating vessels — are within the court's jurisdiction.

Attorney Carl Shapiro, representing two houseboat dwellers who face criminal charges for failure to apply for occupancy permits, has contended the boats are under the sole jurisdiction of the federal government.

Defendants are Alexis Tellis and Joan Buys. The ruling originally was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but Judge Goldstein said he hasn't completed consideration of the matter.

Family Dog Loses Plea On Ballroom

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Family Dog Inc. was denied yesterday a rehearing of a police department order shutting down its Avalon Ballroom featuring rock music and strobe light shows.

The police issued the order after residents at the nearby Madison Hotel complained that the popular young people's night spot was too noisy.

Dog president Chet Helms said he is considering a number of other locations.

Fairfax Bans Free-Running Dogs, Asks More County Enforcement

A dog control measure was approved 3 to 2 last night by the Fairfax City Council in an effort to "expert pressure" on the County of Marin to establish new, uniform dog controls before July 1969, as now proposed.

The new ordinance requires that dogs be kept on a leash or under direct control of the owner at all times, but does not include provisions for enforcement or issuing citations.

Mayor Robert R. Souza, who said he thinks the city should "exert pressure" on the county, noted there are about 900 dogs in Fairfax. "That's more dogs than people," he joked.

Councilman Francis J. O'Connell said, "We're stuck with December and the months between now and then (July). Is there anything we can work out with the Humane Society between now and then?" he asked Dean Southwell, the society's director of operations.

Southwell said it may be possible and recommended talking to the county administrator since the county contracts for the society's services.

"If the new ordinance is put into effect tonight, what added enforcement would we get?" asked Councilman Frank J. Egger, attempting to pin Southwell down. Southwell said "none" until July 1969.

Egger noted there is no provision in the ordinance for money for an extra man to serve Fairfax exclusively and commented, "They're just going to pass this ordinance and hope they (dogs) go away." He and Mrs. Adelaide Wilson voted against the ordinance.

Several residents of Fairfax appeared to support strong dog legislation and made impassioned pleas to the council to approve the new ordinance.

Learning that enforcement would not be increased, one woman commented, "If there's money for everything else, there is money for a strong dog control law."

A petition with pages of signatures was also presented in favor of strong dog control.

Southwell told the council almost 600 animals have been taken from the area in the past five months and the society spends about 80 hours a month in Fairfax, including 15 hours on patrol.

The county proposal, which would double the number of men and trucks of the society, would increase the Fairfax patrol time to 41 hours, Souza reported.

Mrs. Wilson asked that a citation provision be included in the ordinance, but her motion died for lack of a second after City Atty. Wallace Myers said it would delay the measure a month.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

CHRISTMAS — Accepted a live Christmas tree for permanent placement in the Parkade from Mrs. Elenor Jones, and gave $150 and the city's stored decorations to the Fairfax Merchants Association for a Christmas display.

IMPROVEMENTS — Authorized spending $2,380 to paint the inside of the Fairfax Pavilion; $247 to refinish the floor; $139 to replace glass, and $1,286 for lights at the tennis court.

WOMEN'S CLUB — Denied a request from the Fairfax Lions Club to use the Women's Club for meetings without paying the fee.

APPOINTMENTS — Named Joseph Martinez to the park and recreation commission to replace Edwin H. McGee, the third member to resign this year; reappointed Harold S. Lezzeni and Martin Zernicke to the planning commission and Clifford Cordes to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Dell Blodgett, administrative secretary, and set an adjourned meeting for 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the Fairfax Women's Club to discuss specifications for the job and recruitment for a replacement.

Officer Fined On Disturbance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police Inspector Richard Castro has been fined $50 for disturbing the peace.

Castro was accused of slamming his pistol on the counter of a drive-in Nov. 1 when an attendant refused to serve him ahead of customers there before him.

Castro originally pleaded innocent to charges of disturbing the peace and displaying a gun in a threatening manner, but after the latter charge was dropped he changed his plea to guilty.

Municipal Judge Joseph Kennedy handed down the sentence yesterday.

Supervisors Fill Three Span Seats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The San Francisco Board of Supervisors yesterday selected three of its 11 members as its representatives on the board of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

William C. Blake was named to one of the two new city seats on the board, and Ronald Pelosi and Peter Tamaras were named to replace Dan London and William D. Hadeler, whose terms expire Dec. 24.

Hadeler has been on the bridge board since 1936, and London since 1952.

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto is to appoint someone to the other new seat on the bridge board. Both seats, as well as one new one each for Marin and Sonoma counties, opened up Nov. 13. That was the effective date of a bill expanding the board, authored by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Napa County has challenged the constitutionality of the new law, and the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors is holding off appointment of its third representative until the suit is settled. The Marin County Board of Supervisors agreed to make its appointment in January, when three new supervisors will take office.

Coats Shoplifted

Two coats, valued at a total of $325, were taken from the House of Nine in Northgate Shopping Center yesterday, store owner Viola M. White of Novato reported to San Rafael police.

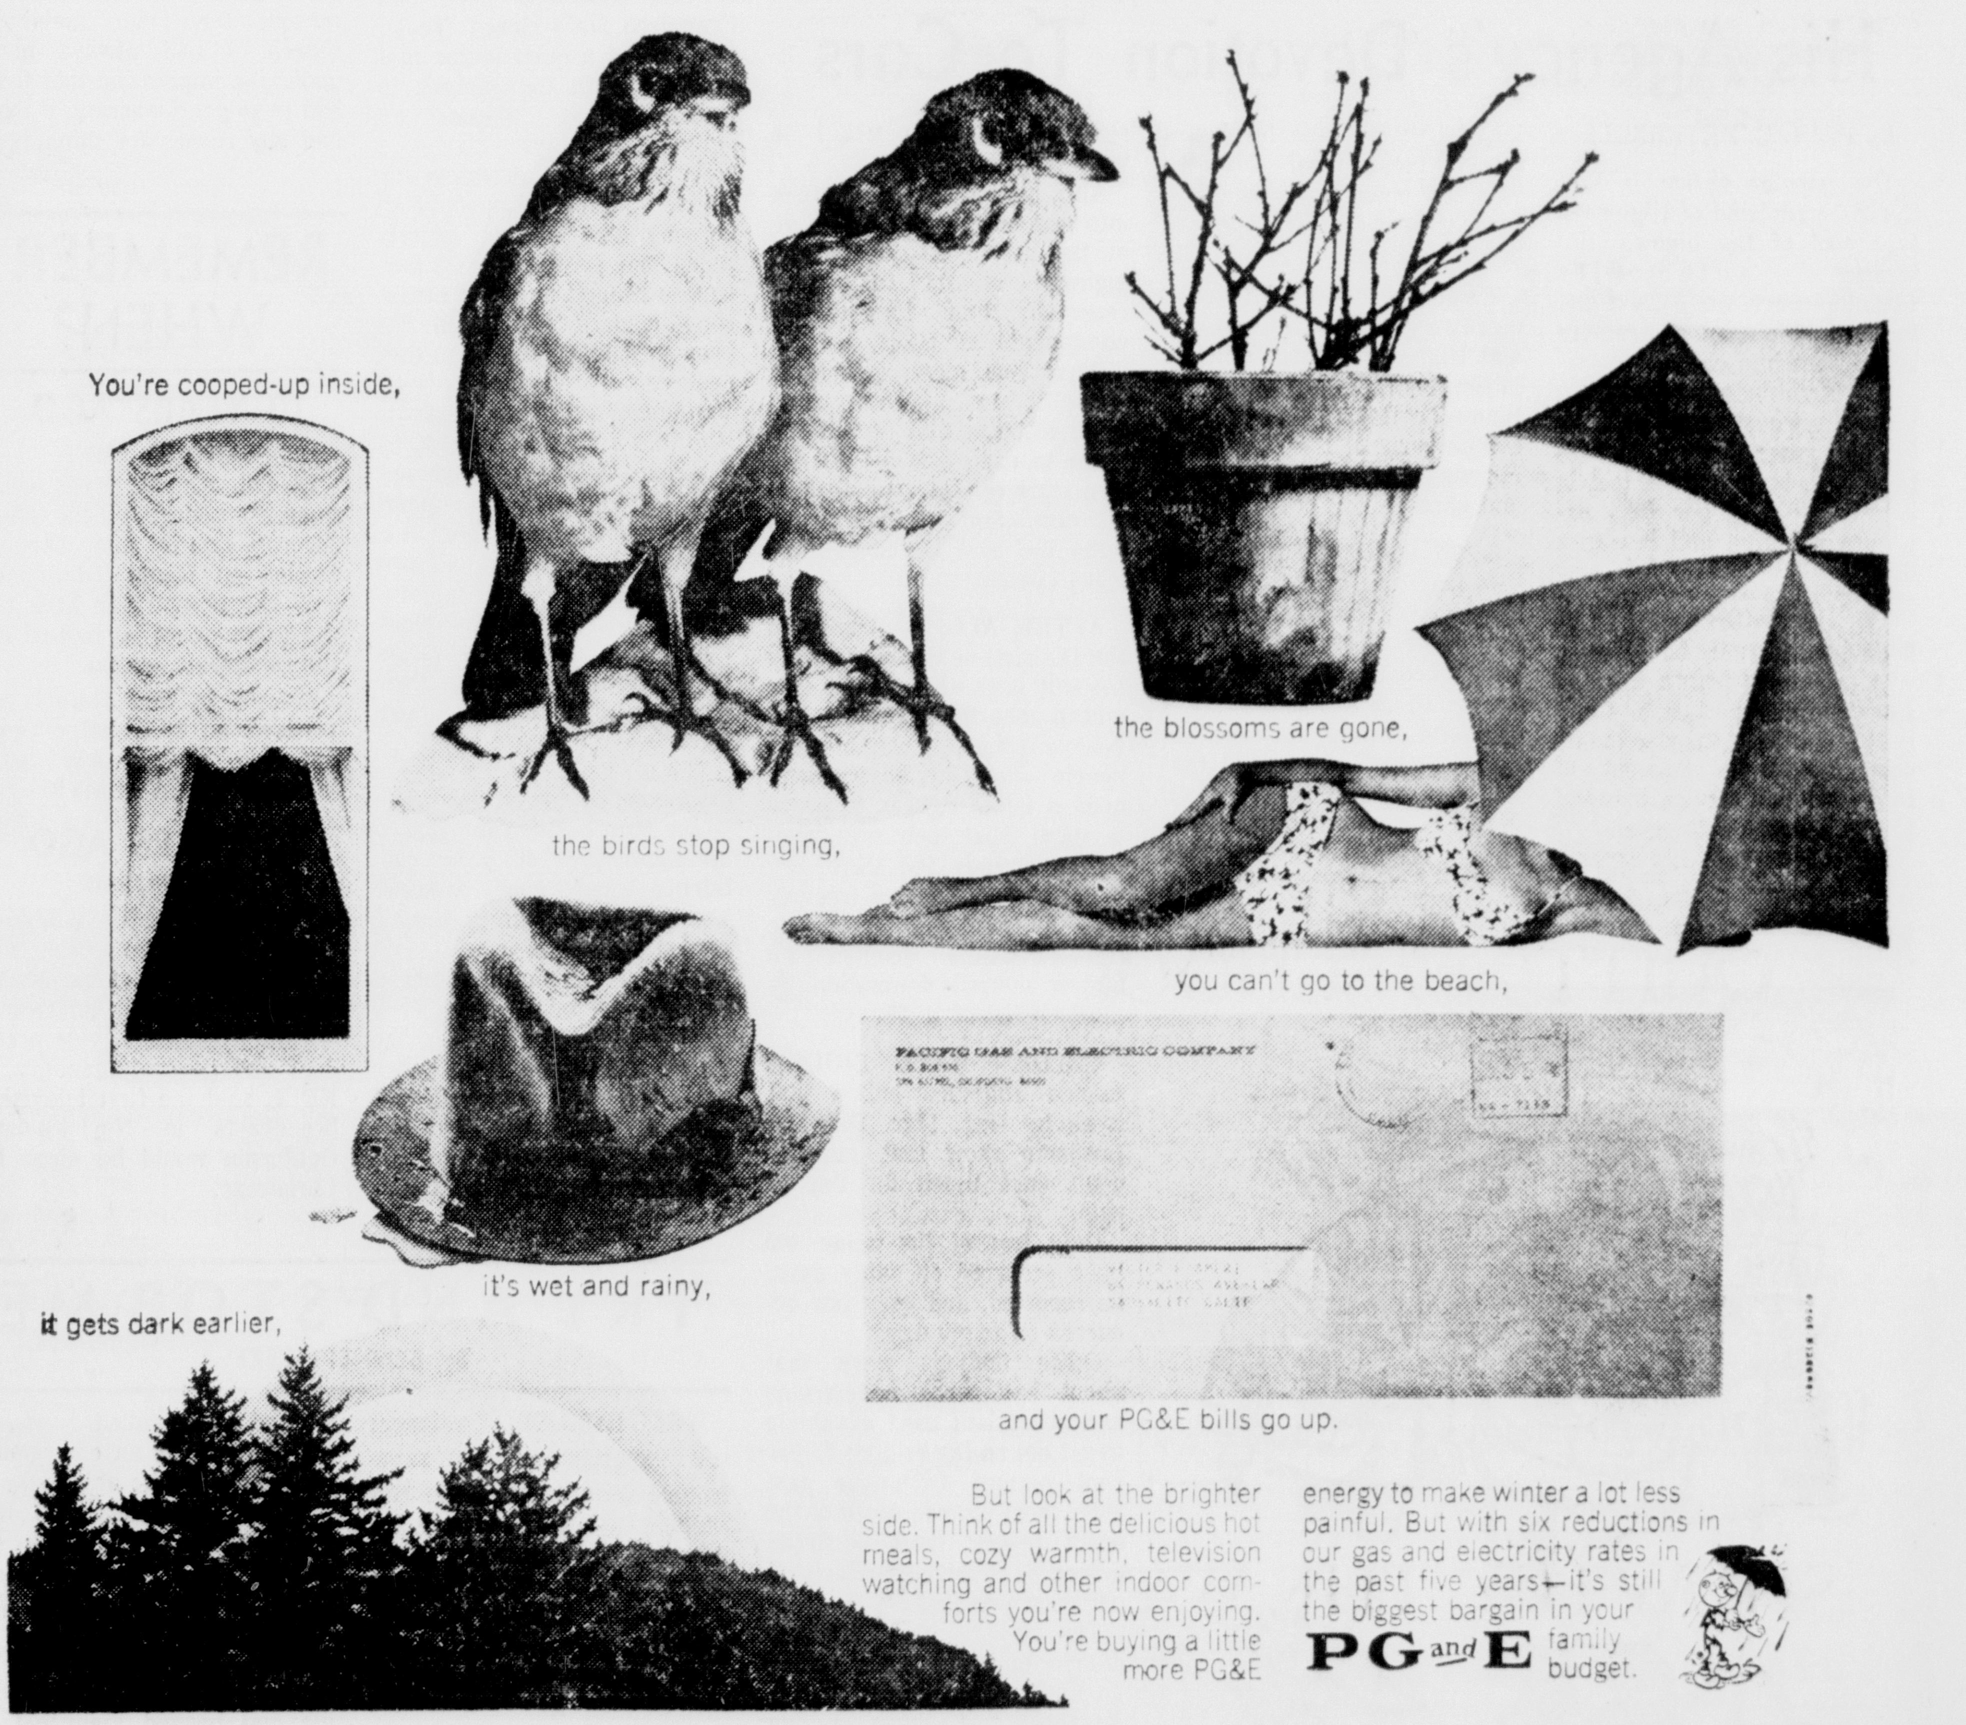
Winter's a pain.



You're cooped-up inside,
the birds stop singing,
the blossoms are gone,
you can't go to the beach,
it's wet and rainy,
it gets dark earlier,
and your PG&E bills go up.

But look at the brighter side. Think of all the delicious hot meals, cozy warmth, television watching and other indoor comforts you're now enjoying. You're buying a little more PG&E energy to make winter a lot less painful. But with six reductions in our gas and electricity rates in the past five years—it's still the biggest bargain in your family budget.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Price-Fixing Objectionable, No Matter Who Does It

"People who want to fix the price of anything can always produce arguments to support their case — except that, from the consumers' standpoint, the arguments are never very persuasive."

This was the lead paragraph last week on an editorial in the Wall Street Journal. The editorial dealt with a proposal for a state milk pricing law in New Jersey, designed to set prices high enough to guarantee dealers a return of about 12 per cent.

Pointed out the Wall Street Journal: "If the state guarantees them a 'healthy' rate of return on their investment whether they increase their efficiency or not, why in the world should they bother to lay out money on new machinery and other facilities? . . The price-control umbrella, as it always does, would discourage the sort of competitive industry effort to modernize that would actually help to keep retail prices down."

THE COMMENT is particularly interesting in California because we have had just such state milk price control for many years. Anyone who pays the milk bill is probably well aware that it has been of little help to the consumer. Whether it has been a help to the dairy industry is highly debatable. There are some former dairy farmers in Marin and Sonoma counties who claim it has been the opposite.

We have also, in California, state price control on one other commodity: liquor. In this case, the state permits the distillers to set their prices, but the law enforcement machinery acts as their private agent to prevent dealers from cutting below the fixed price.

Anyone who has purchased liquor outside of California is aware that this arrangement has scarcely been a money-saver for Golden State booze buyers. The distillers like it. There is division of opinion among the liquor dealers — as there is among the dairy farmers over state milk price controls.

ALL SUCH price control laws, of course, fly in the face of the doctrine of free competition that is written into federal anti-trust laws. They get around the prohibition on price-fixing in those laws by legal hocus-pocus.

There is another kind of price-fixing, however, that has no such legal license. This goes on all the time among the producers of many products, from gasoline to breakfast cereals.

One would have to be naive, indeed, to believe that it is mere coincidence that virtually all major brands of gasoline sell at the same price in the same area; or that MJB, Folger's and Maxwell House coffees — for instance — carry the same shelf prices in the grocery store, or that the similar cereals made by Post and Kellogg sell at the same price in the same size packages. There are dozens more such examples.

ALL OF THESE mock the premise, so often repeated and enshrined in federal statutes, that our is a free economy.

That the Justice Department does so little about blatant disregard of legal strictures on price-fixing is a scandal. But it is still worse when a state enshrines price fixing in its own statutes.

Fertilizer In The Sky?

We have all heard of pie in the sky, usually in reference to big promises by politicians. Now, however, serious proposals have been made to use fertilizers, such as ammonium nitrate, in place of silver iodide for seeding clouds to produce rain.

Producing rain is usually remote from the minds of Marinites this time of year, but it is a pleasant thought that in parts of the country that are in dire need of moisture, it can be vitaminized, so to speak, with fertilizer.

GOLDEN GATE VIEW

Highway Division's Man Shows His Agency's Devotion To Cars

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The popular notion is that the state Division of Highways is a tool of the highway interests — automobile manufacturers, the oil and gas industry, highway contractors and automobile clubs.

A fair-minded person naturally would doubt such an unkind generalization, unless he happened to see the tool in action. We had our first exposure recently, and it was a dilly.

THE DIVISION'S traffic engineer, Gerald L. Russell, was appearing before the Tri-Partite Transportation Committee, which is supposed to be coordinating development of improved bus service between Marin and San Francisco.

Russell argued that reserving a freeway lane for buses would mean that fewer vehicles could use the lane than if it were left open to private cars.

To the disbelief of federal, county and Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District officials in the room, Russell based key figures of his calculations on comparisons of the amount of highway space taken by buses and cars.

LOST SOMEWHERE in his detailed figuring on a blackboard, however, were two important facts. First, he overlooked the fact that more people fit in a bus than in a car, and second, he failed to explain why he assumed that at least 60 per cent of all Marin commuters would have to use buses before a lane reserved for them would be "efficient."

Also, his figures did not take into account a proposal made at the meeting by a federal highway official that the reserved bus lane accommodate car pools.

What was most obvious in Russell's presentation, however, was that he did not seem to care that all but his own state colleagues disbelieved him. Smiles and shrugs were the best he could offer when challenged.

AFTER ALL, his bosses in the Division of Highways were the only ones who need be convinced that the private motor vehicle is the only way to move people — and his bosses don't need a lot of figures to prove to them what their own prejudices already tell them.

The proposal that a freeway lane be reserved for public transit seems doomed to almost eternal damnation by the Division of Highways.

GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE suicide statistics culled last week by Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring show that jumpers don't care much for fog or rain.

Only two of the some 400 have occurred on rainy days, he reported, and very few occurred on foggy days.

Other findings were that about half were pedestrians and about half used a vehicle to get out on the bridge; 77 per cent jumped from the east side; most jumped south of the north tower; most occurred during daylight, and nearly 75 per cent were males.

The bridge and highway district board is to act Friday on Luehring's proposal that a six-week test of a roving suicide patrol on the bridge be tried, and that bridge crews be taught how to detect and handle persons bent on suicide.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

If Hayakawa Alone, America Is Dying

If I understand anything about the American legend it is that our people have refused to live in fear. To avoid living in fear they made some understandable mistakes, of course; but the Vigilantes of California rose to make their meaning known. And the Vigilantes could not have existed without a need and without the consent of the public.

I never thought I would live to see the day that the American public would give its consent — for that is what it means — for a hoodlum student group to harass and rough up the person of the president of the university. There he is, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, fighting it out alone. I doubt not that Dr. Hayakawa is receiving anonymous threats for his brave counter-attacks on the riff-raff that has kept San Francisco State closed. That's the kind of a quiet terror that lurks beneath the surface in well-advertised places of culture these days.

Dr. Hayakawa deserves the visible and vocal support of all persons who respect orderly living and due process of law. Unless he and/or other brave, sane leaders are given the broad public support they deserve, predictably the Vigilantes will rise again to step into a vacuum created by a people who have withdrawn their confidence in and support of law enforcement. Look: it is already happening in New York City!

Even brave men have bleak moments of misgivings; largely because of knowing their strength, they fear to hurt. Even brave men are lonely.

Why not send this distinguished, brave, good man — the Man of the Year 1968 — an expression of your confidence and good wishes? You'll feel a better, braver person yourself if you do.

Do you remember when a late-working New York secretary returned to her Forest Hills home, some years ago, and was attacked and stabbed repeatedly by her murderer? Remember how she screamed for help? And how windows of apartments went up and people observed her? And nobody so much as placed a phone call to police? And nobody went to her side? And remember that it took her some hours to die . . . alone and in public view?

According to my memory, that was the first unmistakable evidence that America — all that she was in legend and all that she possessed initially which contributed to her uniqueness in the world — was dying.

On Police Right To Search Home

One of the "bad smells" from the Leydecker marijuana case is troubling me very much, and that is the police angle. From the newspaper stories, I gather that if the police enter your home for any reason, they can make a search. I had always been under the impression that they had to go get a warrant, if they had any reason for thinking a law had been broken.

Some of my neighbors say that if you invite a policeman into your home for any reason he may make a search (and they cite cases where it has happened); that if you allow an officer in to make a telephone call he may then go ahead and search the place for possible violations. I have always considered myself on the side of the law, and have never hesitated to call on "the law" for help . . . but if I am mistaken about this I shall certainly never co-operate again. I am not breaking any laws, but neither do I care to have anyone search my home.

FLORENCE M. RODGERS
Lagunitas

(Editor's note: The legal interpretation is that if police are called to a home and, in response to the call, see something there that is illegal, they can make a seizure and/or arrest. However, this does not entitle them to conduct a search without a warrant. For this reason, evidence in the Leydecker-Rabuzzi case, if it had gone to trial, probably would have been limited to the marijuana cigarette butts which were visible without conducting a search.)

Reminder Needed Of Costs We Pay

Good for the I-J for taking advantage of an excellent teaching situation to demonstrate the costs our society is paying for our obsession with the automobile. Your timely leadership is necessary if we are to create a sane society, conserve our natural heritage and produce a style of life that satisfies human needs. In a time when we are in danger of being overwhelmed with our own technology and blind to the price we pay for immediate convenience and profit, please continue to remind us that there are reasonable alternatives to air pollution, destruction of nature, suburban blight and commercial ugliness. In my opinion your editorial of Dec. 5 shows the greatness of a free and socially responsible press.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

WELL-HEELED Londoners are experiencing the same trouble we are in finding—and keeping — satisfactory servants. Mourning her latest defeat in the kitchen department, Lady Blysdale recently wrote a friend, "The cook I hired last month was a good cook as cooks go — but as good cooks go, she went!"

A TOP executive told a newly hired secretary to inform Allis-Chalmers in Milwaukee he had been called suddenly out of town for an emergency and would not be able to keep a scheduled appointment. Returned to his office, he found this carbon: "Alice Chalmers, Milwaukee. Dear Alice: I'm leaving for Houston, Texas, so our date is off." Horrified, he phoned the Allis-Chalmers people and begged them not to show the letter to anybody. "Not show it to anybody!" was the answer. "It's been on the bulletin board for three days!"

Squeeze Is On French People As De Gaulle Fights For Franc

PARIS — "No discipline!" These two words, spat out angrily by the taxi driver as we are trapped in rush-hour traffic, sum up President de Gaulle's problem today.

An army of price controllers is being assembled to try to hold the lid on in a country where price variations from one small shop to another just around the corner are the rule. What is, in effect, a sales tax on virtually everything is going up from 16 per cent to 19 per cent. Currency controllers are beginning to operate at every border exit to try to keep francs from flooding out of the country.

THE ARCHITECT of all this, and the likely scapegoat if it fails, is Maurice Couve de Murville, the austere Protestant civil servant whom De Gaulle made his prime minister. When he removed Georges Pompidou, who came out of the banking house of Rothschild, to put Couve in his place, the big financiers and industrialists were added to the long list of those resenting De Gaulle's authority. And they have even more reason to be resentful now that the premier is responsible for tightening the screws on the French economy.

But it is here in Paris that the dilemma of the Europe of the past and the Europe of a common cause still unborn is seen in its most acute form. The monuments in the heart of the city, so little changed except for the remorseless tide of traffic, speak the magnificence of the past. It is the grandeur De Gaulle evoked in a new surge of nationalism seeking to put France, a country of 50 million people, in the rank of the great powers again.

FOR THE FRENCH the heritage of the great past is a consolation and a constant reproach to those who would deny the France of today a full and commanding place in the sun. It is in evoking the past that the French excel.

But if the cultural leadership of France is unchallenged, the lag in technology in a world increasingly dominated by the technicians is all too evident. In distribution the traditional prevails, with only a few supermarkets pioneering the way to lower prices and more efficient marketing. The French housewife goes to five or six separate stores to do her shopping.

Construction methods are out of the past. The big blocks of low-cost housing going up on the outskirts of Paris are said to be shoddily built. Their deterioration into new-style slums is accomplished in five years or less. In order to keep France self-sufficient in agriculture, the government pays the farmer a subsidy 10 times as great as the average spent on a student's education.

A PRIMARY goal of De Gaulle's policy was to build up the nation's reserves of gold and foreign currencies. Despite the loss of $1,700,000,000 during the assault on the franc, the reserves ares till sizable, perhaps $4 billion. But this was done at a cost to the economy that is now having to be met in a squeeze of the greatest urgency.

The brilliantly lighted Christmas decorations are up on the big department stores and the temples of high style — Dior, Poirot, Lanvin and the others. Shop windows glitter with jewels, real and imitation, but to the French eye the display of rare and costly foods merits almost more-loving attention.

For the present, pressure on the franc has relaxed. Some of the money the speculators took out of France is flowing back.

Those who look coldly and objectively at the money game believe, however, that this is only a kind of holiday respite. Once the pack of speculators has smelled blood, they do not give up. The prediction, therefore, is that another assault on the franc is likely to come in the new year.

BUT DE GAULLE still holds a trump card. He could do what many feared in the recent crisis — that is devalue the franc not by 9 or 10 per cent as he was urged, but by a dramatic 25 per cent. That would play havoc with the pound, the dollar, the mark and all other currencies.

It could force a complete overhaul of the present outmoded and badly frayed monetary system, or it could precipitate a world economic crisis like that which began in 1930. As a last act in the extraordinary drama of his life, De Gaulle could play Samson in the temple and bring the structure crashing down.

Two Shots Remind Khan Of Pakistan's Turmoil

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the ancient caravan city of Peshawar in northwestern Pakistan two shots rang out near the platform where President Mohammad Ayub Khan sat.

They missed whatever had been their target but for Ayub, who for 10 years has ruled the country, first under martial law as the army's commander-in-chief and then as president, it was an uncomfortable reminder that Pakistan was going through one of its most turbulent times since independence in 1947.

He did not need to be reminded that in 1969 he faces national elections.

STUDENT disorders began early in November with demands for educational reforms and a greater voice in national affairs.

They spread quickly through both East and West Pakistan, from Peshawar, gateway to the storied Khyber Pass in the northeast to Dacca in the east.

Just outside Peshawar is the American base, soon to be abandoned, from which for 10 years the United States has monitored Soviet space and missile programs.

CONTRIBUTING to student unrest were various leftwing politicians, among them former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto. Bhutto, an ambitious and self-assured politician, was one of the leading architects of Pakistan's warm relations with Red China and the corresponding coolness in relations with the United States.

Prior to his arrest on Nov. 13 on charges of inciting West Pakistanis to violence, he drew cheers from student audiences with the assertion he had resigned from the cabinet because Ayub botched the 1965 war with India.

His arrest created new demonstrations, and in Rawalpindi, student marchers shouted, "Death to Ayub!"

IN HIS 10 years in power, Ayub has encouraged development of industry and agriculture, has made an effort to control Pakistan's enormous birth rate and has given the country stability.

Much of it was accomplished with the financial help of the United States, which, prior to the war with India, had totaled more than $3 billion in economic aid and more than $1.25 billion in arms aid.

Now the military man, who came to power on charges of corruption within a civilian government, is being accused of corruption within his own government.

WITH BHUTTO out of the way, it might be expected his political troubles would ease.

But a new and powerful figure has come on stage. He is Mohammad Asghar Khan, a former commander of Pakistan's air force and a man widely respected for his integrity. He accuses the government of running a police state, of suppressing free speech, of government graft and a widening gap between rich and poor.

The role he intends to play remains unclear. But it could spell trouble for President Ayub Khan, the man with the similar name.

Parent Unrest Brings About Call For Unusual Meeting In Novato

When I was a youth, someone (I cannot now recall just who) told me that in this country, things must go from bad to worse before the people are roused up enough to do something about it.

The point was that this country runs along fairly well with everyone tending to his own business and not worrying too much about things in geneeral, as long as there is no major upheaval. It might be called apathy, and maybe it is. But when things get bad enough, the public is aroused out of this apathy, and sees to it that things are straightened out before settling back into lethargy.

ONE OF THESE things is discipline in the schools. For several years we have heard rumblings of parental discontent in Novato about discipline especially at Hill Junior High School. However, these rumblings stayed beneath the surface and did not break out into anything like a parent revolt.

Now with the troubles in colleges in the Bay Area drawing national attention, parents are beginning to stir. Several things are bringing discontent to a head on a local level. These include a reaction to the sex education program in the Novato schools, and knowledge of the use of marijuana, not only in the high schools, but going down to the junior high school level.

THE SPARK that really lit the fire under many parents was the arrest of James Kimmel, a Novato High School teacher, on suspicion of possession of marijuana and purchasing it from a student on the campus.

At the last Novato Unified School District Board meeting, three parents asked for a public meeting with the board to discuss discipline, use of drugs, what was being taught in the classrooms, lack of patriotism and respect for the flag, and a code of dress for teachers.

The school board said that it would hold such a meeting in January.

Since that decision, we have received numerous calls, both in person and on the telephone, asking that we be sure to notify the public when that meeting will be held.

Jerrold Moore, president of the Novato Teachers' Association, said the teachers themselves have been trying to work out a code of acceptable dress for faculty members, but it was not developed enough to submit to the board.

THE TEACHERS are the first to state that there are a few who do not fulfill what other teachers think is a good job of teaching.

Moore indicated he thought the time may have passed when teachers needed the full protection of the tenure law. He said he personally would be willing to exchange the tenure law for one in which teachers could transfer all of their teaching credits from one district to another. Now they are given credit for only five years teaching, he said.

So there is the setting for a mass meeting in Novato in January.

Stick With Successful Formula; Take Democrats Back To Chicago

WASHINGTON — It may be a little early, but a new organization has just been formed to bring the Democratic convention back to Chicago in 1972.

The chairman of the group, Upton Mace, told me that he hoped to get Vice President Hubert Humphrey to serve as honorary chairman.

"After all that Chicago did for him," Mace said, "that's the least the vice president could do for Chicago."

"BUT THERE ARE some who feel that Mayor Daley may have cost Humphrey the election."

"Nonsense. If it wasn't for Chicago, the vice president might have got off to a very slow start in his campaign," Mace said. "As it was, Chicago fired up the party and they all left determined to make Hubert a winner."

"They did?"

"Of course. Everyone was talking about Chicago after the conventions. As a matter of fact, they still are."

"I know the Democrats are talking about Chicago, but I'm not sure they're talking about it in the same terms that you are," I said.

"NONSENSE," Mace said. "I don't think there's one member of the Democratic Party, or for the matter the press, who wouldn't come back to Chicago next week for a political convention if we asked them to. After all, we have everything here: beautiful parks, wonderful hotels and excellent hospital facilities. Where else could you be clubbed in a police riot and be in an ambulance in five minutes?"

"Nowhere," I had to admit. "By the way, about the clubbing of people. There are some people in the Democratic Party — I'm not saying many — who aren't certain that clubbing people over the head is good thing for the party's image."

"You'll always have malcontents in any party," Mace said. "The important thing is that the Democrats must hold their convention in a major city where the mayor has enough power to deliver the state. Chicago fills that bill."

"But Mayor Daley didn't deliver Illinois to the Democrats this year."

"That wasn't his fault," Mace said. "The only reason Illinois did not go to Humphrey was that Nixon got more votes."

"That's a point I hadn't thought of."

"LOOK, I DON'T have to sell Chicago to you," Mace said. "You were there this summer. Don't we have one of the finest police forces in the country?"

"The finest," I said. "They left their mark on a lot of people who were there this August."

"Of course they did," Mace said. "And do you know why? Because they're used to dealing with any kind of person that shows up at a political convention. Our cops are kind, courteous and noted for keeping their cool. Do you know they gave out less traffic tickets during August while the convention was on than during any week of the year?"

"Everyone I've spoken to," I said, "says Chicago policemen have big hearts. But this report by the committee on violence. . ."

"THAT'S A LOT of poppycock, written without the permission of Mayor Daley. If you really want to find out the truth about what happened in Chicago, you should read Mayor Daley's report. That was made with the co-operation of the Chicago Police Department, so it has some truth to it. You get private citizens writing about the police and you get a very distorted picture."

"Well, Mr.n Mace, you've convinced me Chicago should be the site for the 1972 convention. Now all you have to do is convince the Democratic Party."

"Don't worry. We'll convince them. They'd be crazy, after what happened there this summer, to mess with a successful formula."

Fairfax Building Was On The Ballot

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported yesterday that the Fairfax proposal for a new fire-police-administration complex had been kept off the ballot by a 3 to 2 vote of the city council.

In fact, a $550,000 bond issue was defeated on the June ballot. It was placed before the voters by the 1966-68 council. The 3 to 2 vote came in May from the present council, which was asked to give the measure a vote of confidence.

State Panel To Eye Bay Travel Problems

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A hearing on how to provide better public transportation in the Bay Area will be held by the Assembly Transportation and Commerce at 10 a.m. Thursday in room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Representatives from the legislative analyst's office and Bay Area governments, including Marin County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, will testify at the all-day hearing.

The mess that is the transportation system in the Bay Area, according to committee chairman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, "is a classic example of what happens when there is virtual reliance on cars." Noting that 250,000 cars enter San Francisco daily, Foran said each additional car costs $25,000 for street and parking space.

The purpose of the hearing, he said in a statement, is "to pinpoint exactly where and why the transportation planning process is not functioning properly."

Election Set

The Novato Republican Federated Women will elect new officers at 11 a.m. Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Brian Hutcherson at 624 Plum Street, Novato. A luncheon will follow.

$50,000 Is Being Asked For Library

Supt. Howard F. Brose said yesterday the West Marin School District has applied for $50,000 in federal funds to expand its multimedia library and participate in a pilot program for such school libraries.

Brose told the district board that 150 school districts throughout California have applied for the project, but added that only 15 would be eligible.

The program has been prescribed by the title two of the federal Elementary Second Education Act. It would be administered by the state Department of Education.

The program would serve as a model to other schools in how to equip and manage a multimedia library, Brose said. Such a library has audio-visual materials besides printed resources.

About 100 sixth, seventh and eighth grade students attended yesterday's board meeting — held at 11 a.m. — and asked the superintendent and the trustees about district operations and costs and the trustees' own function.

Boys' Club Elects Directors' Slate

Ten Marin County residents have been elected directors of the Boys' Club of Southern Marin at the organization's second annual meeting in Sabella's Restaurant, Mill Valley.

They were Juanita Cobb and Collie Gaines of Marin City, Herman Boldetti of Corte Madera, Lanny Berry, Louis Sabella and Richard Skuse of San Rafael, Warren Callister and Ralph Noah of Belvedere, Crawford Greene Jr. of Ross and Ben Farlatti of Tiburon.

Shoulder Hurt In Auto Crash

A 20-year-old Kentfield man suffered a shoulder separation Sunday when he was thrown from his car when it hit a tree and fence at 126 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Ross.

Charles Benny Wright of 811 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Police said that Wright's northbound car skidded on wet pavement before running onto the property of Wilmot H. Groth.

A fence post flew into the bedroom window of the home, but no one was injured, police said.

Tiburon Council Shifts Parking, No-Parking Areas In Long Talks

Tiburon's need for adequate downtown parking for commuters, shoppers and visitors last night occupied the attention of the Tiburon City Council for nearly four hours.

In two specific actions, the council unanimously voted to grant a temporary use permit for a 81-space parking lot on Paradise Drive at Main Street and to remove approximately 25 parking spaces along the southerly side of Paradise Drive between Main Street and Elephant Rock.

In approving the use permit, the council specified that ferryboat commuters be charged a minimal fee for parking in the lot — informally suggested at $2.50 a month — and noted that others using the lot would be charged a standard fee.

The council also sought to remove itself from a dispute between Jay Quetnick, Marshall Walthers and Michael Demaurex, all partners in Waterfront Properties, and Matthew B. Weinberg over ownership of the waterfront lot. The council conditioned the use permit approval on the city obtaining stipulations from the four property owners that the city would not be dragged into any litigation which might evolve from their personal quarrel.

In addition, the council asked for a second stipulation from both Weinberger and Waterfront Properties that the granting of the use permit would in no way prejudice litigation between the city and the property owners still pending in court over development of the waterfront along Paradise Drive south of Main Street.

A lengthy list of conditions concerning landscaping, lighting, grading and entrance and exit engineering was also tacked onto the use permit approval.

Councilman Branwell D. Fanning, acting as mayor in the absence of Mayor William R. Bremer, said he expected ferry boat commuters to fill the lot during the week but that in the evenings and on weekends it would provide additional parking spaces for residents and visitors.

Then, after granting the parking lot use permit, the council moved to ban all parking on the city right of way along the south side of Paradise Drive.

A proposal to prohibit parking as well on the northerly side of the street between Main and Mar West streets was delayed until the parking lot is completed.

Capt. William Johansen of the Tiburon sheriff's department said the parking ban, especially on the south side, is necessary for pedestrian and vehicular safety.

Emergency vehicles now cannot get through the street when it is clogged with heavy traffic or when an accident occurs, he said.

Fanning said he anticipated that the commuters who now park on Paradise Drive will move into the new parking lot when it opens but to ban all parking before the lot opens only means the cars will move to other narrow streets and block them.

"We must give the commuters a viable alternative to parking on the streets," he said.

In two other related matters, the council also touched on the problem of parking.

It declared its intent to approve on Jan. 13 a master plan for the addition of 44 rooms to the Tiburon Lodge but said adequate parking for the addition must be provided on adjacent property to be leased by the Tiburon Inn Corp. from Tiburon property owner Fred G. Zelinsky.

The council also said the proposed parking area to the north of the Lodge must be subdivided and attached to the Tiburon Lodge property in accordance with state laws.

Zelinsky was also asked to provide the city with an inventory of the number of parking spaces he has developed on his downtown land and holdings and to indicate the number of spaces allocated to each of the businesses on his property.

And, in answer to complaints that the addition to the Lodge will create a massive building downtown — especially as viewed from the surrounding hills — the council requested Ben A. Farlatti, Lodge owner, to provide alternate sketch plans showing a variation in the roof line and front facade.

Earlier in the evening, the council approved another master plan for Zelinsky property at 1-11 Main Street to rebuild shops piers and an apartment recently destroyed by fire.

The council ruled that, because of its committment last year to allow the rebuilding of all Main Street structures in case of fire or other disaster, the new building, similar to the one destroyed, could be constructed on the property.

However, the council stipulated that Zelinsky must provide 25 parking spaces for the building's ground floor shops and that he must be able to provide additional parking spaces for any use which might be approved for the second floor of the structure.

In related action, the council directed the city's planning commission to consider a zoning ordinance amendment which would extend the planned district zone to include all buildings on Main Street. Presently, some of the buildings extend into the park zone established outboard of Main Street.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ORDINANCE — Asked the city's planning consultant to provide definitions of "use" and "structure" for inclusion in the zoning ordinance to end confusion.

JUANITA LANE — Allocated $3,000 for the installation of a storm drain on Juanita Lane.

FUND TRANSFER — Authorized the transfer of $9,212 from gas tax fund to the general fund for the installation of a storm drain on Reed Ranch Road.

PRIORITIES — Asked the city manager and city engineer to study other public works projects on the city's priority list and recommend which, if any, should be completed this fiscal year.

FUND — Authorized the establishment of an open space fund into which citizens can contribute toward the purchase of trails, open space and park sites.

NUISANCE — Tabled an order against Thomas and Gerald Connell to abate a drainage nuisance in Blackie's Pasture.

MINIBOARD — Postponed to Jan. 13, because of the lateness of the hour, the establishment of a miniboard of the County Human Rights Commission to serve the Tiburon area.

APPOINTMENT — Postponed to Jan. 13, because of the lateness of the hour, the appointment of a citizen to replace Fanning on the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

ARKS — Ordered City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose to grant a temporary permit to Zelinsky to store two of the Belvedere arks on his property until July 1.

MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Jan. 13 in city hall and canceled its regularly scheduled Dec. 23 meeting because of the Christmas holiday.

School Named In RFK's Honor

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) —Sen. Edward M. Kennedy returned to the hills of West Virginia to dedicate a federal training school for boys yesterday, and became choked with emotion as he reminisced on the "affection" his late brothers held for the state.

Kennedy, D-Mass., and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark headed ceremonies dedicating the Robert F. Kennedy Youth Center, a school for boys in trouble, planned while Robert Kennedy was Attorney General.

"These hills, these people and this state have had a very special meaning for my family," the senator said. "Our lives have been tightly entertwined with yours."

"My brothers never forgot their travels here," he said in a quivering voice. "The words that passed between you and them were direct and honest," the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy said.

San Anselmo Apartments Given Nod

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night voted, 4-2, to give tentative approval of a 22-unit apartment development at 84 Madrone Avenue.

The special commission meeting was the fourth time commissioners wrestled with the application by Emily Merriman to rezone her property from single family to planned development.

She had asked for 24 units, but agreed to cut two units, and also agreed to dedicate frontage on Madrone and Center Boulevard for street widening, to leave as open space the portion of her 1.5-acre lot behind the creek, and to provide 31 parking spaces instead of the required 28, reported John T. O'Rourke, assistant city engineer.

Voting "no" were commissioners Allen J. Creighton and Philip S. Heinecke, who said there still would be too many units. Voting "yes" were commissioners John F. West, Joseph Gue, Kenneth L. Anderson and Dennis T. Moore. Commissioner Warren R. Perry was absent.

The approval was on condition that the commission later approve more detailed design and landscaping plans.

State Delays Action On Boaters' Sewage

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The state Harbors and Watercraft Commission delayed action yesterday on requiring shoreside facilities for the dumping of waste until a complete study can be made.

The commission had been considering new regulations requiring shoreside facilities for the dumping of waste from marine toilets and holding tanks. The regulations also call for equipment to pump sewage into a retention or disposal system approved by local authorities to meet discharge requirements of the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Commissioner William H. Wilson said he felt the proposal was extremely far reaching. "We must take a stand, but don't have all the facts," he said, suggesting that, if necessary, a company be hired to make a survey.

Fred Derker of the regional water quality board spoke in favor of the proposal, but suggested that persons on the local level look at the entire system of sewage disposal and not just retention facilities.

Noting that many marina areas of San Francisco Bay were polluted, he said, "It's a matter of decency and the visual appearance of the waters. You couldn't build a house along a bay and deposit raw sewage into it."

Commissioner William A. de Groot Jr. said he had recently spent some time at Bolinas Bay and saw sewage running from a pipe into the waters. "It was unbelievable — it went right into the water," he said.

Wilson questioned whether shoreside sewage facilities for boats should be required statewide. "It's silly to put holding tanks on all boats when it isn't needed everywhere," he said, noting that in some areas tidal waters provided natural flushing actions.

Commission Chairman Edmund P. Halley said a legislative committee was holding a hearing today on the requirement to have all boats equipped with holding tanks to prevent waste being dropped into the water.

John S. Habel of the California Marine Parks and Harbors Association said pleasure boats cause an extremely small part of the pollution problem. He added, however, that laws against littering need to be more strongly enforced.

He said the main contributors to water pollution were larger commercial and military vessels.

Commissioner Wilson called for more public hearings on the regulations before serious consideration of adoption is given by the commission.

In other business yesterday, the commission adopted new lighting regulations requiring vessels under 150 feet to carry a white light forward that will be visible for at least two miles.

One-Car Crashes Injure Three

Three persons were injured in separate one-car crashes on Highway 101 yesterday, the California Patrol reported today.

Sharon D. Walter, 21, of 99 Upland Road, Kentfield, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a scalp cut and concussion suffered when her car hit a puddle and spun into a ditch near Willow Avenue in San Rafael at 3:30 p.m.

Joanne P. Wells, 22, of 808 Maple Drive, Petaluma, was treated at Novato General Hospital for face bruises after her car skidded off the highway four miles north of Novato at 8:45 a.m.

Gary G. Smith, 23, of 33-B Circle Drive, Tiburon, was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises of the left hand after his car spun into the center divider in Greenbrae at 2 p.m., flattening 60 feet of fence.

Review Asked On Central Crime Lab

The City-County Services Committee voted last night to ask the Marin Board of Supervisors to review a proposal for a central crime laboratory for the use of all law enforcement units in the county.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows reported it would cost an estimated $50,000 to set up such a facility and an estimated $40,000 a year to operate it. Costs would be borne by the county, he said.

The committee also recommended and sent to Marin cities proposed amendments to the county's uniform animal control ordinance, Barrows said.

The change includes a requirement that dogs be under the control of a responsible person and increases from five to 10 the number of men and vehicles available for enforcement.

The committee took under consideration a request from the county health officer, Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, that the health department be authorized to review all permits to build or remodel food handling establishments to make sure plans conform to state laws.

Auto Stereo Stolen

William L. Marsh of 228 Union Street, San Rafael, reported yesterday that his auto stereo, valued at $105, was taken from his car while it was parked in front of his house during the night, police said. A window had been pried to gain entry, police said.

Long Terms Set For Teen-Age Mass Slayer

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Thomas Charles Fuller II, 19, convicted slayer of five brothers and sisters, was sentenced today to two consecutive sentences of 70 to 90 years in prison.

Circuit Court Judge Harry I. Hannah, in handing down the sentences in Coles County Circuit Court said, "The nature and the enormity of the crime demands that the defendent receive a substantial penalty."

Fuller pleaded guilty to the killings Oct. 23, of five children of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox. The slayings occurred April 27 on their farm northwest of Mattoon.

Judge Hannah said he rejected the death penalty in light of fuller's youth, the fact that he had no previous record and that psychiatrists and psychologists had testified that there was a possibility of Fuller's rehabilitation.

Doing Their Part For Holiday

By DOROTHY NEWELL

Several youth groups will be represented in the 15 booths and four boothettes at the holiday show '68 at the Novato Community House on Friday from 7 to 10 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. This is the annual show sponsored by the Novato Garden Club.

Among the youth groups will by the Novato Aggies 4-H Club. Members, who normally have projects such as sheep, guide dogs, bees, clothing or sewing, have been busy making Christmas tree decorations for sale.

President of the Aggies is Diane Eide, a 17-year-old senior, who has been making "angels" from lids of tin cans to hang on a tree. Using kitchen shears, she makes four cuts towards the center, leaving two thin strips which are bent forward to make the arms; the bottom part is twisted around to make the skirt. Part of the lid is cut away, leaving two half circle and a thin strip in the center. The circles are clipped to resemble wings, and a tiny bead is placed at the top of the thin strip to resemble a head. (See diagram.)

Another group of the Aggies are making God's eyes, a Mexican Christmas religious symbol which is hung in the home to protect the dweller. It has become a hippie symbol.

To make the God's eye, use round double pointed tooth picks and glue or tape together, making four equal parts. Mrs. Jack Miklos, project leader, says she prefers to use variegated yarn, which makes a nice design without having to change yarns. Knot yarn in center of cross, wind around each arm once, turn counter clockwise, wind again, keeping yarn taut, wind around until yarn covers all of the tooth picks. Leave six inches of yarn at the top so they can be hung on the tree, and a small pom pon at the base.

Novato Aggie members also made decorative cookies and decorated styrofoam balls to be hung on the christmas tree. Mrs. Harry Eide, community 4-H leader, says the recipe they used for the cookies was one taken from the Independent-Journal many years ago.

The Novato Aggies, numbering 75 members, will use the funds from the sale at the Community House for several projects, including helping to buy dog food for those raising Guide Dogs for the Blind and to send children to camp.

Two other youth organizations will have boothettes Cub Pack 56, with Mrs. Donald O'Keefe as booth chairman, will sell mistletoe and the

No Crashers For Queen's Yule Party

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II wants to spend this Christmas without gatecrashers.

She has dropped the annual staff party at Buckingham Palace and instead has chartered buses to take her servants out to a celebration at Windsor Castle.

As a royal spokesman primly put it, "There used to be one staff party at the palace and one at Windsor. The queen has decided this year to hold a joint one at Windsor."

Apparently she noticed too many unfamiliar faces at the previous parties in London.

Invitations go to all her staff, including the cleaning women, the grooms, chauffeurs, coachmen, gardeners, and the policemen who guard the royal family. They are allowed to bring one friend or relative whose name must be given in advance to prevent gatecrashing.

But some of the actual tickets seem to have been passed on to outsiders, leading to the queen's re-organization.

This huge staff party for more than 800 guests will liven up the royal Christmas, which the queen chooses to spend quietly with her immediate relatives at Windsor, her favorite home.

Dancing will be in the enormous Waterloo Chamber, one of the state apartments, with a pop band and a conventional ballroom band playing alternately.

One of the world's largest carpets, a two-ton, 80-foot mammoth specially woven in India for Queen Victoria, will have to be taken up.

Queen Elizabeth probably will have a whirl with her footman while Prince Philip dances with a kitchen maid and the Queen Mother trips a measure with a teen-age apprentice pantry boy.

Ceremony is relaxed for the party. Once a young footman was smitten by Princess Margaret and composed a poem in her honor. He claimed a dance with her and recited it as they waltzed.

The girls compete for Prince Charles, the 20-year-old heir to the throne. Last year, Charles foxed them by leading out the Buckingham Palace tea and coffee maker, who is in her 50's and weighs nearly 200 pounds.

The queen does her staff proud with a champagne buffet that would be a credit to any top international hotel and a cabaret which admittedly is weighted with old favorites of hers, including ventriloquist Peter Brough who has appeared at the party for 20 years. This is one occasion when the queen does not object to pointed jokes about royal life.

The royal staff also get a Christmas present from the queen. Her housekeeper goes around with a list beforehand, asking what everyone would like —maybe something for the home, to wear, or a gift voucher.

The queen hands the presents over beneath the Christmas tree where her own family's gifts will go on Christmas Eve.

She selects the tree from the estate at Windsor on one of her horse rides before breakfast, a favorite weekend occupation. The foresters cut it down and the staff ties on colored lanterns and silver ornaments.

The queen did her Christmas shopping for friends overseas early this year because of her absence from Britain in November for a state visit to South America.

She also made most of the domestic arrangements early.

The family goes to church Christmas morning, then sits down to the traditional lunch of roast turkey and plum pudding. The afternoon is given over to the children. In the evening, they dismiss the servants, help themselves to a cold buffet, and entertain themselves with television, records and conversation.

Freedom First Fashions Reign

The freedom first fashion trend that made mini skirts de rigeur from Omaha to Oahu soon will have average women wearing one-piece, neck-to-toe garments and even flirting with the nude look, says Henry V. Kobin, head of U.S. Industries Apparel and Accessory Group. "Of course, it is going to be awhile yet before you'll see housewives walking down the streets of Keokuk, Iowa, in body-stockings or see-through blouses. But the demand for greater convenience and comfort in women's wear is firmly established now, and we expect it will have a long run."

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Taming The Shrew Causes Her To Seek Advice On Retaliation

DEAR HELEN:

I'm writing this letter with tears and pain. Not in my heart but on my backside.

It's my fiance, Mike. He is four years older than I, and thinks he is boss.

What happened was that I got sore at a teacher and called her a vulgar name. The principal suspended me for two days. I played sick and didn't tell my folks, but the note he sent home required I have my father's signature before I could come back to school.

I asked Mike to forge my dad's name, and he said I had to tell my folks. I got mad and starting swearing. He said I was acting like a child and he pulled me over his knee and spanked me. Imagine that! I'm almost 18.

Mike drove me home and I ran to my room There was a lot of talking downstairs, then my dad called me. He knew about the note and the spanking—and he said I deserved it. Then they started to laugh and my temper boiled over. I swore and stomped and threw things at Mike — and that's when I got it again.

He is still acting very masterful. Everytime he comes over, I'm greeted with a kiss and a good hard whack on my behind. What can I do? — SORE, SAD AND SORRY SANDI

DEAR SANDI:

Repent, reform — and retaliate!

Tell him the shrew has been tamed, but his whacks may cause a relapse. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Yesterday two of my sisters got married. They are both going to have babies. One of my sisters got pregnant on purpose so she could keep her boy friend. She said I should, too, as it's the only way I'll be sure he will marry me.

I love my steady but I don't want to get him in that kind of trouble. Is this the only way to keep him? — AFRAID

DEAR AFRAID:

It's the best way I know to lose him. I think your foolish sisters will agree within a year. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I protest.

I was shocked at the "groovy" prayer one of your readers sent in. You shouldn't call God "Dad," and you should use "Thee," "Thine," and "Thou," as signs of respect. People will forget who they are talking to, if they use hip language in prayers. — SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED:

If the message is right, do you really think God worries about the words? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

For the girl who couldn't understand the Bible and prayed "modern:" There are excellent teen-ager editions of Bible chapters now available. You can get them at almost any big book store or supply house for religious material.

Tyndale House, Publishers, Wheaton, Ill., has a very good series of paperback Bible adaptations. — STUDENT

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Latex Paint

A quality latex paint is the best thing for the do-it-yourselfer painting ordinary walls and ceilings. It is easily applied and gives a smoother appearance, leaves no lap marks and dries quickly. Simple soap and water scrubbing cleans it.

Belvedere Teens Get Center—An Old Ark

A Belvedere ark named The Mermaid will be donated by the Belvedere Land Co. for use as a center for Tiburon Peninsula teen-agers, the Belvedere City Council learned last night.

The offer, made by David W. Allen, president of the company, was an instant answer to the hopes of Roger Felton, chairman of the Belvedere Parks and Recreation Commission.

The main need expressed by seven teen-age representatives meeting with the Belvedere and Tiburon recreation commissions last week was for a meeting place, Felton had told the council. Allen said The Mermaid would be relocatdd on railroad property adjacent to the old ferry slip on the Tiburon waterfront within a week.

The recreation commission was also directed to work with Boy Scout Panther Troop No. 9 to find a suitable community service project. The troop had offered to paint street numbers on curbs in the lagoon area.

A formal agreement with Marin County implementing the contribution of $4,500 from the city to assist with the purchase of two acres of land adjacent to the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Museum, formerly Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon, was approved.

Councilman John R. Moore proposed negotiating a new lease with the state Highway Department for property on Lagoon Road, owned by the state and used by the city as a corporation yard. Under the proposal, a 90-foot strip not now used by the city could be made available to the Belvedere Land Co. for an enclosed yard for parking a truck used to haul garden cuttings and other debris. The company plans to negotiate a separate lease with the state for this property, Allen said.

Mrs. Beatrice Mann, a Lagoon Road resident, protested this use of the land, which she said "would be more suitable for a park."

The Belvedere City Council also:

LICENSE — Granted Capt. E. J. Towe permission to repair the pier below his home on Corinthian Island.

ANGEL ISLAND — Passed a resolution opposing the selection of Angel Island as a missile base.

CATV — Heard a progress report on Cable Antenna Television completion will be delayed 120 additional days because of relocation of poles by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. The new target date is late next spring.

TRAFFIC HAZARD — Discussed relocating a stop sign and establishing a crosswalk at Bayview Avenue and Laurel Street as a protection for children walking to Belvedere School. Consultation with principal Jack Usilton on the plan was recommended.

DRAINAGE — Learned a study of the San Rafael Avenue storm drainage problem to find means of diverting street drains away from the Belvedere Lagoon is being undertaken with the Lagoon Property Owners Association, sharing equally with the city in study costs.

PROJECT PRIORITY — Discussed resurfacing of road and repair of retaining walls on Bayview Avenue and agreed to make Bayview Avenue improvements the next project under the city's five-year capital outlay program.

Lack Of Quorum

The San Rafael Library Board meeting scheduled last night was postponed for lack of a quorum. It will be rescheduled later this month, said librarian Vivian Smith.

Students To Give A Piano Recital

Sally Fletcher of Greenbrae will present some of her pupils in a public recital at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at her home in Greenbrae.

Performing will be Jimmie Harold, Jane Sullivan, Tami Pieser, Kim Pieser, Julie Sullivan, John Sullivan, Erica Anderson and Leslie Anderson.

Girl Relates Slaying Of Boyfriend

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — A Campbell girl said yesterday she was forced to partially disrobe and then shot after her boy friend was killed by a man who had picked them up as they hitchhiked to Salt Lake City.

Diane Bradford, 18, testified at the preliminary hearing of Richard Welch, 26, San Antonio, Tex. Welch is charged with the Sept. 25 murder of Randy Jenkins, 17, Salt Lake City, and the attempted murder of Miss Bradford.

The hearing continued today before Municipal Judge John Nairn.

Miss Bradford said Welch and his wife, Anita, 17, offered her and Jenkins a ride in Bakersfield. She said she went to sleep and was awakened near Mojave by two shots.

She saw Jenkins slump over and then was ordered by Welch to get out of the car and partially disrobe, she said.

Miss Bradford said she was forced to lie down on a blanket and then ordered to roll over on her stomach. After that, she said, she remembered nothing more.

She was shot in the back of the head and left in the desert to die but recovered from the wound.

Mrs. Welch pleaded guilty to being an accessory to the murder of Jenkins and was referred to the California Youth Authority diagnostic facility for a 90-day observation period.

Rockefeller Set For Fourth Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he intends to run for a fourth term as governor, primarily to complete major urban development programs which he started.

"I am planning to run again in 1970 unless something intervenes in the meantime," Rockefeller said yesterday.

"I've got these things going," the governor said, "the Urban Development Corp., the Metropolitan Transportation Authority and the antipollution programs—that are ready to help the cities and the state—and I wouldn't want to leave them."

Demo Club Calls For Closing Of State's Campus

The Mill Valley Democratic Club board has voted to support "the black community aims in the San Francisco State College crisis," according to Caroline Ramberg, club publicity chairman.

In a resolution unanimously adopted, the board asked that the campus be immediately closed to "avert further bloodshed," that all police including the San Francisco Police Department's tactical squad be removed and that acting president S. I. Hayakawa be removed and someone "having the respect and trust of the community at large, the faculty and students" be named as president.

The board also asked for "meaningful discussions with all parties concerned" and that ways be sought to meet the "justified demands" of the minority students.

No More Work For Officials Who Goofed

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Six football officials who deprived the Los Angeles Rams of a down in the last minute of a crucial National Football League game with the Chicago Bears Sunday have been told they will sit out the one remaining week of the season—plus any post-season games.

Pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle barred the six from further action in a statement yesterday that said "officials erred in not permitting Los Angeles one more down near the end of the game."

Chicago won, 17-16, keeping its hopes for a Central Division title alive and eliminating the Rams from championship contention in the Coastal Division.

A penalty against Los Angeles on the first down of its final series nullified an incomplete pass play. Following three additional incomplete passes, Rozelle said, "the ball was turned over to Chicago, thus depriving Los Angeles of a fourth down play to which it was entitled."

Rams coach George Allen viewed films of the game in Los Angeles yesterday and agreed his team should have gotten another down, but he had nothing to say for publication. Public criticism of game officials is against NFL rules, and Washington coach Otto Graham recently was fined $2,500 by Rozelle for saying "the officials stole the game from us."

Los Angeles was on its own 47-yard line, with five seconds left in the game, when the ball was given to Chicago after the penalty and three incomplete passes. It had 31 yards to go for a first down but could have had one more chance to throw a "bomb" or attempt a field goal, which would have come from some 60 yards away.

The officials were referee Norm Schachter, umpire Joe Connell, head linesman Burl Toler, line judge Jack Fette, back judge Adrian Burk and field judge George Ellis.

"All six game officials are equally responsible for keeping track of the downs," said Rozelle.

"The crew which officiated the Los Angeles-Chicago game is considered among the most competent in pro football. However, because all six must bear responsibility for the error, the entire crew will receive no further assignments for the remainder of the 1968 NFL season, including post-season games."

The penalty could be very costly to the officials in dollars and cents. Officials receive between $250 and $350 a regular season game, $300 and $1,000 for a Super Bowl assignment.

A Day To Remember At Kezar Stadium

EGADS! — Dec. 8, 1968 may not become as infamous as Dec. 7, 1941, but it's a day I'll never forget.

At precisely 1:39 p.m. Sunday at drizzly, foggy Kezar Stadium an event took place that astounded the 29,049 spectators at the San Francisco 49ers-Minnesota Vikings football game. In fact, I almost fell out of my seat, the man next to me put his hands over his eyes and screamed "Oh, NO!" and similar disbelief was expressed throughout the stadium.

You'd have to see it to believe it. But there it was, bigger than life, at 1:39 p.m. on the eighth day of the twelfth month in the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-Eight, the incredible sight of John Aloysius Brodie throwing a block. I am NOT kidding. Honest Injun. I kid you not. Please believe me, the 49er quarterback actually attempted to knock down a big Viking. (Farms in Berkeley?! Skyscrapers in Tocaloma?! Brodie BLOCKING!!!?)

What Do You Expect? Nagurski?

The play started innocently enough as Brodie threw a swing pass to Gary Lewis. However, when Lewis was trapped, he reversed field and came right back in Brodie's direction with three big Vikings in hotsy totsy pursuit. Imagine poor Brodie's predicament, being caught in the middle of all that violence to which he would rather not become accustomed. Well, since there was no place to hide, there was only one thing to do: He put down his head, said a few quick Hail Marys and Our Fathers, and threw his body in the path of a vicious looking behemoth from Minnesota ("... a sneak and dastardly attack ...")

Of course, he missed (thank Heavens), but what the hell do you expect from a million dollar quarterback? Bronco Nagurski? I believe it was Brodie's first block since college days. In fact, he still thinks a block is something Stanford guys sew on their lettermen sweaters.

Started That Razzle-Dazzle

Actually, Brodie participated in two memorable plays against the Vikings. Besides that abortive block, John-John ignited a razzle-dazzle play that electrified the crowd (and the lights, too.) Operating out of a spread formation, Brodie threw a lateral across field to flanker Clifton McNeil who, in turn, faded back a couple of steps and threw a perfect pass to Bill Tucker, who was far in the clear, for a touchdown.

To see McNeil, the National Football League's leading pass receiver, throwing a pass was as startling as watching Johnny "Gotrocks" Brodie throwing a block.

A Switch In Assignments?

There was some talk after the game that Coach Dick Nolan was contemplating some lineup changes for next season, switching McNeil to quarterback and Brodie to blocking back, but I don't believe it, do you?

SUNDAY ALSO was 49er Alumni Day in which former stars were introduced at halftime. There were about 20 alumni on hand — the likes of Francis Albert, Hugh McElhenny, Leo Nomellini — but only one of them looked physically capable of still playing a good game. I refer to Al Endriss, the Redwood High School coach, who played end for the Niners in 1952. While the other alumni showed a little snow on the rooftops and avoirdupois around the midsection, Big Al Endriss looked like a 1968 model end. I even gave him a standing ovation. I hope he heard me.

Retirement Rumors Sweep Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers' dismal climax to their worst National Football League season in a decade has, not unexpectedly, produced a team of retirement rumor.

The Packers, with 13 veterans more than 30 years old, were especially gloomy after Saturday's loss to Baltimore. That best explains why retirement might have been on their minds, Coach Phil Bengtson insisted yesterday.

"I don't think there will be wholesale retirements," Bengtson said. "A player may feel ready to quit after a defeat. But after a few weeks, they may think differently."

A Minneapolis sports commentator reported he had heard No. 1 quarterback Bart Starr would be quitting after next Sunday's season finale against the Chicago Bears.

"I have absolutely no comment on that," Starr said last night. "I don't know where these things get started. I really can't say at this time, and that's as honest as I can be."

Starr said he doesn't know whether his rib injuries will keep him out of the Chicago game, "but I sure want to play." He was absent from the Baltimore game.

The Colts' victory in Lambeau Field, the Packers' last home game of the year, was Green Bay's first NFL game since 1965 without a touchdown, and canceled Packer chances for a third consecutive NFL crown.

"You know what it was like? It was like playing your last college game," guard Jerry Kramer said. "We knew it was the last game here for a lot of guys. I'm telling you, it was really emotional."

Kramer said it might have been "my last game in Lambeau Field," and he added such veterans as Bob Skoronski, Forrest Gregg, Henry Jordan and Starr, each with 11 or more years in pro football.

Lionel Aldridge said Kramer wasn't the only Packer feeling low.

"Skoronski reminded us that this was probably the last home game for a number of our veterans," Aldridge said. "It was obvious how much it meant to them. I know it made me want to play a little harder."

The sell-out crowd of 50,800 gave the Packers a standing ovation, and the band played Auld Lang Syne.

"It was a beautiful crowd," Kramer said.

Carroll Dale said the television audience was presumably dominated by fans of other clubs which the Packers had used as doormats in better years.

"I suppose about 75 per cent of the people watching were glad to see us die," he said.

Clock Runs Out On The Packers

By JERRY KRAMER
(All-NFL right guard, Author of "Instant Replay: The Green Bay Diary of Jerry Kramer," edited by Dick Schaap, World Publishing Co.)

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Before the game with the Baltimore Colts, we got together in the locker room, the way we always do, just the players, just by ourselves, and Bob Skoronski, the offensive captain, spoke first.

"We've dedicated games to the fans and to the coaches and to individual players," Ski said, "but let's play this game for the guys who've made this the team it's been. A lot of us won't be here next year. A lot of us are playing our last game at Lambeau Field ..."

Bob couldn't say any more. He was more emotional than I'd ever seen him. He was about ready to cry. I started thinking about the guys who wouldn't be here next year. Henry Jordan, Ski, Willie Davis, maybe Bart Starr, maybe Forrest Gregg, maybe me.

TOO OLD

I couldn't help remembering what my son, Danny, said to me the other day. He's only 4 years old, and he was sitting at the kitchen table, and he looked up at me, and he said, "Dad, we're just getting too old."

Listening to Ski, listening to Willie Davis, I got very high emotionally. We all got high emotionally. As a team, I guess, we've played with a lack of emotion all year, but that day we were just filled with emotion. Maybe we were too high.

We went out and we made mistakes — fumbles, interceptions, missed assignments—the kind of mistakes that are generally caused by extra effort, by too much emotion, not by any lack of effort.

I felt we could win the game. I felt it all the way. The game typified the whole season. It was a big disappointment.

There wasn't a game all year that I didn't think we could win, and against the Colts at the start of the fourth quarter, when Lionel Aldridge came up with that Baltimore fumble for us, I was positive we were going to win. There wasn't any question in my mind. I knew we were going to take the ball and go in and score and then we'd score and we'd win the game.

WRONG

I was wrong. I didn't believe it until I looked up and saw only 20 seconds left on the clock and we were losing 16-3, and I knew it was all over, knew that our string of three straight NFL championships had ended, knew that we didn't have a chance any more.

We've always felt that we never lost a game, that every game we played, we won. We knew that sometimes the clock ran out on is while the other team still had more points, but we knew that if we'd kept playing, ke would have won. But this was the day the clock ran out on us.

Maybe little Danny knew something. When he made that

Bucs Dump Rick Barry And Pals

HOUSTON (AP) — Half the Oakland Oaks losses in 23 games of the American Basketball Association season so far have been inflicted by one team.

The losses number only four, and in New Orleans last night the Bucs whipped the Oaks, 145-139, for the second time. James Jones' 48 points set a club record.

Steve Jones scored 31 and Austin Robbins 28 for New Orleans which took an early lead, never trailed and had margins as fat as 15 points in the second quarter. The Bucs went into the game with a five-game losing string.

Rick Barry led the Oaks with 36—just ahead of his ABA-leading average of 34.7.

Oakland Coach Alex Hannum got a second technical foul in the second half and was ejected.

The Oaks meet the Mavericks here tonight before returning home for a Friday game with Minnesota.

Denny McLain Wins Five A.L. Pitching Categories

BOSTON (UPI)—Denny McLain led American League pitchers in four categories in addition to his 31 victories and the Cleveland Indians, led by Luis Tiant, won team earned run average honors during the 1968 season, it was announced today by league president Joe Cronin.

McLain, the league's first 30-game winner since Lefty Grove won 31 games in 1931, was also the individual leader in starts (41), complete games (28), percentage (.838) and innings pitched (336).

Tiant, who had a 21-9 record and a 1.60 ERA which was the lowest since Walter Johnson's 1.49 in 1919, led the Cleveland staff to a 2.655 ERA. That mark just edged out the Baltimore Orioles' staff which had a 2.66 average and compared to the overall league mark of 2.98.

Tiant led the league with nine shutouts and teammate Sam McDowell was the leader in strikeouts with 283. McLain ranked second in strikeouts with 280 and fourth in ERA with 1.96.

Swimmers Move Up In Ranking

Four young Class B swimmers made Class A times at last Saturday's "B" age group swim meet between Tamalpais Swim Club and the San Rafael Swim Club at Mill Valley.

Scott Hislop and Joe Dunn made it for San Rafael in the age 10 and under group and Nancy Jackson, a double winner, and Andrea Larrecq did it in the 10 and under division for the Tamalpais club.

Bill Klemme also advanced to the "A" group in boys 10 and under San Rafael.

Charles Fires 71 To Win Tourney

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles shot a final-round 71 and won the $896 first prize in the Watties Golf Tournament at Hastings today by two strokes with a six-under-par 274.

Fellow New Zealander Walter Godfrey carded a 66 and finished second with 276. Stuart Jones, a New Zealand amateur, fired a 71 and wound up third at 277.

School Boy Surprises Graebner

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — U.S. Davis Cup player Clark Graebner of New York suffered a shocking defeat in the Queensland Grass Court Championships today when Italian schoolboy Adriano Panatta, 18, beat him 9-11, 9-7, 6-3 in the second round of the men's singles.

The defeat may cost Graebner his chance of playing in the singles against Australia in the Davis Cup Challenge Round in Adelaide Dec. 26-28.

U.S. team Captain Donald Dell said he thought Graebner became tired in the mid-summer heat after the second set, but he did not think the result would affect the Davis Cup team.

"We do not know who will play in the singles yet. It is among Arthur Ashe, Graebner, Charles Pasarell and Stan Smith. We will name the players on Dec. 16," he said.

Panatta played brilliantly throughout and his serving was a feature of the match. He continually caught Graebner out of position with his variety of shots.

Earlier Panatta won his first-round boys junior match, defeating Australian Greg Perkins 6-4, 6-0.

In other second-round men's singles matches involving Americans, Jim Osborne of the United States defeated Ross Case of Australia 6-3, 6-2; Stan Smith of the United States beat Peter Campbell of Australia 6-2, 6-4, and Bob Lutz of the United States topped Tony Hammond of Australia 10-8, 6-4.

Frazier 9-5 Favorite To Whip Bonavena

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Joe Frazier is a 9-5 favorite to provide his hometown fans with a victory tonight when he risks his crown against Argentine Oscar Bonavena in the first heavyweight title bout here in 16 years.

The unbeaten, 24-year-old champion vividly remembers when his career was in jeopardy during a desperate minute in an earlier meeting with Bonavena on Sept. 21, 1966 in Madison Square Garden.

Bonavena connected with a right to the jaw of Frazier early in the second round, sending him reeling a second time.

But Frazier desperately moved inside the Argentine's awkward hooks and began fighting back to stay out of trouble. Apparently the fight went out of the 26-year-old Bonavena when the bell sounded ending the round and Frazier went on to gain a 10-round decision.

"I remember that," said Frazier, who has run up 21 consecutive victories since turning pro, "and I won't forget it when I fight him, either. I'll smoke him out in about the sixth round, but before I do, I'll give him a whipping he won't forget."

However, the first battle—that all-important one for the box office bucks — probably has gone to Bonavena, who shrugs off Frazier's threats by confidently predicting his own kayo victory.

Bonavena has been guaranteed $75,000 tax free, and all the side agreements, such as South American ancillary rights, probably will allow him to return to Argentina with more than the $100,000 promised to Frazier. It would have to be one of the few times—if not the first—when the heavyweight champion came out of the short end of the purse.

Nolan Hopes To Play Reserves

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Coach Dick Nolan wants to play his reserves if possible when the San Francisco 49ers call on Atlanta in the final game of the season next Sunday.

He indicated that he wanted to get a better chance of figuring out his personnel for next season and indicated he planned several winter trades.

Nolan was glum over last Sunday's 30-20 loss to Minnesota and blamed the defense's inability to hold the Vikes on key third down plays for the setback.

He also said that the injury to strong safety Alvin Randolph hurt the team. Mel Phillips had to change to the unfamiliar job from his free safety spot with Johnny Fuller taking over at free safety.

Nolan said he thought defensive end Stan Hindman, linebacker Dave Wilcox and running back Gary Lewis turned in good performances.

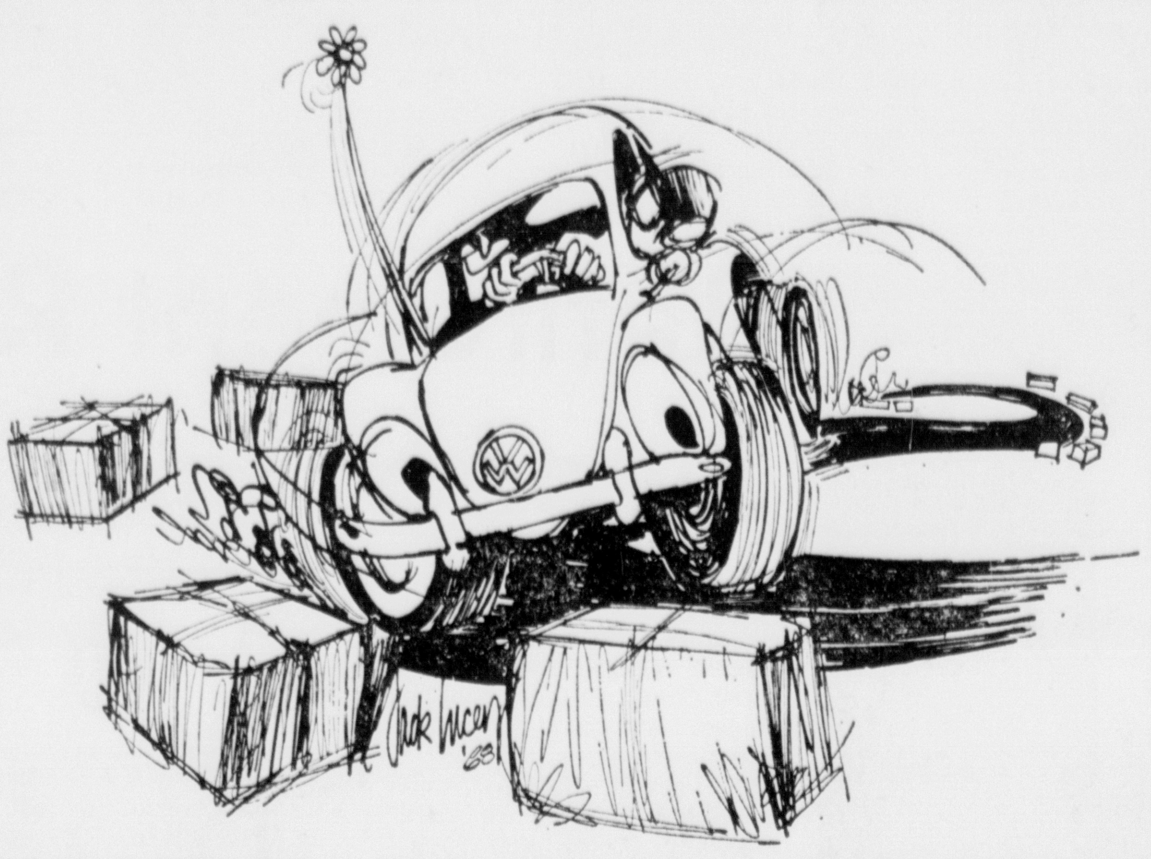
YELLOW STREAK AT SEARS

Scribe Tests New Track

By RALPH CHATOIAN



Have you ever had the urge to get in a sports car and whip around a road racing course?

Well, I fulfilled that urge the other day, although my little Volkswagen bug can't really be called a sports car. But when your imagination is going full tilt, a VW can turn into a Lotus or a Chaparral very quickly.

I got my chance when I was invited out to the Sears Point International Raceway in Sonoma County to see the progress being made on the facilities which are due to open next March. The raceway is located off Highway 121, just north of its junction with Highway 37.

SPEEDY TOUR

Robert D. Marshall, a San Rafael lawyer and president of the managing company for the raceway, is also quite a driver. He gave me a high-speed tour of the 2.6-mile road circuit in his Lotus Europa, a street car that looks more like a race car.

Although admitting to back trouble (a yellow streak) I said, "Sure, give me a ride around the track." And ride we did!

As we made the first turn and accelerated toward turn two I made my first mistake. I looked at the speedometer. It was registering just under 75 miles per hour. Those hay bales and guard rails have a way of coming up mighty fast when you're moving at more than 70 miles per.

TAN GONE

Clutching a hand rail in the passenger seat of the Lotus, I looked down and noticed a lot of the suntan was gone from my hand, especially around my knuckles. Scared? Me? "Of course not," I answered meekly.

It's quite a course. It has 12 turns in all, with alternate routings of 2.3 and 2.1 miles, going up and around the natural hills of Southern Sonoma County.

POWER PLUS

Then came my chance to solo the course. I fastened the seatbelt, strapping myself behind the steering wheel of my Volkswagen. It was the same car I use to get back and forth to work or to go to the store for a loaf of bread, but all of a sudden it seemed a powerful machine, capable of terrific speeds.

Off I went, no skidding or bouncing, just straight for the first turn. I down-shifted and swung into the turn, then out of it, and on to the next. At one point I had that little bug up to 50 miles per hour, then that back injury (the yellow one) started acting up, so I slowed down a little.

I made it all the way around the course without spinning out or running off the track, so I have to admit to having thoughts of challenging Graham Hill next time he comes around.

BEST IN U.S.?

It looks like Marshall, and vice presidents James R. Coleman and William C. Murray really have something going in Sonoma. "It's the best raceway in northern California," Marshall said, and adding more fuel to the statement, "It's even probably the best in the country."

Main problem facing Sears Point right now is getting people to and from the track.

"We have the parking and spectator facilities to accommodate 100,000 people," said Murray, "but because of the narrow highways it would be impossible to handle any more than 20,000." He said a request to widen two-lane Highway 121 has already been sent to the State Highway Department, but when it will be widened is unknown.

Although there was some test races at the raceway recently, first official events will not be held until March of next year.

Robinson In Elite AFL Club

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Robinson's 33 rushing yards against New York last Sunday put the Cincinnati rookie in the American Football League's 1,000-yard club—an exclusive circle never before attained by a true first-year AFL pro.

The Bengal back carried 26 times against the rugged Jet defensive unit to wind up his rookie season with a total of 1,023 ground yards. Cookie Gilchrist rushed for 1,096 yards in 1962, his first year with Buffalo, but he had played several previous seasons in the Canadian League.

FEATHERS

Beattie Feathers of the 1934 Chicago Bears broke into the National Football League with 1,004 rushing yards, averaging better than 10 yards per-carry.

Abner Haynes, who gained 875 yards for the Dallas Texans in 1960, was the only other rookie to lead the AFL in his rookie year. Jim Nance of Boston, who set the league record of 1,458 in 1966, picked up 321 in his first season.

Robinson, Gilchrist, Haynes and Nance are among nine members of the AFL's 1,000-yard club. Houston's Hoyle Granger, San Diego's Paul Lowe, Oakland's Clem Daniels, (now with San Francisco), Kansas City's Mike Garrett and Houston's Charlie Tolar are the others.

DIXON SECOND

Hewritt Dixon of Oakland, who has one regular season game remaining, trails Robinson in the ground-gaining derby with 849 yards. Rookie Robert Holmes of Kansas City is third with 833.

Champ Santa Clara Battles Houston In Tourney Opener

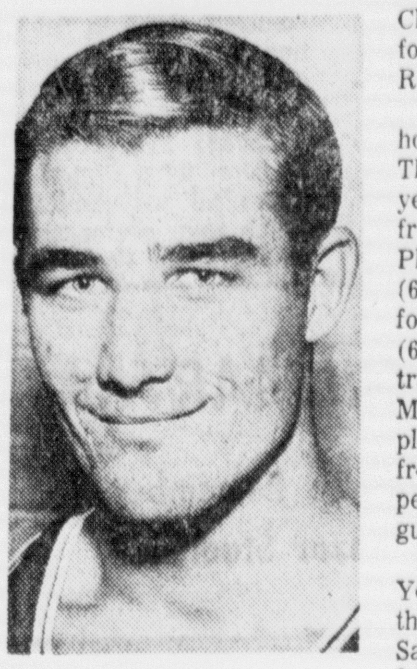
Santa Clara Broncos defend their Cable Car Classic championship this weekend in San Francisco Civic Auditorium when the pre-holiday basketball tournament with the catchy name is played for the second time.

Santa Clara won the inaugural Cable Car Classic last December by defeating Western Kentucky 75-68. The Broncos used that victory as a springboard to the WCAC crown. Santa Clara's 22-4 record was best in Bronco basketball history last year.

This Friday night the Broncos will meet the Houston Cougars in the opening round of the Cable Car Classic. Houston (31-2) is so deep in talent that even loss of Elvin Hayes will not hurt for long. The Cougars have 6-9 center Ken Spain, back from action with the U.S. Olympic team. Spain was Hayes' twin pivot partner last season when the Cougars scored 31 straight victories and upset UCLA in the Astrodome.

SUPER SOPH

Theodis Lee, 6-7 forward, and George Reynolds, 6-4 guard, also are returning from Houston's starting five of last year. Guy Lewis, a 6-9 super soph, broke Hayes' freshman records last season and will play a tandem center position with Spain. Mars Evans, 6-11, is No. 1 front line reserve man of the Cougars. Ollie Taylor, a sharp shooting guard who averaged 31 points per game in leading San Jacinto to the national Junior College Championship last March, will be Reynolds' running mate in the back court.



BOB TOBIN
Former Drake star

Santa Clara's front line with Dennis Awtrey (6-9) at center and the Ogden brothers, Bud and Ralph (both 6-5) at forwards is one of the best in the country. This trio scored 57 points in Santa Clara's 101-64 romp past Nevada in the 1968-69 season opener for the Broncos. (Another member of the Santa Clara Varsity is 6-5 junior forward Bob Tobin of San Rafael.)

University of San Francisco is host of the Cable Car Classic. The Dons are rebuilding this year after losing four starters from last season's team. Coach Phil Vukicevich has Pete Ross (6-9) at center and some good forward material in Rick Shaer (6-5) and Craig Farley (6-7), a transfer from College of San Mateo. Rich Ames, USF's playmaker, and Ron Santos, up from the frosh with a 24 point per game average, are the Don guards.

USF will meet Brigham Young in the opening game of the classic Friday night. The Santa Clara-Houston game will follow and the winners will meet Saturday night for the championship.

TALL, TOUGH

Brigham Young lost a pair of 6-11 players from last season's team but BYU still stands tall and tough. Eight lettermen are returning, including Kari Liimo (6-8), a senior who will anchor BYU's front line with Paul Ruffner (6-19), a Junior College All-American.

Tickets are available at USF and Santa Clara Athletic Offices, the Warriors Ticket Office or by mail to Cable Car Classic, 1 Tillman Place, San Francisco 94108. Prices are $5 and $4.

NFL TEAM STATISTICS

Colts' Defense Is Tough

NEW YORK (AP) — "When we lost Johnny Unitas," said Coach Don Shula of the Baltimore Colts, "the defensive unit got together and made a pact among themselves to put forth an extra effort."

That something extra has carried the Colts within reach of the best defensive record in the National Football League since the advent of 14-game schedules seven years ago.

The Colts have not allowed a touchdown in their last four games and have yielded 120 points in all while compiling a 12-1 record to nail the Coastal Division title.

The fewest points allowed since 1961 is 144, by the 1963 Chicago Bears. The 1946 Pittsburgh Steelers yielded 117 in 11 games for the post World War II low.

JACK HANLEY

Rooney Hard At Work On Boating Extravaganza

Tom Rooney is an exceptionally talented Irishman. He is a gifted showman with an infallible instinct for turning extravaganzas into profitable ventures. He's been doing it more than a quarter of a century.

Rooney rusticates most of the year in the Jack London country of the Valley of the Moon. Just before Christmas each year he emerges from Sonoma to visit San Francisco and announce details of his annual production, the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show.

This will be the 27th renewal of the show and like its predecessors it will be staged at the Cow Palace for 10 days in January 10-19.

THE BOATING industry is deeply indebted to Rooney for teaching it the technique of putting its products in an attractive showcase. A year ago Rooney's show was given the prestige No. 1 spot by manufacturers who introduced their 1968 lines at San Francisco instead of New York. The New York show used to precede San Francisco. Now New York follows San Francisco.

This year Rooney was accorded still another honor by the boating industry. He was appointed director of the Chicago Boat Show which will be held March 21-30.

"I'LL BE DOING a lot of commuting this winter," said Rooney. "As you know, the San Francisco, Chicago and New York shows are linked in an arrangement with top manufacturers to show their lines concurrently. As double-director, I will be supervising many of the same projects."

Booth space at the San Francisco show is $2.50 per square foot, restricted to accessories, fishing tackle, marine hardware, sporting goods, etc.

Bulk space at the show is $1.50 per square foot, restricted to boats, boat trailers, tents, trucks, engines, etc.

"AFTER LAST year's tremendously successful show, the first in which we were No. 1, we've had a fantastic number or requests for booths from both national and local concerns," said Rooney. "We've exhausted all available exhibit space at the Cow Palace."

Rooney provides his customers with first class sports entertainment. A feature of his original show was a Huck Finn casting pool for youngsters. It still is the show's favorite with Rooney who never will discard it.

"YESTERDAY'S youngsters who wet their first line in our pool are today's fishermen," said Rooney.

Each year Rooney comes up with a new idea. A special highlight of the 1969 show will be a dry-land Sail Trainer, a device to teach sailing to the novice without anyone getting wet feet.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California center Bob Presley was named Northern California player of the week yesterday by the area's basketball writers.

Presley has scored 65 points in Cal's three victories to date and hit on 51.9 per cent of his shots from the floor, pulled down 44 rebounds and blocked 18 shots.

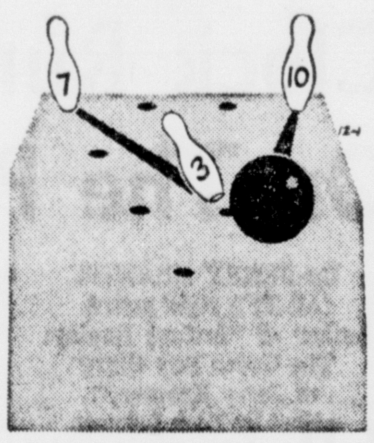
Bowling Tips

By MARION LADEWIG



Face up to any split, but especially those that can be converted with a little nerve and maybe some luck. One of those is the 3-7-10, which can be had. Hit the 3-pin on the right side. It may bounce into the 7, while your ball picks up the 10. What a thrill!

Unexpected Opponent For Fullmer

SAN REMO, Italy (AP) — World middleweight contender Don Fullmer of Salt Lake City was trying today to fend off an unexpected opponent—the common cold.

The Utah boxer hoped to shake the cold by cutting down on his training and spending more time in bed to be in form Saturday when he meets champion Nino Benvenuti in a 15-round title bout.

Fullmer planned to suspend his prefight warmups altogether tomorrow and simply relax until he squares off against the Italian who took the crown from Emile Griffith in New York last spring.

"I'm in the best condition possible," said Fullmer. "Benvenuti doesn't scare me. I'm sure I can beat him." But this time he did not tack on his prediction of winning by a knockout.

Tom Gola, former professional basketball star, is in his first season as coach of the LaSalle College quintet of Philadelphia.

Hawks Invade Cow Palace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Atlanta Hawks fly into the Cow Palace tonight for a National Basketball Association tilt with the San Francisco Warriors at 8 o'clock.

The Warriors still did not know today whether they will be able to use any of the four men who were out Saturday night when they dropped a 115-107 contest to the Seattle Supersonics in Oakland.

Clyde Lee, Joe Ellis and Jeff Mullins were all down with influenza, and Nate Thurmond was out with a pulled leg muscle.

Warrior officials said last night they wouldn't know until game time whether any or all of the four ailing players would be available tonight.

Bob Brannum, former Michigan State basketball star, coaches basketball at Kenyon College.

North Carolina Quintet Keeps Rolling Along

Powerful North Carolina kept rolling along, but Duke wasted little time in failing to uphold a loftier reputation in college basketball warfare last night.

The Tar Heels, ranked No. 2 behind idle UCLA in today's Associated Press poll, trailed by a point at halftime before rallying to whip Vanderbilt 100-78 at Charlotte.

But Duke, elevated from 16th to ninth in the rankings this week, was upset on its own court by Michigan, 90-80.

Vanderbilt fired away at a 54.8 per cent clip to take a 40-39 halftime edge. But 6-foot-8 Bill Bunting fired in nine points in a spree that lifted North Carolina State into control at 63-54 midway through the final half.

Bunting finished with a career high 22 points to share honors with teammate Dick Grubar as the Tar Heels won their fourth straight. Vanderbilt, ranked No. 12 a week ago, suffered its second loss in three games.

Michigan's Rudy Tonjanovich tapped in a bevy of offensive rebounds in picking up 29 points in firing the upset of Duke—the Blue Devils first loss in four games.

Michigan led 41-36 at the half, then outscored Duke 11-1 midway through the second half to put it out of doubt.

Meanwhile, two other teams in the Top 20—Kansas and LaSalle—scored easy victories, while No. 15 Western Kentucky had to struggle to stop St. Francis, Pa., 70-68.

No. 11 Kansas rolled past Xavier of Ohio 79-56 and No. 20 LaSale put down Rider 77-59.

Kansas befuddled Xavier with an aggressive zone defense while racing to a 36-24 halftime lead. The Jayhawks then rippea in seven straight points after intermission and it was no contest after that. Phil Harmon led a balanced attack with 16 points.

Jim McDaniels, Western Kentucky's 7-foot center, polished off a 23-point performance with a three-point play with 33 seconds left, enabling Western to win its fifth straight.

LaSalle's Larry Cannon drilled in 13 of his 22 points in the final nine minutes toturnoff a Rider rally and give the Explorers their second straight.

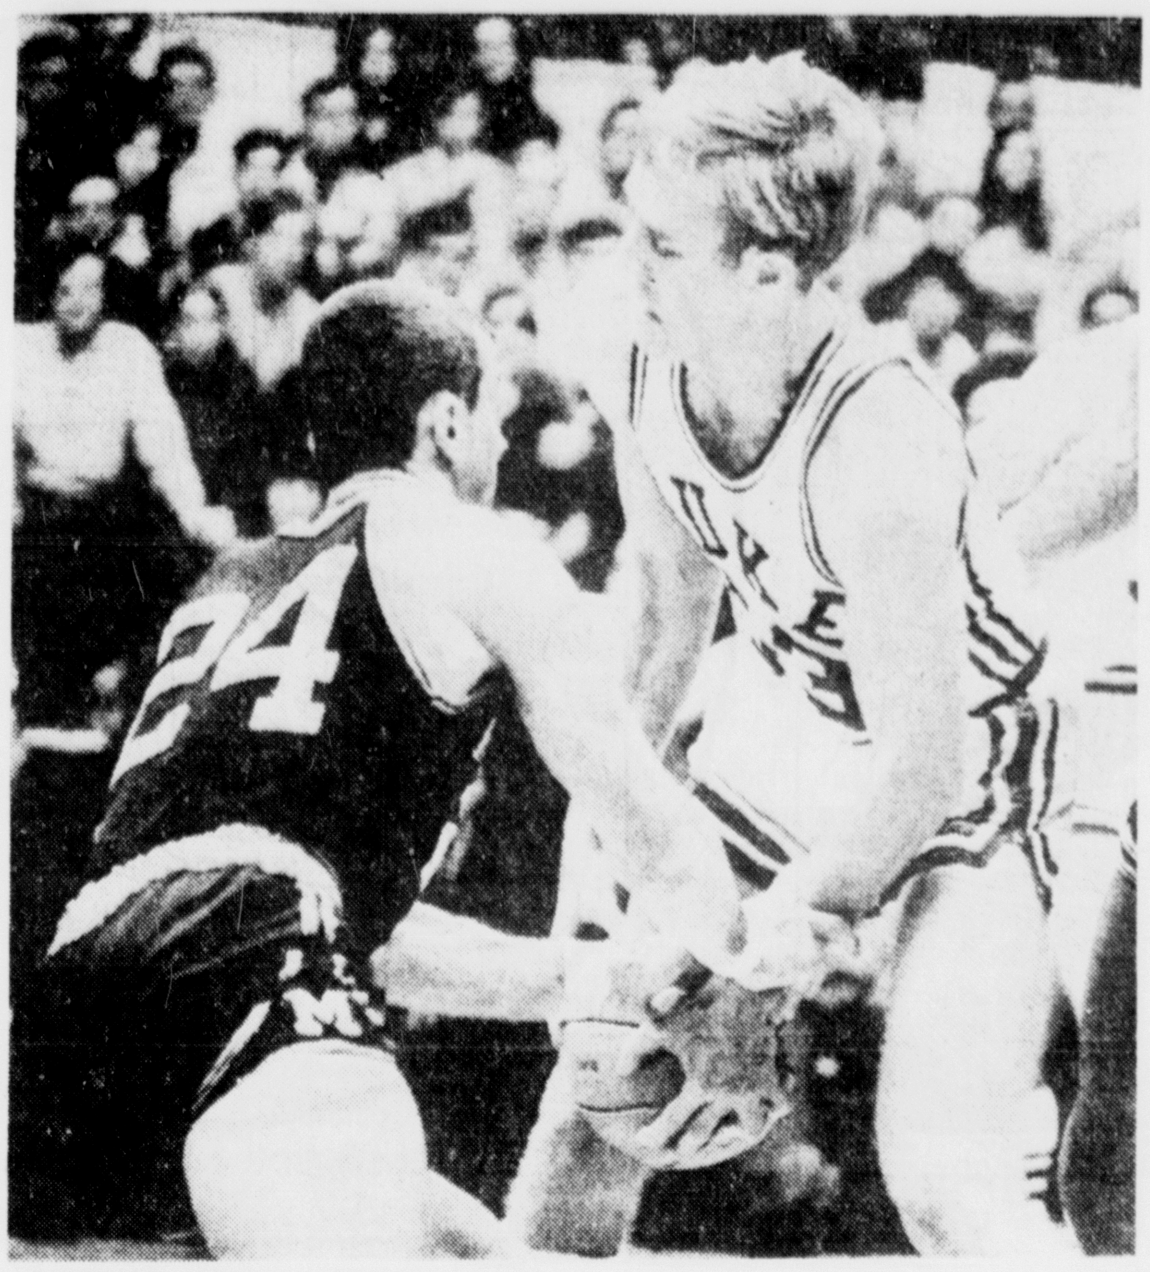
Unbeaten Georgia permitted Alabama only one point in the final 1½ minutes to pull off an 80-73 Southeastern Conference victory.

Gene Williams scored six of his 20 points, blocked three shots and stole the ball once in the overtime session to help Kansas State sidetrack Indiana 87-83.

Johnny Arthur flipped in 31 points to lead Tulane to a 108-88 conquest of previously unbeaten Rice.

In other games, Illinois stopped North Dakota 83-51, Northwestern defeated Colorado 83-66, Drake beat Marquette 68-63, Oklahoma ousted Texas Tech 83-74, Oklahoma State topped South Dakota State 72-67, Arkansas edged Centenary 64-61 in overtime.

Also Samford beat Mississippi State 68-59, Lamar Tech stopped Texas A&M 98-87, Air Force checked Arkansas State 76-58, Iowa State tromped San Fernando State 97-61 and Texas-El Paso sidetracked Southern Colorado State 94-81.



TIED UP — Duke's Fred Lind (53) couldn't quite get the pass away as Michigan's Dan Fife (24) tied him up to make it a jump ball in first period of last night's game at Durham, N.C. (UPI Telephoto)

Raiders Going All Out

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders have been playing them close lately but Coach John Rauch says his American Football League defending champions will go all out for the Western Division title—or a share of it—in San Diego on Sunday.

The Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs are tied for the lead with 11-2 records. If they remain knotted after next weekend's games, the last of the regular season, they will collide Dec. 22 for the Western crown and the right to take on the Eastern champion New York Jets Dec. 29 for the AFL title.

Oakland had to come from behind last Sunday to defeat a persistent Denver Bronco squad 33-27. At the same time, the Chiefs were having no trouble against the San Diego Chargers, sweeping to a 40-3 triumph.

Although the Raiders are figuring they'll have to beat the Chargers on Sunday to earn a share of the Western title, they're hoping the Broncos can rise to the occasion and upset the powerful Chiefs in Denver on Saturday.

Rauch expressed pleasure yesterday with the action of Oakland's "Eleven Angry Men" on defense against Denver. They stopped several potent thrusts that could have changed the game in the final moments, he said.

Tigers' Manager Wins UPI Honors

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Mayo Smith isn't a talkative type who's always in the midst of some controversy. He's a soft-spoken, quiet guy who describes himself as being a "bland" person.

But Smith has proved his way can be successful, too. Smith was voted the American League Manager-of-the-Year by United Press International for directing the Detroit Tigers to their first world championship since 1945.

Smith, who finished his second season as Tiger manager in 1968 after being fired by two National League teams in the '50s, received 11 of the 20 votes in a UPI poll of sportswriters around the nation.

San Jose State Basketballers Defeat Nevada

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Now that San Jose State's basketball team has settled its problems, it turns out to be a talented bunch.

Four black San Jose State players sat out the Spartans' opener in sympathy for seven football players who lost their scholarships after refusing to play against Brigham Young.

San Jose's basketball team lost that opener but then almost beat tough California as the black athletes rejoined the squad. Since then, the Spartans have won two straight with ease and took a 96-70 win at Nevada last night as Darnell Hillman scored 21 points. Alex Boyd, high scoring Nevada whiz, hooped 31.

Leading Jocks Score A Blank

Both Angel Cordero and Alvaro Pineda failed to ride a winning mount yesterday in their race for the national jockey championship.

Cordero came up empty in his first day of riding at Tropical Park in Coral Gables, Fla., after shifting from Aqueduct in New York. His winning mounts for 1968 remained at 310.

Pineda, riding at Bay Meadows in San Mateo, without success, has 308 winners.

Paul Richards, vice president of the Atlanta Braves, caught in all seven games for Detroit in the 1945 World Series. His double with the bases loaded in the first inning helped win the final game.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Rick Barry is a firm believer in paying off a debt but an Oakland Oak teammate would question the scoring ace's method of payment.

Shortly before the Oaks boarded a plane for New Orleans over the weekend, Barry handed rookie guard Russ Critchfield a large paper bag and got $2.20 in change. Inside the bag was $50 in pennies to pay off Barry's $47.80 tab for continually losing in gin rummy and hearts to Critchfield.

RETIRES NEXT MONTH

Stanford Publicist Will Not Be Resting

By RON RAPOPORT

STANFORD (AP) — It was 1924 and the editor of the Stanford Daily was unhappy. The football team didn't seem to be getting the publicity he thought it deserved and he complained to the athletic department.

"All right," he was told. "Let's see what you can do." Don Liebendorfer has been on the job ever since.

Nearly 45 years after he became the first full-time college sports information director in the country, Liebendorfer retires next month, but he will be far from idle.

HISTORY

He will devote his time to writing a complete history of Stanford athletics, which he hopes to have coming off the presses in three years.

Things have changed somewhat since Liebendorfer enrolled at Stanford in 1920 and plunked down his $180 yearly tuition, a figure which has grown by more than 10 times.

"We built a $180,000 basketball pavilion, "he recalls, "and it was the biggest in the country then. It may be the smallest now."

But next year, the little gym, where Hank Luisetti started out to become the greatest basketball player of his era, will give way to the large, new multimillion dollar Roscoe Maples Pavilion.

BIG GAME

Liebendorfer was in on the building of the California-Stanford Big Game football rivalry, though he recalls that it was not always what it is today.

He remembers going on a trip to West Point to help scout Army while the team remained home to play Cal. After returning to his New York hotel, he breathlessly called the New York Times and asked, "Who won the big game?"

There was silence at the other end of the phone. Liebendorfer recalls, and then a voice demanded, "What big game?"

"There I was, a country boy in the big city," Liebendorfer recalls. "He must have rattled every paper in the house next to the phone before he told me it was a tie and slammed the phone down."

ROSE BOWL

He particularly recalls the 1925 Rose Bowl, when Stanford met Norte Dame in the only Irish bowl appearance in history.

Notre Dame won 27-0 after a Stanford drive was stopped when an official ruled the great Ernie Nevers had been stopped short of the goal line, a decision that provoked the wrath of Stanford fans for years.

"George Davis, one of our strongest rooters was talking about it years later," said Liebendorfer, "saying that Nevers had crossed the goal line, when a voice piped up and said he hadn't.

"Davis shouted, 'I was sitting right on the goal line when it happened. Where were you?'

" 'On Nevers' chest,' came the reply. It was Harry Stuhldreher, one of the Four Horsemen."

Which foreign car is chock full of American nuts and bolts?

Cortina's the one. Built by Ford in England, Cortina has a stout-hearted 4-cylinder engine that will take you up to 30 miles per gallon. Yet this 1600 cc mill produces over 73 horsepower to get you into fast traffic—fast. In fact, Cortina is heir to more than 500 victories in international road races and rallies. Add 5-passenger room and 12 cu. ft. of useable trunk, and you can't go wrong. And even if it should, your Ford Motor Company dealer can fix it.

Ford's Cortina.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Try To Figure Out How South Can Turn Hand Into A Victory

There are many dangers at the bridge table and many ways of escaping from them. When your opponent cannot be deceived or dazzled, you must think ahead to find a logical way out of your predicament. See if you can find a way to make today's slam regardless of how carefully West defends.

WINS WITH ACE

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts and led a low trump, intending to play dummy's nine as a safety measure if West played the eight. South didn't know that the trumps were 4-0, but he was a cautious soul. West put in the ten of spades to foil South's plan.

Still not suspecting the bad break, declarer won the dummy's ace of spades. He got the bad news when East discarded a heart. Now South had to find a way to avoid the loss of two trump tricks. See if you can work it out before you read on.

LOOKS AHEAD

South looked ahead and saw that an escape was possible if he could reduce West's hand to his three trumps. At this stage South would have to be leading his last diamond, with the 9-2 of spades and a club in the dummy.

The end position was possible only if South used up three of his trumps by ruffing. South set to work promptly at the third trick by ruffing dummy's low heart. Then he got back to dummy with the queen of clubs to ruff the king of hearts and returned with the ace of clubs to ruff a low club.

TOP DIAMONDS

South then led this three top diamonds, finding that West had to follow suit throughout. South continued with his last diamond, and West was trapped.

If West ruffed low, dummy would overruff with the nine. If West ruffed with the jack, dummy would discard the club. West would have to lead away from the Q-8 of trumps, allowing declarer to win the last two tricks with dummy's nine and his own king.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠—A 9 2
♥—K 7 6
♦—10 5 2
♣—A Q 8 6

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one club.

With 13 points in high cards but no points at all for distribution you have an optional opening bid. The bid is safe because you can rebid one notrump if partner responds in a new suit, and you thus show minimum strength for an opening bid with balanced distribution.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 10, the 345th day of 1968 with 21 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1817, Mississippi was admitted to the Union as the 20th state.

In 1898, Spain signed the Treaty of Paris officially ending the Spanish-American War and giving Guam, Puerto Rico and the Philippines to the United States.

In 1901, distribution of the first Nobel prizes got under way on the death anniversary of Alfred Nobel.

In 1941, Japanese troops landed on northern Luzon in the Philippines.

A thought for the day: American poet Emily Dickenson said, "Success is counted sweetest by those who never succeed."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Five Sales Could Help Hike Income

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My husband left me the enclosed list of stocks. As I need more income, will you be kind enough to advise me what stocks to keep and what ones to dispose of? — H. K.

A. The replacement of five issues in your portfolio would not only add to your income but help decrease your heavy dependence on the utility group. The five sales are: Crompton & Knowles; Harsco Corp.; New England Gas & Electric; Television Manufacturers, and Western Union.

Seven of your remaining eight holdings should be retained; the eighth, Webb & Knapp, is all but worthless, with current quotes remaining well below a dollar.

Purchases in equal dollar amounts of three income stocks — yielding an average 5.9 per cent — will nearly double your income on this portion of your capital. The first, Armstrong Cork $3.75 preferred, should continue to reflect the high rate of demand for home furnishings.

Liggett & Myers, my second selection, has moved into some promising nontobacco lines which now account for at least 25 per cent of sales. Further acquisitions will continue to decrease L&M's dependence on cigarette sales. The final income issue, U.S. Steel, is currently selling at a level that has partially discounted industry pricing weakness.

Q. What is the sense of investing in U. S. Savings Bonds when the yield is less than that given in a great many banks? — G. S.

A. Although U. S. Savings Bonds now return a larger rate than at any time in their history, yield alone has never been the primary motivating factor to most purchasers. Convenience of monthly paycheck deductions plus a sense of patriotic duty have spurred many to "invest in America." President Johnson made a highly cogent statement emphasizing this aspect of patriotic duty. Regardless of these lofty sentiments, savings bond purchases have fallen below redemptions at about a billion-dollar rate. Because the yield on savings bonds has been insufficient to keep pace with inflation, the incoming Republican Administration has indicated a willingness to consider proposals for improving the situation.

Net Sales

BURLINGTON, Mass. (BW) — Microwave Associates, Inc., operations for the fiscal year ended Sept. 28 resulted in consolidated net sales of $26,292,800, compared to $27,233,700 last year.

Market's Average Declines

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in active trading.

Losses outnumbered gains by a small margin, and the averages were down slightly.

Caution over higher interest rates, continued consolidation of recent gains and a feeling in Wall Street that the market was still in an "overbought" condition contributed to the decline.

The averages held fairly firm with small losses, but for the first time in the session declines of individual issues topped advances.

Weakness in some of the blue chips were a mildly depressing influence on the averages.

Brokers said that despite some encouraging economic developments, including favorable results by retail trade, Wall Street was under anxiety about possible action of the Federal Reserve Board in the wake of an increase in the prime rate by commercial banks.

A tremendous block of 534,400 shares of Getty Oil crossed the ticker tape at a quotation of 85. The broker who handled the transaction said it was between institutions, which were not identified.

Among other large blocks were 129,000 shares of United Air lines at 41, off ½, and 96,400 shares of Great Western Financial at 25¼, off 1¼.

Gains of a point or more were posted by Anchor Hocking, Occidental Petroleum, American Stock Exchange, Union Corp. and Amrep Corp. moved up almost 2 points. Gains of a point or so were made by Asamber Oil, Langley and Louis Sherry.

Savings, Loan Firms Increase Rates On Loans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Major California savings and loan associations have raised their minimum mortgage loan rates to 7.2 per cent from 6.9-7 per cent.

Richard H. Deal, president of Home Savings and Loan said the increase came because "everybody feels money is tightening up and this is one way to diminish the outflow."

Deal said others who had raised their rates this week were California Federal Savings & Loan and American Savings & Loan. Other institutions were expected to follow suit.

The institutions had lowered their rates last September when as Deal put it, "money inflow appeared to be increasing."

Most associations will honor commitments for loans made at the old rates. But the return to a 7.2 per cent rate is expected to make residential mortgages more scarce in coming months.

THERE'S A MAN. . .
He's doing well. His present employers like him. He can look forward to slow, steady advancement through the years. And there's plenty of security. But, secretly, he isn't quite satisfied. He knows he's capable of doing better.
There's a salaried opening coming up in our organization which would be most attractive to such a man. We're in no particular hurry to fill it . . . but we're very interested in talking to men who feel they might meet our high standards. If you're interested, and want to explore a sales career in equity funding and other financial plans, write us a letter. (Or, if you prefer, phone 454-0103 between 10-12 a.m. or 2-4 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday).
Tell us your business experience, age, and material status. We'll get in touch with you and arrange a meeting to talk it over. It may be a red letter day for both of us!

West Marin Density Point System Adopted

Marin County planning commissioners yesterday adopted a point system of determining building density in West Marin, but revised formula suggested by Planning Director Paul C. Zucker.

In a 4-to-3 vote, commissioners approved a density table suggested by Margaret Azevedo which would give developers about .88 units of residential development per acre, and much higher density for other types of development such as apartments and commercial.

Mrs. Azevedo's motion won backing from Hugh Dougherty, Dr. William F. Upton and Michael Praszker.

Dissenters were Niels Schultz Jr., Walter F. Freitas and Eugene R. Trombley, who favored a density table offered by Schultz. The Schultz plan would have given developers a minimum of 1.15 units of development per acre, with more density for other types of development such as apartments and commercial.

Zucker's proposal would have given the least density, starting with a minimum of less than .88 units per acre, although Zucker contended that the average density under his plan would have been about 1.15.

Under Mrs. Azevedo's proposal, the minimum is .88 units per acre, but Zucker explained that the starting density could be 1.15 with the proper mixing of uses such as apartments and resort-commercial. The Azevedo table would give bonuses for planned development and special plan features. She eliminated "good design" as a factor in granting bonuses.

The points system of allotting density is aimed at discouraging tract type of single-family homes and encouraging other uses such as resort commercial and cluster type miltuple residential.

The planning commission recommendations will now go to the board of supervisors for approval.

55-Unit Apartment Plan Held Lacking Open Space

A 55-unit apartment project proposed next to Littleman's Market in Gallinas Village needs redesigning, particularly to break up the asphalt parking area and create more room for reception, the Marin County Planning Commission agreed yesterday.

The commissioners asked the developer, Western Hosts Inc., to come back on Jan. 6 with a redevelopment plan.

The apartments are planned on two acres of land at North San Pedro Road and La Brea Way, just east of the market.

Planner Wayne Moody said the apartments are too crowded, leaving little open space, and the parking is concentrated on one large expanse of asphalt paving with no landscaping relief. Furthermore, the bedroom count, averaging 3.15 bedrooms per unit, is too high, he said.

Residents of Gallinas Village, including officials from the Gallinas Village Community Services District and the San Rafael Elementary School District, objected to the apartment plan as too high a density.

Commissioners Niels Shultz Jr. and Margaret Azevedo declared, however, that the number of units and bedroom count cannot be reduced because they are within the limits allowed by the zoning code.

"We should limit our design review to the effect on the surrounding area," said Schultz.

Mrs. Azevedo said she would like to see revisions in the parking area, recreational facilities, and the living area.

Attorney Herbert G. Hawkins declared the planning staff has no business trying to regulate the bedroom count or the number of units. Hawkins said his client would be willing to landscape the parking area and confer with the planning staff on moving buildings around.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

LUCAS VALLEY — Approved a tentative map of Lucas Valley Unit 9, a 46-lot subdivision to be built on 16 acres on Lucas Valley Road between Mount Lassen Drive and Mount Shasta Drive. Carlos E. Gonzalez, engineer for developer Marin Master Builders, submitted the tentative map.

MERRYDALE — Postponed a decision until Dec. 23 on Thomas Eagleton's request for rezoning to allow apartments (1,500 square feet per unit) at 171 Merrydale Road. His lot is 37,500 square feet. The commissioners asked Eggleton to get together with his neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Lee of 163 Merrydale Road, and work out a planned residential project with a common access to both parcels.

HARBOR POINT — Upheld, by 4 to 3 vote, Robert R. Weber's right to divide his parcel at 381 East Strawberry Drive into two lots, each lot larger than the 13,750 square feet required. Harbor Point Property Owners appealed the land division. Michael Praszker's motion to deny the appeal won support from Walter F. Freitas, Niels Schultz Jr., and Eugene R. Trombley. Dissenters were Margaret Azevedo, William F. Upton, and Hugh Dougherty.

HOUSEBOAT — Set Dec. 23 for a hearing on a proposed county houseboat ordinance, which would restrict houseboats in Marin waters and require all floating homes to have facilities capable of tying into a land sewer line.

OTHER HEARINGS — Set Dec. 23 to hear two other major issues: (1) Proposed amendments to the county's ordinance on parking space requirements, to update 1948 provisions; and (2) the proposed planned community zoning for Frank Pinheiro's 400-acre ranch at Atherton Avenue and Highway 101, which is now zoned limited agricultural.

Bay Is Chosen For Radar Tests

San Francisco Bay has been chosen as a testing ground for a new harbor advisory radar navigational aid which may be installed in all the nation's harbors, the Coast Guard announced yesterday.

The radar system is designed to improve harbor safety by providing a central advisory station where the locations of all ships can be plotted by radar.

A central radar which can monitor Bay shipping traffic from the Golden Gate to San Pablo Bay and Redwood City will be installed and the complete system will be in operation by next fall, the Coast Guard said.

Marin City's Future To Be Considered

The Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency will meet with the Marin City Council and Marin City Community Services District at 8 p.m. tomorrow to discuss the groups' prospective roles in Marin City's future.

The council, services district and the newly formed Development Corporation of Marin City have proposed a plan to take over direction of future development in the community, which has been in the hands of the redevelopment agency.

Checks Asked On Private Timber Cutting

A logging ordinance to bring some control over the cutting of timber on private forest land was proposed yesterday to the Marin County Planning Commission.

Albert Solnit, County chief of advance planning, said the county now has no control over logging on private lands, such as the 1,800-acre Ethel Righetti ranch on Bolinas Ridge.

The commissioners decided they would consider a logging ordinance on Jan. 6 by asking Solnit to check with the county counsel to see if such an ordinance would be valid.

Since timber cutting must conform to state forestry practices, Commissioner Walter F. Freitas said the state may have preempted the field.

Solnit reported that San Mateo has an ordinance that controls logging along streams, waterways and scenic areas, and specifies the hours for hauling, hauling routes, and safety procedures.

Last week, it was disclosed that lumber interests from Coos Bay, Ore., had purchased timber rights on the Righetti ranch for $350,000.

Turbotrain Hits Car At Crossing

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP) — One of Canada's speedy, new turbotrains whipped along on a demonstration run for the press between Montreal and Toronto today—and crashed into a truck on a crossing here.

The passenger train had its streamline nose punched in, the truck driver was shaken up and a Canadian National Railways employee standing nearby was hit by flying debris.

The truck aparently had stalled on the crossing.

The turbos, North America's first turbine-powered passenger trains capable of speeds up to 120 miles per hour, are due to go into regular service Thursday.

No one aboard the eastbound train was injured in the crash.

Miss Cannon said she discovered the burglary when she arrived home about 6:50 p.m.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Old Croup Kettle Had Its Use; Humid Air Also Bars Illness

VAN DELLEN

The old croup kettle soothed the inflamed membranes of children with respiratory infections. We know now that proper moisture in the home not only is a remedy but also a preventive. There might be fewer colds among northern children and adults during winter months if indoor humidity was adequate.

Those who have an automatic humidifier built into the heating system are fortunate. It is more likely to be used constantly because no filling is required.

In contrast most of us rely on a device in which dry air is exposed to moisture.

CROUP KETTLES produced hot vapor that was dispersed into the air. A pan on the radiator or turning on a hot shower does the same. Cold steam comes from a device that breaks up water into tiny droplets and disperses it into the air as a fine mist.

Beware of heating devices that do not have moisture control. Unless water is added somewhere along the line, they will be worthless.

WE ARE MORE comfortable at lower winter temperatures, provided the relative humidity is high. Most of us feel best when indoor temperatures vary between 68 and 72 degrees Fahrenheit and a relative humidity of 30 to 40 per cent.

Moisture content may need to be doubled when someone has a respiratory infection. Humidity is definitely related to temperature.

On a cold day, the relative humidity may be reported as 60 per cent, which is adequate. But, if the temperature goes up to 72 degrees Fahrenheit, the humidity could drop to 3 per cent.

What is relative humidity? It is a ratio between the amount of moisture in a given volume of air and the total amount that the same space of air can hold at a given temperature. At 100 per cent, the air is saturated and the water usually precipitates as rain, dew, sleet, hail, snow, or frost.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

EXCESSIVE URIC ACID

F. R. writes: My system forms uric acid stones every now and then. With so much uric acid, I wonder why I haven't developed gout. Not that I feel deprived, just curious.

REPLY

Conditions other than gout can elevate the uric acid level. The reason you don't have arthritic gout is that your kidneys are eliminating the uric acid. You would do well to reduce your intake of uric-acid-forming foods.

WHOOPING COUGH TWICE?

P. R. writes: Can a person have whooping cough twice? I had it when I was 2 years old and now, at 31, a whooping again.

REPLY

One attack usually confers permanent immunity. Second attacks have been reported but there always is a possibility that the original diagnosis was incorrect. Every whoop is not necessarily whooping cough.

INFECTED NAVEL

A reader writes: What is the cause of navel weeping?

REPLY

I take it you are speaking medically and not nautically. Infection is the most common cause of oozing navel. Our leaflet on this subject may be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

FLU AND PREGNANCY

A reader writes: Will the high fever associated with influenza harm the baby of a woman who is in the early months of pregnancy?

REPLY

Any infection may adversely affect the fetus. The mother-to-be ought to remain in bed for at least 24 hours after the temperature returns to normal.

RHEUMATIC LUMPS

A reader writes: What causes lumps to form on the feet and head of a child who has rheumatic fever?

REPLY

Rheumatic fever usually affects the joints, heart, or brain. Now and then the skin is involved (erythema nodosum) or the tissues just below the skin (subcutaneous rheumatic nodules). The latter are insensitive to pain and occur over the bony prominences of various joints and tendons of the extremities or on the spine or back of the head.

CHAPPED HANDS

M. M. C. writes: When winter sets in, I wear woolen gloves but the wool causes my hands to become chapped. How can this be prevented without giving up woolen gloves?

REPLY

Our leaflet on chapping and winter itching has several suggestions which may be of help. It can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

ELIMINATING COWLICKS

Mrs. H. writes: What causes cowlicks on the back of the head and how can they be stopped?

REPLY

In this condition, tufts of hair are turned up or to the side as if licked by a cow. Cutting the hair short or shaving the skull is a temporary solution.

PROMINENT VEINS

A. A. writes: Does arthritis cause veins in the hands to become prominent?

REPLY

No. With arthritis, the joints are more likely to enlarge.

GLANDS, HORMONES

A reader writes: What are hormones?

REPLY

Internal secretions from the endocrine glands, such as the thyroid, pancreas, pituitary, adrenals, and gonads. Some have been duplicated in the laboratory and are available as synthetics.

Today's Health Hint — Use seat belts, even when driving short distances.

11-Year-Old In Court To Protect Petition Right

NEW YORK (AP) — An 11-year-old boy has gone into federal court to protect his right to petition for the ouster of his school principal.

Joshua J. Mamis, a student at Intermediate School 44 in Manhattan, told a news conference yesterday:

"I got the idea from a film we had last year on the Bill of Rights."

The principal, Saris Cohen, a school official for 22 years, did not report for duty during the citywide teachers' strike. Nelson Harris served as acting principal during the walkout.

Joshua said that he had gathered 120 signatures among classmates seeking the removal of Cohen, and contended that Cohen told him to stop it.

"I thought Mr. Harris. . .was more capable of being principal," the boy said.

Commented Cohen: "The whole thing is a silly tempest in a teapot," adding: "I told him this was not a matter for a child to decide and that he had better concern himself with . . . conditions in the lunchroom or traffic in the halls."

With the consent of the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Mamis, the case was taken by the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee—not connected with the American Civil Liberties Union.

The court is being asked to extend to juveniles the liberties guaranteed under the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, including the "right to circulate a petition."

Fire Service Change Noted

The Alto commercial strip adjacent to the Highway 101 west frontage road is now being served by the Mill Valley Fire Department, not the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District.

Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District directors have agreed to notify property owners by letter of the change in fire jurisdiction, according to Fire Chief Carl O. Heynen Jr.

The area, between the Alto Wye and the Richardson Bay Bridge, was recently annexed to Mill Valley and was withdrawn from the Alto Fire District on Dec. 1, Heynen said. At the same time, the Alto district disconnected its alarm system for the area.

TV REVIEW

Supremes Show Class In Special

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—NBC-TV's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In," the No. 1 show in the weekly television ratings, was pre-empted last night for a special starring Diana Ross and the Supremes.

The special was put together by the same firm that turns out "Laugh-In," and which also produced the recent smash hit musical-comedy Negro broadcast, "Soul." The director of The Supremes' hour was the same fellow who directed "Soul," Mark Warren. It would be after-the-fact to say he is headed for the top. He is already there.

The producer of the Supremes' special, by the way, was a lady, Carolyn Raskin, who must have more credit than most anyone I can think of, except maybe for the late William Frawley of "I Love Lucy," "My Three Sons" and seemingly every second movie ever made. The executive producer Monday night was Ed Friendly, partnered with George Schlatter.

So much for the credit sheet, which is significant in its indication of how a relatively few persons can have a major impact on the entire spectrum of television. Last night's special will only help their future plans, for it was a very handsomely mounted, swift-moving and amiable production. Admirers of the Supremes and their guests, The Temptations, were surely pleased at the showcasing.

Miss Ross, in particular, held the spotlight well. Aside from her singing—solo and with The Supremes—she had a charming presence, blended amusingly with The Temptations (five men) and did a highly effective "Afro-vogue" dance number, which included interspersed still photos of her.

To indicate the popularity of "Laugh-In," by the way, an NBC-TV source reports that despite the obvious wide appeal of The Supremes' hour, numerous viewers telephoned the network in various cities to ask what happened to the regular series. The source noted that in the first 45 minutes of the special, there were 250 calls in New York, 34 in Chicago and 110 in Washington, D.C., inquiring about "Laugh-In."

The expected announcement by President-elect Richard Nixon of his cabinet appointments—and perhaps others as well—will be covered live, and in color, by all three commercial networks at 7 p.m. PST tomorrow. The unprecedented prime time television event will originate at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C.

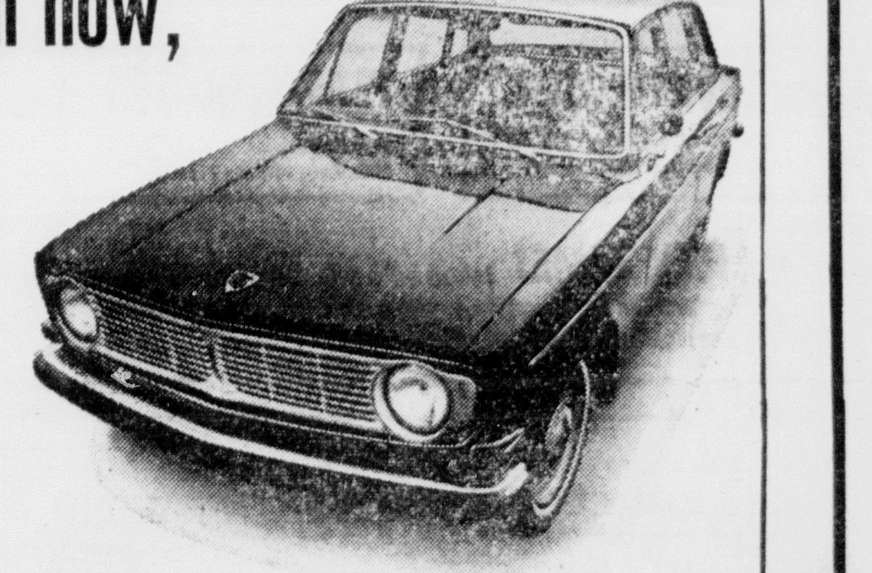
6, 8, 10 or 11 years from now, we expect to have some nice used Volvo 144's



And that should tell you something about the nice new Volvo 144's we have now: they were built to last a long time.
Since they're Volvos, they ought to. Volvos last an average of 11 years in Sweden. And while we can't guarantee how long a Volvo will last in America, it's a fact that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the past 11 years are still on the road.
If you don't want to wait 6, 8, 10, or 11 years for a used Volvo 144, come in today and test-drive a new one.
Or, test-drive a Volvo 122. We've been selling that model a few years longer, so we've had time to get some nice used ones.

The Rockhound Craze Grows Across Nation

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)—Americans, young and old, are chipping away at the face of the nation in search of semi-precious stones and unusual rocks.

The searchers are called rockhounds, and their hobby has become a billion-dollar-a-year industry.

Deep in southwest New Mexico, a unique state park caters to the rock hunters, allowing them to take samples from the park.

TAKERS WELCOME

New Mexico Park and Recreation Commission Director James Dillard said Rockhound State Park was "the only park I know of in the United States where visitors are encouraged to take specimens."

Among the many specimens to be found in the park are amethysts, opals, geodes and agates.

The land for the 250-acre park, some 12 miles southeast of Deming, N.M., in the Little Florida Mountains, was donated to the state by Deming Ranchettes, a land development corporation.

The State Park and Recreation Commission developed the area, providing picnic and camping sites, playground equipment, drinking water facilities, trails and restroom facilities.

FILM LOCATION

A television crew, working on a program series called "The Rockhound," visited New Mexico in September and did some filming in the park and at other locations in New Mexico.

The company was Jacques Descent Productions of Hollywood. Bill Morey of Arizona, who will narrate the series, said "We figured with all the controversy on violence in films, it was about time for a film the whole family could enjoy." The series was going to be shot throughout the United States.

Morey said rockhounding was a hobby the entire family could participate in. He said there were some 1,600 rockhound clubs nationwide and the clubs represented only about 7 per cent of people who took part in the hobby.

Morey said rockhounding had developed into a billion-dollar industry through investment in rock cutting and polishing equipment, campers and other gear.

"Our whole film isn't dedicated to rockhounding," Morey said. "It's like a travelogue documentary, with rockhounding as the binding theme; we also try to bring in such things as the geological, historical and cultural aspects of an area." In New Mexico, the crew also shot footage on the Pueblo Indians.

The film was being made in color, and Doyle said it was hoped the series would go on as a summer replacement in 1969.

Traditional Dances Are Centuries Old

TAOS, N.M. (UPI)—Taos Indians in their finest ceremonial dress will celebrate Christmas this year, as they have for centuries, with traditional Indian dances.

In this ancient pueblo village, and in others like it throughout the state, Indians will commemorate the birth of Christ through a unique blending of their Indian and Christian heritage.

The Christmas festivities at Taos will begin on Christmas Eve with midnight mass in the old adobe mission church, followed by a procession around the pueblo. The statue of the Blessed Virgin leads the procession, and the route is marked by luminarias—small bonfires of pinon wood.

Commemorative Indian dances originated long before Spanish priests brought the Roman Catholic religion to the isolated pueblos of New Mexico in the 1600's. But with their conversion to Catholicism, the Indians blended the new and old, and the outgrowth was the Christmas dance.

The practice of Christmas dances originated when Spanish explorers and priests asked the Indians to perform whatever dances they thought would be appropriate for the religious holiday.

Customarily, either the Deer dance or the Matachines dance is performed on Christmas day. But the selection of the dance and the dancers is not announced until about five days before Christmas.

According to the Indians, the Deer dance was chosen hundreds of years ago because the Indians thought the deer was one of the animals that might have been present when Christ was born.

The Matachines is a dance honoring the mother of Christ. According to an Indian spokesman, the dance was developed by the Indians from their interpretation of Spanish Catholic teachings about the Virgin Mother.

Dances at other pueblos originated in much the same way and continue today.

70 Students In Pioneer Role

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—Seventy students at Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT) are pioneers in an educational program designed to prepare them for a role in a world they will never hear.

The students are the first class of a federally-financed program, the National Technical Institute for the Deaf (NTID), the first such institute in the nation aimed at giving nonhearing persons a technical education in an environment where nearly all others can hear.

The charter group in NTID is composed of 44 men and 26 women, averaging 20 years of age. Within five years the registration is expected to be 750.

The first year of the program is basically an introductory stage, with the students working toward one of three possible goals—a preparatory course, a diploma or a degree in any of the regular technical fields offered at RIT. The latter include majors in electrical and mechanical technology, business, photography, art, printing and science.

The deaf students are completely integrated with hearing students, living in the same dormitories, and attending the same classes.

Special translators stand at one side of the classrooms, silently mouthing the words of the lecturer for those who lip read, and flashing out the words of the lesson in the hand signals—sign language—of the nonhearing.

Thirty specialists in education for the deaf have so far been added to the RIT staff. The NTID program is headed by Dr. D. Robert Frisina, formerly of Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C., which is the nation's leading liberal arts college exclusively for the deaf.

One special member of the NTID staff is Robert F. Panara, an educational specialist in the college of general studies.

Panara has been totally deaf since the age of 10 and is well known for his work in the organization of the National Theater for the Deaf and for translating many of Shakespear's works and several Greek plays into sign language. Panara taught at Gallaudet College for 18 years.

Many of the participants in NTID are extremely goal-oriented and show signs of leadership and drive, perhaps because of their handicaps.

Eddie Holder, a photography major from Elmhurst, Ill., recently started an impromptu class in sign language or signing, after a little urging from some of his hearing friends.

About 125 hearing and deaf students attended the first class and many have learned to sign with some proficiency.

One of the advantages and at the same time inherent difficulties with this charter group, however, is the disparity in their backgrounds.

Some students have spent much of their lives in residential schools for the deaf and now are getting their first experience in the hearing world. Others attended special classes at regular high schools and have never been with other deaf persons.

Larry Steward, who is in charge of counseling services, says: "Many students were leaders in their previous schools. They now face the first failure they have ever known."

Steward, who has been deaf since the age of eight, has devoted his life to the teaching and counseling of the deaf and currently is working on his doctorate from the University of Arizona.

Israel Builds Roads On Ceasefire Line

TEL AVIV (AP) — More than 75 miles of roads have been built along the new ceasefire lines with Syria and Jordan since the war last year, according to the director of the Jewish National Fund, Ya'acov Tsur.

A new highway is cutting through to the 10,000-foot Mount Hermon in the occupied Golan Heights and a highway is being opened up along the Jordan River between Beit Shean, in the Beisan Valley, and the Dead Sea.

Will The King Go On Strike?

THIMBU, Bhutan (AP) — King Jigme Dorji Wangchuk of Bhutan is perhaps the world's lowest paid monarch.

The Bhutan national assembly has fixed the king's privy purse at 3,000 rupees ($400) a month — or only 500 rupees ($67) more than what his ministers get.

Wedged between Tibet and India, the 18,000-square-mile Bhutan has a population of 750,000.

Dramatic variation on the geometric theme . . . criss-crossing played against a background of contrasting color and accented by a lively medley of shapes bordering the neck, sleeves and hem of Carlye's allover embroidered double knit.

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Some science students in Calcutta University are putting their skill to unscientific use.

Prison Gains First Library

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP) — The state prison in Deer Lodge recently became the first institution in state history to have an organized library.

Lene Cooper, an employee of the Helena office, said the most frequent requests from inmates are for travel books.

South Africa Likes Own Style Of Spirits

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The whisky makers of Scotland probably have nothing to worry about, but South African whisky, a blend of malt whisky and cane and wine spirits, costs much less than Scotch.

This thrifty note was struck by the distiller who said South African whisky introduced about two years ago is selling so well that a new plant is planned for Rhodesia.

Cost Soars For Antique Candlesticks

LONDON (UPI)—In these times of economic crisis, a candlestick comes in very handy.

Especially if the candlestick is silver and made, say, by a craftsman in Victorian or Georgian times. Whatever is happening to the pound sterling, the franc and the mark, the value of that candlestick is going up.

Antique silver dealers report that Britons are buying up silver as an investment, reflecting their worry about the value of their money.

Those who can afford that price also are buying diamonds, works of art and antiques.

Although prevented from buying bars of gold, ordinary citizens can go out and purchase blocks of silver. The price reflects the economic situation. Two years ago, a one-ounce bar costs nine shillings and fourpence ($1.12). Now the price is fluctuating around one pound ($2.40).

For the most part, though, the public leaves the professionals to deal in the complicated world of the silver market, and is buying up silver candlesticks, goblets, table pieces, cutlery, bowls, cigarette boxes, coffee pots and milk jugs.

The Jewelry Information Center says prices of antique silver have rocketed because of demand.

"It is being bought as an investment which will continue to rise since inflation increases the value of precious metals," said a spokesman.

Spain Keeping Check On Language

MADRID (UPI)—English has managed to come to the point where even Charles de Gaulle is worried. But here in Spain the Royal Academy of Language is successfully fighting off the verbal invasion from the New World.

There is a "Spanglish"—Spanish and English"—just as there is a "Franglais"—French and English. But whereas in France the French have surrendered to "le drugstore" and "le weekend" the Spaniards claim to have the linguistic situation under control.

The academy admits it's too late to do anything about "futbol" or football, but it manned the ramparts against basketball until local fans accepted "baloncesto" for the sport. One can hear "hippy" and "ye-ye" (yea yea) here and there but the academy ignores them as too transient to quarrel about.

About 200 million people around the world speak Spanish and the final word on how they should speak it rests with the small group of men here who comprise the academy. Never more than 36 members the group meets every Thursday evening to polish, clarify and define the Spanish lexicology.

They sit around a green baize-covered table under low green-shaded lamps in a room that somewhat resembles a gambling parlor.

Each member has a pile of reference books in front of him. Points of delicate academic interest fly across the table. And, perhaps at the end of the evening a couple of new words are approved for insertion in the official dictionary prepared by the academy.

"Our dictionary is not as complete as Webster's or Oxford," said Prof. Rafael Ispesa, secretary of the academy. "But we try to ensure that it represents what is correct and pure in the Spanish Language."

The academy's technique is one of "when in doubt, leave out." Ispesa said members often sit for years, even decades on a disputed word before deciding whether to award it a place in the dictionary.

"When a foreign word has become firmly established, we try to see that it conforms to Spanish orthography. "We look with disfavor on any word ending with 'P' or 'B' because these are uncommon terminations in Spanish and the tendency would be to distort the word. 'Clip' in Spanish would soon degenerate into 'Klee' its plural into 'Kleepes', and this would be too ugly."

The academy is the font of linguistic purity not only for Spain, but for the entire Spanish-speaking world. It automatically admits Latin American words to the dictionary where these words have been approved by the language academies in their countries of origin.

Election to the academy is one of the highest literary honors in the Spanish-speaking world. The members take it upon themselves to be the dedicated guardians of a dignified language that, with the help of its wealth of diminutive endings, can also be one of the world's tenderest.

With its Latin heritage and Arabic overtones, Spanish is full of weighty sonrities. The Emperor Charles V had a clear idea of its value. "I speak Spanish to God, Italian to women, French to men and German to my horse," was one statement attributed to him.

"While striving to maintain the purity of our tongue, the academy members are aware that it must be adapted to modern needs and to many peoples," Ispesa said. "They realize that Spanish is first and foremost a living language."
